WAYNESVILLE'S NEW PAPER.

The Haywood Journal is the name under which the new paper of our neighboring city of Waynesville is to begin publication, within the next few days. Our one-time school master, and all-time friend, Prof. W. C. Allen, is to be the editor. Mr. H. N. Sentelle, is secretary and treasurer, D. C. Howell, manager. We welcome these gentlemen into the field, wish them much success, and feel that we should think ourselves greatly complimented that we have made the name "Journal" such an honorable one in Western North Carolina that they have adopted it.

SITTING PRETTY.

The first of this week the whole United States, as far south as Florida and Louisiana, has been shivering and shaking with the cold. The country has been in the grip of a mighty blizzard. Most of North Carolina has been covered with sleet and snow. But we, within the sheltered coves and valleys of our defecable mountains, have been "sitting pretty". The weather has not been severe. It is true that it was slightly cloudy with a little rain, the first days of the week, but there has been much sunshine and only enough briskness of the air to give it a tonic tinge. The old climate of the mountains, when all is said and done, is the climate par excellence, the year around.

POLITICS OR PARSIMONY?

The General Assembly might as well understand that the people are not interested in the factional political rows, and personal political ambitions of certain men, as much as they are in the educational welfare of their children, and the rational progress of the state. The members of the present assembly might well remember that their predecessor, of 1921 was a body that was not parsimonious with the state institutions, and that upon the strength of that record the party to which most of the members of the present legislature belong was returned to power by the largest vote that any political party has ever received in North Carolina. It is well to see that the money is wisely expended, but it is never good business or political policy to be parsimonious with the vital thing of a business or of a commonwealth.

N. C. 102

Chairman T. A. Dillard, of the board of commissioners of Jackson county lives some 33 miles from Sylva, in Cashiers Valley. On the state highway map there appears a state highway, designated as Route 102, traversing the county of Jackson from Sylva, by the Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School, to Cashiers Valley, the South Carolina, and Transylvania lines. The commissioners of this county were to hold their monthly meeting, last Monday. Mr. Dillard had to attend that meeting. He was in a dilemma. He first thought of going to Lake Toxaway, 10 miles distant, and coming on the train via Brevard, Hendersonville, and Asheville; but finally made the trip, over N. C. 102 to East Laporte, on horseback, and there got aboard the passenger bus of the Tuckasee and South-eastern Railway, and got here that way.

N. C. 102 has been on the state highway map for two years.

Has a Daniels come to Judgment down in Raleigh? Even the blizzard couldn't cool things off down in our city of Raleigh.

The general orders of the French Army of Occupation is: "Boys get the money."

"Money Shortage Is Great Factor In All Dealings." We have certainly always found it so.

Apparently Governor Morrison does not get along well with people whose names begin with M a. x.

The wets seem to think that when Lincoln said: "The Union Must Be Preserved," he meant pickled.

Every now and again there appears some fellow who would tear politics apart just to see why it ticks.

The question that is bothering the people of North Carolina now is, whose monkey wrench did Mr. Maxwell throw?

We wonder if the General Assembly is going to allow politicians to put the accent on the first syllable of its last name?

They must be fast learning American ways in Germany. A railroad strike and a coal miners strike were staged simultaneously in the Ruhr.

All international difficulties are on the verge of being settled. We see by the papers that Spanish is to be taught in the Asheville schools.

The Eskimos may have been hit hard by that earthquake, but at least they are not bedeviled with local, state, national, and international politics.

The doctrine that it makes no difference what we believe, just so we are conscientious, is bunk. It was what the Germans were taught to believe that got them in the fix they are in now.

The wild beasts of political, racial, religious, and commercial prejudice and jealousy have been gathered at Lausanne, and Richard Washburn Child might have led them if he had been there in the role of leader, and not observer.

One Row Planters for Corn, Peas, Beans and Other Seeds Let one planter do the work of several—it saves you money. One row planters you can get along without. We are pleased to have you drop in and look over our line. JOHN DEERE CORN DRILLS John Deere corn drills are equipped with exactly the same seed plates as are used on the two-row John Deere corn planters that are so popular in the corn belt on account of their accuracy. We can furnish you with seed plates for planting a great variety of seeds practically any desired distance apart in the row, also attachments for distributing fertilizer or for planting peas either in the hill with corn or alternately with the corn. The John Deere No. 226 Drill has runner opener, wheel coverer and chain drive; the No. 245 double-disc opener, polished steel coulters coverers and a gear drive that gives three drilling distances for each seed plate. Tip-over hopper on both styles—easy to change seed. Come in and inspect these planters. Remember—they are accurate-drop planters, so well built that they give satisfactory service year after year.
