NUMBER OF CHANGES IN CULLOWHEE FACULTY

Sylva, N. C., Sept. 10.—A number of important changes have taken place in the faculty of the Cullowhee Normal School, so that the school will open its session with several new teachers. Among the changes in the faculty are the following: Miss Wilson, for fourteen years principal of the school, is retiring at the request, being succeeded by Edward of Cullowhee. Mr. Wilson has been a successful mercantile traveling salesman. Dean Wilson is granted a leave of absence for the session of 1924-'25, to pursue graduate studies at the University of North Carolina. Mr. Kirby, assistant in the English Department at the University, Professor H. Allen, head of the Education Department, will be acting as Professor Bird's absence. Professor Bird's absence is being covered by Maudie Allen, Assistant Registrar, Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. Miss Oliver of Sylva will be in charge of the teaching staff this year. The change is mainly due to the addition of new teachers. However, some of the teachers of last session will be retained. Professor Bird, who was in charge of the English Department, will be in charge of the department this year. Miss Virginia Bryson, Asheville, has her degree from Columbia University and has had excellent experience, including one year at Cullowhee. FARM CLUB BOYS WILL COMPETE FOR PRIZES

Raleigh, Sept. 11.—In every county in North Carolina where farm and home demonstration agents are at work, farm club boys will compete during the next few weeks in judging contests that will finally take them to the State Fair in Raleigh during the week of October 13 to 17 where the final state contests will be held. This is information coming from S. J. Kirby, Assistant State Agent in Farm Demonstration Work for the State College Extension Division. Mr. Kirby states that the agents will first hold county contests to select judging teams and a demonstration team. These teams will then go to the district contest from which the winners will come to State Fair to participate in the contest between teams from the five districts into which the State is divided for agricultural extension work. Only club members will be allowed to participate and no one who has attended an agricultural college for one year may enter. The club members must be ready to judge six kinds of livestock, including mules or horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, swine and poultry. In this contest the State Fair offers $202 in prizes. Another contest is that with seed and plant identification. Around $57 has been offered as prizes in this and $150 has been offered in prizes for the best club demonstration teams. In the demonstration contests, each of the districts may have a team of two members each in the following projects; pig, poultry, calf, corn and special crops. "The club boys who are successful in their county and district contests will come to Raleigh to prove to grown-ups that they know something about farming and will show how well they can carry the job to completion," says Mr. Kirby. Mr. Kirby states that there club boys will be guests of State College while at Raleigh.

TRADE AT HOME

It Applies to the Printer as well as to the Merchant. A large publishing firm sent out to county auditors extremely low prices on ballots. The county auditor in one instance showed the bid to the local publisher and requested a bid approximately as low, says the South Dakota State College agricultural service editor. The publisher wrote the large house about it and offered to get them the job at that price. He got an answer back something like this: "We figured when we sent out these low prices that we could get all the ballot work in this part of the state, but have failed to get enough orders to make the price possible, therefore we cannot do the work at the price." All their low prices had done was to make it difficult for the local men to get a living wage for their work. These same cheap john printing concerns solicit banks and other large users of printed matter on the same basis. If they can get eight, twelve or sixteen banks to order a large supply of one certain form they make a low price on this particular job that the local printer cannot meet. It is cut-throat competition of the worst kind. Solicitors from these concerns should be placed on the black list by McLaughlin bankers and business men who believe in "buy it in McLaughlin" and supporting home industry.—McLaughlin (S.D.) Messenger. (Merchants and bankers always want the local editor to fight for trading at home. The principle applies to the printer as it does to the merchant.—American Press.

SMITH SUCCEEDS NICHOLSON

William H. Smith, of Cowarts, has been placed on the Republican ticket as candidate for representative, by the Republican Executive Committee, to succeed Cyrus H. Nicholson, who has resigned his place, and declined to accept the nomination according to him, last May. To accept the nomination accorded that he finds that his personal affairs will not permit him to enter politics at this time. Prof. Robert L. Madison, Democratic candidate, will be opposed by Mr. Smith, who has accepted the nomination.

RATTLE SNAKES VISIT SCHOOLS.—BALSAM NEWS

Rattle snakes seem to be fond of going to school. Mr. George Knight reports that a very large one was killed on the playground at Moses Creek, school, and another was killed near the steps of the Dark Ridge school, near here. Master Clyde Brown who has been very ill for the past week and was taken to the Waynesville hospital is now improving and we wish for him a speedy recovery. The revival at the Baptist church closed Sunday with good results. Thirteen were baptized and others will be later. Also many backsliders were reclaimed. Many Balsamites are attending the revivals at Saunook nad Mt. Pleasant this week. Mrs. C. H. Kitchen of Beta visited Mrs. Modena Brown last week. Mrs. W. O. Robinson has returned from Monroe, where she was summoned to the bedside of her sister, who passed away soon after Mrs. Robinson's arrival. Miss Zada Ashe of Sylva taught the primary grades in Balsam school during the absence of Mrs. W. O. Robinson. Messrs. A. F. Arrington and Bedford Mehaffey of Canton motored to Balsam Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. John Kenney and Mr. J. K. Kenney motored to Caney Fork Sunday. Among those who went on camping trips last week were: Miss Faye Bryson with a party to Whiteside. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lee, Jr., to Wessner Bald and Messrs. Charles Jones and Charles Perry to Old Bald. We have had several cold frosty mornings and many of our tourists have departed for their homes in the warmer climate, while others are coming in to enjoy our beautiful fall weather.

CHEROKEE DEMOCRATS NOMINATE MRS. COVER

Mrs. Giles Cover, of Andrews, is a candidate for representative from Cherokee county, being the only woman seeking that office in this part of the state. The Cherokee Scout says: Mrs. Giles Cover, of Andrews continued her phenomenal rise in political affairs Monday when she was made the nominee of the county Democratic convention for the lower house of the North Carolina General Assembly. Mrs. Cover first got into politics in the summer when she was sent by her county as a delegate to the State Democratic convention in Raleigh, which body made her a delegate to the national convention in New York in July. While Mrs. Cover is home-loving and has not sought any preferment at the hands of her party, yet her worth has been recognized by an ever-increasing number of friends, who continue to bestow honors upon her, thus giving due recognition to woman in her lately-acquired role of citizen, which carried with it the right of suffrage. The convention met in the court house at 1 o'clock Monday with Chairman of the Executive Committee C. B. Hill in the chair. Besides Mrs. Cover the nominees were: For the Senate, J. T. Hayes; Sheriff, George Crawford; Register of Deeds, Haze Leatherwood; for County Commissioners, Bale Palmer, George Hendrix and Sheridan Dickey; and for Coroner, Dr. J. N. Hill.

DATES ARE SELECTED FOR THE STATE FAIR

"Yes" the State Fair will be held this year as usual," said General Manager E. V. Walborn when asked if the negotiations over the transfer of the State Fair grounds site of 60 acres to State College would interfere in any way with the fair. As usual the State Fair will be held in October, he explained, and the dates have been fixed as the 13 to 17, which is practically time as in recent years. So far as the management of the fair is concerned, the negotiations over the property have no significance, it was stated. The premium list of 140 pages has just come from the printers and the various cash prizes aggregate $29,000, which is equal to the best that the fair has ever offered. Agricultural products lead in the list with $4,500 while $3,000 is offered for beef cattle, $3,600 for dairy cattle, $2,600 for swine and $2,000 for sheep. Attractive prizes are offered in the various other divisions.

DANIELS DELIGHTED WITH JACKSON

Hon. Josephus Daniels, who has been spending several days in this county, expressed himself as being delighted and charmed, with the county, upon his first visit. Mr. Daniels spoke, Thursday evening, at the Central High School auditorium, under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary. On Friday he and Mrs. Daniels motored to High Hampton, Cashiers Valley and Lake Fairfield, spending the week end at High Hampton as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McKee. Mr. Daniels was astonished at the wonderful scenery, climate and resources of the county, and predicted great growth for this region, within the near future.

WANT TO ESTABLISH CREAMERY HERE

The Carolina Creamery Company officials have informed Mr. M. Y. Jarrett, manager of the Tuckasegee Ice Company, that they are anxious to establish a creamery and ice cream plant at Dillsboro, near the ice plant. It is the intention of the Carolina Creamery Company to establish cream routes all over Jackson county and take up the cream at regular times. The decision to establish the creamery here is due to the central location, on the Murphy Division, and to the fact that Jackson county is naturally one of the finest dairying regions in the country. A meeting of farmers and the officials of the Carolina Creamery Company is to be held at the Lyric Theater on next Wednesday, September 17, and all farmers of the county who are interested are urged to be present, as this splendid opportunity for the beginning of the dairy industry in the county is in their hands and depends upon the extent of cooperation they are willing to give. In other words, if the Carolina Creamery Company can find as many as 15 farmers who are willing to furnish cream, regularly, they will then establish the creamery here.
