IF YOU ONLY CONSIDERED

Honest, truthful men, when they see a good job waiting to be done, are willing and glad to help get it done. The only thing that prevents good men from supporting a good cause is their lack of understanding the need and the merits of the cause. When good, honest citizens consider the debt they owe their government for protection of life, freedom and prosperity, making us the safest and richest country on earth, they are willing and glad to lead their money to help their government pay its debts and continue safe, secure, and honorable—especially since they know its Victory Bonds are the safest and best investment in the world for the money.

When good, honest Methodists are asked to make a big subscription to the work of the Lord in the Centenary Drive, they may hesitate if they do not know what the money is to be spent for. But when they understand and consider how badly it is needed and how small the sum seems in comparison with the need, and what wonderful good it will do, they, as good honest men, will willingly and gladly subscribe generous sums, and know they have done a sensible deed, and feel good about it!

Here are just a few of the things the Southern Methodist church will use the $35,000,000.00 to do here at home. $658,600.00 will be used to establish or enlarge churches and schools in the mountains and mining district to save people and train Christian workers; $250,000.00 to provide religious and social workers in the mountain districts of our church; $634,600.00 to help churchless congregations build their churches (some of this will come right to your door); $258,450.00 to help 1,600 parsonages for homeless preachers (right at you again); $173,200.00 a year to raise 866 pastors' salaries from $400.05 $400.00 or less to $600.00; $100,000.00 to spread true Christian literature to teach what is true and what is false about Christian Science, Russellism, "Holy Rollerism," "Speaking with Tongues," Faith Healing" etc., which often do so much harm in untaught and backward communities. But more next time; this is only a beginning.

"ANGALOS."

COWARTS.

The Quarterly Meeting of the Methodist church, South, convened at the John's Creek Methodist church, Saturday and Sunday April the 19th and 20th.

The favorable weather made it possible for a large crowd of people to be present and almost every place in the county was represented. The church house was crowded during the entire services and no doubt the audience was the largest that has assembled at John's Creek for quite awhile.

The services began at 10:00 A. M. Saturday. There were only two preachers present: Rev. John H. Bradley, of Canton, presiding elder, and Rev. R. L. Foster, of Cullowhee, pastor of the church at John's Creek. An eloquent sermon was delivered Saturday at 11:00 A. M., by Rev. Bradley. An intermission of one hour was then given. Dinner was served on the grounds, after which the people re-assembled for the evening services. Thus, the entire day was devoted to the work.

Sunday morning gave signs of being a beautiful day; so the people flocked in at an early hour. Sunday School was held at 10:00 o'clock, almost every one participating in the work. The services were then turned over to Rev. Bradley and congregation enjoyed a most interesting sermon. The Sacrament was partaken of as the last feature and the congregation was adjourned.

We feel that the people were all greatly benefitted by the two days' meeting. It gave them a general "shake up," and sometimes we fear that none of us are aroused to a realization of our duties as often as we should be. It renewed old acquaintances, made new friends and re-established old friendships.

We consider that the people had a good, old fashioned meeting and one that everybody enjoyed.

Respectfully,

CYRUS H. NICHOLSON.

Dallas Business Man Endorses It

White Sewing Machine Manager Believes Tanlac Will Help All Other Sufferers

"If it hadn't been for what other people said about Tanlac I might be suffering yet, and nobody need fear troubles like I had as long as Tanlac is made," said H. A. Morrison, local manager for White Sewing Machine Co., Dallas, Tex., and living at 3517 Brown street, that city.

"I suffered from a long standing and stubborn case of stomach trouble," he continued. "My stomach was nearly always full of gas that gave me no end of misery, and I had to quit eating most everything but broth and other light diet. I had such an awful pain in my right side that I couldn't stand up straight and sometimes I would almost double up in agony. I had terrible headaches, my sleep was so broken it didn't do me any good and I felt tired and worn out all the time.

"I read of a man in Tennessee who had gotten relief from the same trouble as mine by taking Tanlac, so I decided to try it. Before I had finished my first bottle I began to feel better and a few more made me feel like a different man. I get as hungry as a bear at meal times eat any thing I want and nothing hurts me at all. I sleep as sound as a log and get up full of life and energy. I have already gained eight pounds and my work is a real pleasure to me now."

THE FILTHY FLY IS COMING WITH TYPHOID FEVER.

With the appearance of the beautiful, warm spring days, there comes an increase in the number of flies carrying filth laden with the germs of typhoid fever and of diarrheal diseases of children. While we love and enjoy the beautiful spring, we must not become so charmed with its beauties that we forget the danger of its contemporary—the fly.

The warmth of spring multiplies disease germs and hatches the eggs of flies, which multiply very rapidly and soon one germ or one fly makes millions. Flies select filth for their breeding places, and often filth in which the diarrheal and typhoid fever germs live, for instance, human filth. When the flies are large enough, they fly away from their breeding places, carrying with them into the houses, filth laden with disease germs. The filth is deposited on the bread, in the milk, or wherever the flies alight. Flies have filthy habits. They alight first on filth then on your bread. They ply between the privy and the home. Nobody likes a fly, so help prevent them by cleaning up and destroying their breeding places.

With the approach of spring and the increased number of flies, typhoid fever begins, and it continues to spread until it reaches its height in the heat of August or September. Then comes a rapid decrease in the number of cases, with the cooler weather and the decrease in flies.

Knowing that the typhoid fever season is near at hand, and knowing that vaccination prevents the disease, the only sensible thing, for those who have not had the disease and those who have not been vaccinated in three years, is to be vaccinated at once.

People have a great deal of sympathy for those who get sick and die of diseases which can be prevented but they have very little sympathy for those who die of typhoid fever. People are beginning to look upon typhoid as a filthy disgraceful disease which is easily prevented; and to look upon any body who dies of typhoid as doing so of his own accord, for by vaccination the disease is prevented, and anybody can very easily get vaccinated.

In this State, the number of typhoid cases has been reduced from 8,390 in 1914 to 5,140 in 1918, and the deaths have been reduced from 839 in 1914 to 514 in 1918. These cases and deaths were prevented by vaccination, sanitary privies, and screened homes.

A. A. NICHOLS, Q. O.

NOTICE

In regard to S. H. Monteith's notice in this paper last issue about taxes.

It is true he paid on date mentioned what we thought to be his taxes, but later it was found that a mistake had been made in carrying his land forward and that 170 dollars of his property had been left out and was made out and put on the tax books later for collection. This wasn't paid at the time of advertising, but he had only known it a few days. There was only a misunderstanding between Monteith and Moody as to when it was to be paid, or none of it would have gone before the public.

MONTEITH AND MOODY.

HAPPY WORKMEN MADE BY THRIFT

Group Saving Has Proved Highly Profitable to Thousands of Employees of Sanely Managed Concerns.

Every business is either thrifty or unthrifty. If thrift governs, then there will be accurate knowledge of costs, sound finance, far-seeing policy, the best use of labor and materials, with intelligent creation of a money surplus to meet emergencies. If unthrifty, the concern is bound for bankruptcy, which will arrive sooner or later.

Thrift goes far beyond the executive office, and so does lack of it. A thrifty managed business will have steady, skillful employees working in pleasant surroundings, with every advantage in the way of equipment, and every advantage in earning power. The unthrifty business is too familiar. It attracts chiefly the driftwood among workers. Unpleasant surroundings and poor equipment make work drudgery. Wages are below good standards, and the year is usually marked by periods of idleness, if not labor troubles.

Thrift managers have learned in recent years that thrift facilities extended to their employees are part of general thrift in management. The employee must set aside his surplus, too. He is more than willing to save if he is the kind of man who values a job with a thrifty concern. But it has not always been easy for him to put his weekly savings in a secure place. Savings institutions may be far from the pay window. Employers have overcome this handicap in many cases by accepting deposits to be transferred to a bank, by selling securities in their own business to employees on the installment plan, and in other ways. They have also taken pains to see that employees are not victimized by loan sharks or blue-sky promoters.

Since the Thrift Stamp and War Savings Stamps came into existence there has been a wide development of this thrift movement for employees, as part of the management of a thrifty business. Employers know that thrift decreases labor turnover and also increases output. The worker who saves is not worried by debts. He thinks well enough of his job to settle in the community, buy a home, raise a family.

War Savings Stamps offer the best medium for group savings in business organizations. Thousands of savings clubs or societies formed during the war to help finance the government have been found so valuable that thousands more will be organized. The best proof of the health, stability and usefulness of any industry is its hearty teamwork with the Treasury Department in organizing savings societies for the regular purchase of Thrift and War Savings Stamps.
