John Grant said it.

If China keeps up her present pace it is likely to break itself.

The new city administration has the cordial best wishes of the JOURNAL, and of all citizens who love the town of Sylva. While the writer opposed the men who were elected in Tuesday's voting, we assure them that we sincerely hope that their administration of the town's affairs for the next two years will show much accomplishment for the town and its citizens.

RENNING TRUE TO FORM

Once upon a time, in connection with one of the abortive attempts to transplant the Cullowhee School to Asheville, this paper was caused to direct the attention of the Asheville Chamber of Commerce and the people of that city, to three of the commandments: viz, that is, namely, "Thou Shalt Not Covet", "Thou Shalt Not Steal", "Thou Shalt Not Bear False Witness against thy neighbor".

The Asheville papers, a week ago, exulted in a story that The Vocational School at Waynesville, was to be moved, bag and baggage to Asheville.

There has been a well defined, and poorly veiled opinion among many people in Western North Carolina that Asheville has tried to hog everything in this region for herself, and the people of Western North Carolina, who have had the misfortune to live outside Buncombe County have resented it. They have believed, or many of them have, that Asheville killed the Greater Western North Carolina Association; that it was a stab in the back from Asheville that caused the decrease of the Western North Carolina Chamber of Commerce; that it was a dose of cold water from Asheville's magnificent supply that brought death to the newly-born Tourist Industry Conference. They may have been wrong, but many have entertained the suspicion, and it is not the small-town prejudice against the "metropolis", for Western North Carolina has always been ready to cooperate with Asheville, when shown a willing spirit, and a neighborliness.

The people may have entertained a suspicion that was without foundation; but we here and now declare that such attempts as the removal of Cullowhee, Boone, and the Waynesville schools have furnished well-grounded and tangible evidence upon which to found just such suspicion.

It may be that Asheville was entirely justified in trying to get the Vocational School moved from her neighbor's territory. (Such a move would be a death blow to Waynesville) but if the school is moved to Asheville, and without a clear, distinct and convincing explanation, that that was the only way to keep that school in Western North Carolina, the people of the entire mountain region will resent it most heartily, and Asheville will lose more good-will among her neighbors, then ten schools of the character could possibly repay her.

That school is Waynesville's all in all. It means so much to the Haywood town, and so little to Asheville. Let us have the whys and wherefores.

The Asheville papers stated brazenly that the secretary of the Asheville Board of Trade has been on the job, trying to get the school to Asheville for some time. Tell us why.

RED STAR
Detroit Vapor
OIL STOVE

How large a place the beautiful RED STAR Oil Stove holds in the hearts of thousands of wives and mothers cannot be measured in words. But in their happy faces you may read it, as they quickly prepare the good things for their tables.

All praise they give to the patented RED STAR BURNER—the burner without wicks or substitutes—the burner that uses one-quarter less kerosene, gasoline or distillate, yet gives two rings of clear, blue gas fire for cooking and a hot gas oven for baking. Truly it has revolutionized oil stove cooking.

Is it not natural that the RED STAR should stand supreme among women who use it and the merchants who serve them?

Are you entirely satisfied with your cooking? The Red STAR merchant in your town is showing new RED STAR models. Reduced prices are within reach of all.
