

PREACHER SENT TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT

A fellow is in a bad fix if he doesn't happen to know the meaning of conscientious scruples when he is called upon to take the oath in the courts if he objects to being sworn, according to the experience of a minister of the gospel from the upper end of this county, who told the court that he was a member of the "Church of God," and who refused to take the oath after having answered negatively to the question asked by the Court as to whether he had any conscientious scruples about taking the oath. Bascom Coggins of Mountain township, of the faith commonly called Holiness, but protesting that he was a member of the "Church of God," refused to place his hand on the book after having been ordered by the Court to do so, Monday afternoon, and is still in jail for contempt.

It happened this way: Coggins was a witness and did not take the oath. Judge Ray asked the witness why he refused, and Coggins told his honor that he did not want to put his hand on the book. The Judge asked him what church he belonged to and Coggins stated that he was a member of the church of God. The court then read from the statute the names of denominations who are exempted from swearing and questioned the witness as to whether he belonged to any of them, and was told that he did not. Then the Court asked if the witness had conscientious scruples about taking the oath, and was told that he did not, but that the witness didn't want to put his hand on the book. He was ordered by the Court to put his hand on the book, and upon his refusal was held to be in contempt of Court and the Court made an order about like this: After being asked by the Court what church he belonged to, the witness replied that he belonged to the Church of God, and after having been asked by the court whether he had conscientious scruples about taking the oath, the witness replied that he did not, but didn't want to put his hand on the book, and after having been ordered by the Court to put his hand on the book, and upon his refusal was held to be in contempt, and it is ordered that he be incarcerated in the common jail for a term of thirty days.

THE JUSTUS PHARMACY

Garren Medicine Co.,
Hendersonville, N. C.
Gentlemen:

I have been a sufferer of stomach troubles for fifteen years, a greater part of the time I have had dyspepsia so bad that my stomach would not retain food for five minutes. I would have to leave the table immediately after finishing my meals. I tried several of the best doctors and different kinds of patent medicines, but all to no effect. I then secured a bottle of Garren's Blood Purifier and Tonic which immediately gave me relief. I used two bottles over a year ago and I still continue to eat and drink what I please without suffering any trouble with my stomach whatever. I would advise all suffering from indigestion or dyspepsia to give this medicine a fair trial.

BUCHANAN-LONG.

A beautiful and impressive wedding ceremony was solemnized at the Methodist church here Monday morning at nine o'clock, when Mr. J. Ramsey Buchanan led to the altar Miss Annie Richard Long.

The church was decorated with goldenrod and potted plants, an altar of goldenrod being improvised before which the young couple plighted their vows.

Miss Alice Gray, of Marshall, presided at the piano and rendered a beautiful selection prior to the entrance of Misses Mary Willie Wells, Pearle Long, Margaret Buchanan, Lucy Wells, Rebecca Cathey, Mary Feimster, Otelia Cathey, Mrs. Jack Morris, Mrs. E. L. McKee, Miss Dorothy McKee, Mrs. J. L. Dillard and Miss Janie Coward, wearing dresses of pink and blue organdy and black picture hats, who sang the "Bridal Chorus" from "The Rose Maid." To the strains of the Wedding March, from Lohengrin, the ushers, John Morris and Harry Buchanan, John R. Jones and Maurice Ver Helst, entered, followed by the ring bearer, little William McKee, dressed in a suit of black velvet, carrying the ring on a pillow of white satin. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Mayme Long, sister of the bride, who was lovely in a gown of blue taffeta, with overdress and picture hat of white lace. She carried an armful of white chrysanthemums. The little flower girl, Virgiline Dorsey, daintily dressed in white organdy, with ribbons of blue, preceded the bride, who entered on the arm of her brother, John R. Long. She wore a suit of midnight blue velvet, with accessories of field mouse and corsage of bride's roses with shower of swansons. Rev. J. A. Cook, pastor of the Methodist church, who officiated, using the ring ceremony, entered from the door back of the pulpit, followed by the groom and his best man, Corsey C. Buchanan.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the brides mother, where a buffet breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan left on the morning train for a wedding trip which will include Washington, New York, Atlantic City and other northern points.

Mrs. Buchanan is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Sadie J. Long and is deservedly popular among a large circle of friends, being a young woman of unusual loveliness of character and great personal charm. Mr. Buchanan is a son of former sheriff and Mrs. J. W. Buchanan, of Dillsboro, and has recently been discharged from the United States

Army, having seen more than a year's service, as a lieutenant, in France, and is a young man of sterling worth of character.

The out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, of Cullowhee, Mrs. J. Robert Long, of Bryson City, Mrs. J. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Long, Waynesville, Miss Alice Gray, of Marshall, Miss Mary Willie Wells, of Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Buchanan and Mrs. J. M. Leatherwood, of Dillsboro, and Mrs. David H. Brown, of Webster.

THE BRYSON CITY TRAINING CENTER

There have been held at Bryson City, for the past four weeks, training schools for workers in the six Western Baptist Associations, Haywood, Tuckaseegee, Tennessee River, Macon, Western and Liberty-Ducktown.

This work is preparatory to the $75,000,000 Campaign which Southern Baptists are launching.

Many interested workers, both men and women, with a number of leading pastors, have been in attendance, having such men and women as Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Owen, of Franklin, Rey. and Mrs. A. V. Joyner, of Waynesville, and Mrs. W. H. Woodall, of Asheville, to direct the work.

Not only is the conviction growing that the $75,000,000 will be raised, but that large numbers of young people are being called to that greater service of preachers and missionaries and the unenlisted church is being touched in a far greater way than ever before.

One of the things of particular interest to this section is that Sylva Collegiate Institute, with other Baptist schools in these southern mountains, will receive material aid from this campaign.

CO. AGENT ATTENDED 4 COMMUNITY FAIRS

Farm demonstration agent, E. D. Weaver, returned yesterday afternoon from Jackson county, where he attended four community fairs. At Qualla, Sept. 29, Webster Sept. 30, Caney Fork Oct. 1, and Tuckaseegee Oct. 3. Mr. Weaver, under instructions by the department of agriculture at Raleigh, attended these fairs and acted as official judge of the exhibits.

Mr. Weaver states that the fairs were a decided success at all these places with the Qualla fair being a little the best of all the four. At all the fairs he said there was a splendid display of grain, potatoes, wheat, in fact every kind of product of farm or garden, including live stock and poultry. The ladies' departments were exceptionally good, with big exhibits of pantry supplies and fancy work. The schools at each of these places put on an exhibit of maps, drawings, etc., by the students.

There were 110 animals in the live stock exhibit at Qualla, forty-one of these being pure bred. This, Mr. Weaver declared was an extraordinarily fine showing of live stock, and showed to decided advantage of pure bred stock. He said that all the beef cattle, the leading beef types were represented, short-horned heifers and Angus, with the short-horn predominating. There were large displays of pure-bred poultry, with the Barred Plymouth Rock in the lead, followed with the white Wyandotte and Leghorns. In addition to the beef cattle, there were a number of fine horses, mules and mule colts on display.

The outstanding feature of these fairs in Jackson county is the spirit of the people of the community. The very air is filled with the spirit of progress and co-operation, and at every one of these places following the lecture of Mr. Weaver, telling how to select the various products for exhibition, the representatives stated that the next year they expected to show a big improvement in the quality and uniformity of the displays. This is the first year the community fairs have been held.—Asheville Citizen.

As far back as the war, the Red Cross had a sanitary commission that checked the accuracy of the information after the United States entered the war. The Red Cross was organized in August, 1917, to assist in the operations during the war. The girls of the tortured nations were established, the women checked and given medical aid. The army supplied with the dental treatment, the women were provided with the necessary supplies. The girls were not least, the women were the savior of the children. The condition into which they had fallen, as portrayed by this photograph of a little Serbian girl wearing the coat and expression of hopelessness that were all the signs of the Red Cross.
