Now appears a Volstead in North Carolina.

When the German hoots the Frenchman shoots.

Sweet are the uses of protection, say the sugar refiners.

It has been two years now since our arrival at Normalcy.

That rattling you hear is only Ford running for president.

The French have at least settled down to a gainful occupation.

Gainful occupation does not always mean productive employment.

A bridal shower usually comes just before the groom is lead by the halter.

The Democrats are wondering if Ford can pull the other machine over the hill.

Most of the folks who want to stay out of Europe now stayed out in '17 and '18.

Say it with poems is the slogan of the old Mountaineer—Courier, of Waynesville.

We see by the papers that Paris styles are reflecting a decided Egyptian influence. Tut, tut!

Great Britain is said to have taken her last stand on the Rhine at Cologne. A sweet-smelling post.

It might not be a bad idea after all to nominate Hank for president; Fords run well through mud.

Who said the price of necessities is declining? A Chicago doctor had to pay $20,000 for a kiss.

There is a New man at the head of the post office department, but Work is transferred to the Interior.

Half a league, half a league, half a league onward may yet become the new slogan of the administration.

Top dressing on a man's soil makes him rich, and over dressing on his wife and daughters makes him poor.

The reason for the prohibition laws is that the prohibition laws are the only laws that are not enforced.

If there is anybody who is out of employment in the state, the General Assembly might create another commission.

That fluttering you hear is caused by the lame ducks nudging each other to move over and make room on the roof.

With all that has been going on in the old world it's no wonder that the earth frequently registers severe shocks.

Are we to infer from Mr. Harding's speech to the senate that the administration is courting the league of nations?

Mr. Harding may not intend to become wedded to the League of Nations, but he has certainly been making some proposals.

We judge that Senator Hi's objection to Uncle Sam going courting in Europe is not based exclusively upon aversion to international marriages.

There are those who contend that the Michiganders proved that they are not all geese when they failed to endorse Hank Ford for president.

The Germans are said to be placing many obstacles in the way of the French, but so far they haven't put out any gold marks in the attempt to stop them.

There is nothing very startling in the announcement of a 105 year old Hoosier that he likes to fly his airplane every day; people not nearly so old are often flighty.

That Knoxville, Tenn., man who was supposed to be dead and turned up to find his wife married and was himself sent to jail for forgery, jumped out of the fire at the pen-as you might say.

A ballet dancer was awarded $25,000 damages because her nose was disfigured. At the same rate the jury would have given her approximately a million if she had lost a leg.

A Waynesville minister and three elders, on their way to a laymen's meeting, were mistaken for bootleggers, held up and their car searched by prohibition officers. Those fellows don't always judge by appearances.

If the North Carolina General Assembly had passed the act making insanity a cause for divorce, all that would be necessary for either party would be to prove marriage and the court would have to grant the decree.

We suppose that the 13 year old deaf boy in London was glad enough to hear in any manner, but it does look rather tough on him to have heard jazz over a radio phone the first time he ever heard anything. What must be thing the world sounds like!

The French have been in the Ruhr several weeks now and have shot only nine Germans. They will have to get busy on if they expect to rival Germany's record. The Germans thought not half of shooting that many Belgians and Frenchmen before breakfast, most any morning.

Cuts Better—Pulls Lighter Easier to Operate

THE John Deere Mower, highly improved, combines to an unusual degree qualities that no other mower gives you. Its ability to cut all kinds of hay without clogging; its unusually light draft; its ease of operation; and the ease with which its good working qualities can be maintained will particularly appeal to you.

JOHN DEERE MOWER

Its ability to do a thorough job of cutting in any kind of hay is due largely to the greater power transmitted to the well-made carefully-fitted blades. Special arrangement of the blades, three-piece gear mechanism makes possible this extra power. The thrust of one pair of gears equalized the thrust of the other pair—the gears cannot get out of mesh. Side wear, strain on the bearings and end thrust of the pitman shaft are done away with. Transmission of power is accomplished with little loss.

A 21-point clutch insures instant starting of the knife—no clogging in the heaviest hay.

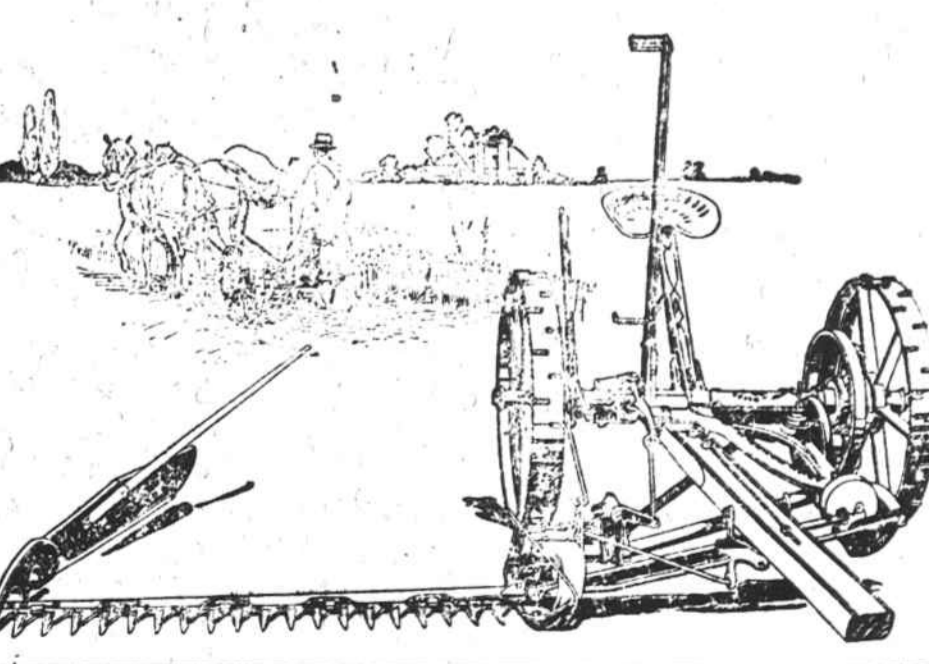

The John Deere is light draft because all unnecessary friction has been done away with. All parts are carefully made and carefully fitted to prevent binding.

You will like the way it handles. By means of the convenient foot lever the bar can be quickly and easily raised high to pass over field obstructions. With the hand lever the bar can be easily raised to extreme height.

The John Deere is easy to keep in good running order. Lag in the cutter bar that may develop from long usage can be taken out in the field by a simple eccentric nut adjustment.

Be sure to see this improved mower. We never have seen its equal. We are sure you will like it. There's a sample set up for your inspection.
