COOLIDGE AND DAWES HEAD G. O. P. TICKET

The Republican National Convention, in Cleveland, Ohio, chose Coolidge and Chas. G. Dawes as standard bearers of their party for the office of President and Vice-President of the United States. As was generally foreseen, Coolidge was not nominated and received practically no vote, about 34 LeFollette votes being the small number opp. sed. Great enthusiasm was shown over the nomination of the President to succeed himself and the convention was to have had little else in mind as to the choice of the head of the ticket. When it came to naming the vice-president, however, there was some difficulty in getting the matter settled. Former Governor Lowden of Ill. is, who was a strong candidate for president in the convention that nominated Harding, was offered the vice-presidential nomination but he declined the honor and thereafter it was necessary to get together on another man. Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, had been favored by the administration but Lowden followers succeeded in putting over their man and he was nominated. During the voting in which Lowden was nominated the delegates voted 779, Brookhart 31, Curtis 26, Dawes 32, Burton 30, Kenyon 74, Dixon 1, Watson 7, Warren 23, Norris 2, Coulter 1, Wrigley 1.

This is perhaps the first time in the history of the party that after the actual nomination was made the action had to be rescinded and another man chosen. After Lowden's refusal the trend towards Col. Dawes was rapid and on the third ballot he received 682 1/2 which nominated him.

Cullowhee, N. C., June 19, 1924.—Cullowhee Summer School has recently added a new feature in the nature of a Teacher-Placement Bureau to perform mutual service for prospective teachers and school officials.

The Bureau acts as a medium through which superintendents and boards of trustees may get in touch with unemployed teachers with the view of filling vacancies in their school systems.

Professor Lawrence L. Lohr, Assistant High School Director of North Carolina and a member of the Summer School faculty, has charge of this new phase of the activities of the Summer School. He has already received a number of applications from Summer School students and former students desiring positions for the coming year. ## MORRISON CALLS EXTRA SESSION

A call has been issued by Governor Cameron Morrison for an extraordinary session of the General Assembly of North Carolina to be convened on Thursday August 7. The Governor acted with unanimous consent of the council of state in convening the general assembly in special session.

The main matter to be considered is the report of the ship and water transportation commission, which was brought into being by act of the general assembly, more than a year ago, for the purpose of investigating and considering Governor Morrison's recommendation of a bond issue and expenditure of some $10,000,000.00 owned ships and otherwise developed.

The water transportation of the state, in an attempt to give North Carolina state baring ports and lower freight rates in the state.

This project has been uppermost in the mind of Governor Morrison as one of the main features of his state development program, and his calling the general assembly into extraordinary session so near the close of his administration, shows his determination to bring the matter to issue and to successful conclusion if possible, during his term of office.

The commission, some weeks ago unanimously rendered a report, somewhat voluminous, going into every phase of the matter, and recommending the expenditure of $8,500,000.00 in port and water commerce development.

Under the constitution the extra session can remain in session no longer than 20 days.

BIG RIDGE NEWS

We have been having beautiful weather for the past week. The days are getting warm and bright and farm products are taking a fine start to grow with the nice refreshing Spring showers. Farmers are not looking quite so blue and discouraged.

Quite a bunch of relatives and friends assembled at the home of Mrs. Sarah Hooper on last Sunday. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Tritt, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tritt and family, Mrs. Mike Brown and sons, Clyde and Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tritt and family, Mr. Robt. Owen and Master Lyda Moses, of Tuckasee, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Wike and family of East La Porte.

Mrs. C. H. Kitchen, of Sylva, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Fowler and family, Mrs. T. C. Pruett, Mrs. J. C. and Grace Bryson, of Big Ridge. About five o'clock a few inspiring songs were rendered, and a short prayer by Mr. Owen. Immediately afterward the crowd bid each other "Good bye" and departed for their respective homes. It was a day of enjoyment for all present, and long to be remembered.

Mr. Hooper has been seriously ill for some time but we are glad to note that she is specially recovering.

Our Sunday School is not progressing as it should. It is a hard task to get some interested as they should be. Let every body in our community awake to a sense of duty, and get busy in church work, especially the leaders and church members.

We enjoy the letters from different parts of the County and wonder why more don't write.

DO YOU KNOW HOW TO BUD A FRUIT TREE?

Raleigh, N. C., June 19.—"If you want new fruit trees of a desirable variety, these may be secured by taking buds from a tree of the variety wanted and inserting them on seedling stocks or on new wood of old trees. June is the month that this is generally done because the bark slips easily.

Stone fruits such as peaches, cherries, and plums are always budded. Other fruits as apples, quince, and pears may be grafted but are usually budded because it is a cheaper, quicker, easier, and a simpler process, explain horticultural workers of the State College and Department of Agriculture.

Shield budding is the type most used. The bud is placed on a stock about the size of a lead pencil. This usually means one year old wood with the peach and two year wood with apple.

A cut is made on the stock about 3-8 inch around the tree and another one about 1 1-2 inches long above, vertical to and dividing this horizontal cut so it will look like an inverted T.

The buds to be used are taken from present season's growth where the leaves have been removed but part of the stem left to be used as a handle. Make a cut about 3-4 inch above the bud so that it will be about half way through the stick when it reaches the lower end of the bud, there the bark should be cut square across. Then taking hold by the stem remove the bud from the stick and insert on the tree to be budded, under the flaps until the lower end comes in contact with the lower part of the inverted T. Press down the edges and bind with raffia or any other good string.

After the union is made this string should be cut to prevent binding. The top may be cut off next spring after the bud starts.

PROHIBITION

By O. J. Jones

What about prohibition? Is it a success or not? Among others, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler says it is a failure, and that the Constitutional Amendment giving us national prohibition should be repealed. It would be unkind to say "the wish is father to the thought", and yet one is driven to the belief that these who most loudly acclaim the failure of prohibition are the same people who most ardently wish we had no prohibition law.

Prohibition is not proven to be a failure by the fact that some people do not obey the law prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages. One of the Ten Commandments forbids murder, but we go right on killing people just the same. Should we therefore cross out the sixth commandment? The eighth commandment says we must not steal, but since the war we have been doing it on a large scale, as well as otherwise. Shall we therefore dispense with the eighth commandment because we are not keeping it?

The failure about prohibition is not in the law but in the folks. The way to make prohibition a success to make human nature over. And we can do that better by holding up high aims than by pulling them down.

Prohibition is a success. It is always a great accomplishment for a people to set up high standards of behavior and work toward them. There may be a good deal of illegal dealing in intoxicants, but the success of prohibition is seen in the fact that such dealing is acknowledged to be illegal. We have won a great victory in getting the business outlawed. Let us not bemoan our failure. We have not failed. We have done wonderfully and now, that we have got the whole nation to outlaw the whiskey business, there is hope that sometime we may get rid of the outlaws.

GEO. M. GREEN DIES

George McDonald Green was born June 19, 1869. Departed this life Monday, June 2, 1924. In 1900 he joined the Old Savannah church, of which he was a consistent member until death. He was married to Sultana Elizabeth Ashe in 1899. To this union were born seven children six of whom are living. The wid. w. eight grandchildren and three sisters also survive.

He was laid to rest in the Old Savannah Cemetery, Wednesday, a funeral service being conducted by Rev. Thad F. Deitz, Rev. R. N. Deitz and Rev. R. W. Green.

He suffered untold agonies which he bore with cheerful spirit.

His presence will be greatly missed in the home and churches, and his counsel as a christian worker, but his labor here is ended and he has gone to be with us no more.

His many friends extend to the bereaved family their heartfelt sympathy, in this their loss. May this loss only be the means of raising the bereaved to the blessed Home Above and may they be comforted by the thought that they will soon lay meet him again.

His widow wishes to thank the many friends for their kindness to her, during the sickness and death of her beloved husband.

BLANCHE ASHE.

WHO WANTS TO BE A DUCK

"When a duck lays an egg she just waddles off as if nothing had happened. When a hen lays an egg there is a whole of a noise; hence the demand for hen's eggs."

Moral: It pays to advertise."
