

BURIED TREASURE

The buried treasures, numbers of them will not be seen for centuries to come. Plant food in acid land is as buried as a treasure in the bottom of the ocean, so far as the plant is concerned. An application of lime, not only sweetens the land and makes the plant food available to the growing crops, which is money in the pockets of the farmer.

Experiments have shown that lime applied even in limestone countries is very profitable. That will give you some idea of the value of lime applied to freestone soil. You are wasting money to apply commercial fertilizers to your land unless the plant food in the soil is available.

Therefore every farmer in this county should use a liberal amount of lime on soil before seeding, in order that he may receive the full benefit of what the soil is capable of producing when all plant food therein is available.

As yet we have not had inquiries for lime, but we hope that as soon as the weather is settled and the farmers are preparing for their crops, that they will at least try a few hundred pounds of lime.

We would be perfectly safe in guaranteeing satisfactory results. We have just received a full supply of field seed of the highest quality, which we are offering at the following prices:
