CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL HALF DOLLARS

The first consignment of Confederate Memorial Half Dollars, minted by the United States Government as a "tribute to the valor of the Soldier of the South," which are to be simultaneously released throughout the nation on July 3rd, has been received by the Jackson County Bank, according to an announcement made today by M. D. Cowan, Cashier.

"Citizens of Sylva now have the opportunity of making sure of obtaining some of these coveted Memorial coins on their national distribution July 3rd," said Mr. Cowan, "by immediately purchasing coin certificates, for sale for the actual half dollars on July 3rd.

"As less than two million of the Memorial coins are available to the entire South at this time, the Southern Bankers Committee, arranging details of their distribution has allocated only a limited number to each city and county in the various Southern states. Once these quotas are exhausted no further coins are obtainable.

"The issuance of these commemorative coins by the National Government is an event of the greatest significance to the South. It is a gesture of friendliness on the part of the nation to which the South will spontaneously respond.

"Not only do these coins have a high sentimental value through this national recognition of our Southern heroes, but they also possess an additional worth since the modest premium at which the coins are sold goes to the completion of the great monument to the Confederacy being carved at Stone Mountain, Georgia."

The Jackson County Journal today announces the most liberal campaign ever undertaken by a North Carolina weekly newspaper and cordially invites the live wire men and women of Sylva and adjoining towns and counties to participate.

The campaign is to be conducted under what is known as the "Salesmanship Club Plan", and will cover not only Sylva, but such portions of the surrounding country as belongs to Sylva trading territory.

The Journal is determined to acquire a circulation as near as possible 100 per cent in its field and has selected the "Salesmanship Club Plan" as being the best and surest method to that end.

With the quality maintained by a weekly newspaper such as the Journal has established, the management feels that the community should be interested in its development, and its augmenting that spirit by offering some wonderful prizes to those who will devote some of their spare time in getting subscriptions during the next few weeks.

The campaign is of such a short duration that immediate action is necessary. Don't wait to see what the other fellow is going to do, but pitch in and show the other fellow how to do it. Remember, this is not a popularity contest. It is simply a straight forward business proposition. Someone will win that brand new Overland Sedan, Ford Coupe and other valuable handsome prizes—only a few weeks of effort, and that someone may as well be you. In any event you can't lose by trying as every active member will be paid for his or her time.

No Voting Contest
First off, it should be distinctly understood that "Salesmanship Club" campaign is not a "popularity" voting or "beauty" contest. It is just as the name implies—a test of salesmanship ability pure and simple, and everyone who enters and remains active for just a few weeks will be highly repaid for the effort put forth. There will be no losers in this campaign—everybody who remains active throughout the campaign either wins a prize or a commission check.

A Wonderful Prize List
It will require no more than the most casual glance at the two page announcement to be found elsewhere in this issue, to convince even the most skeptical that the total of the awards and commissions offered will run more than $3,000.00. Just think of what a wonderful opportunity is offered to earn in a few weeks—a luxurious new Overland Sedan and the much envied Ford Coupe. That is what two of the participants is going to receive at the end of this campaign—so its up to you to get busy at once and go after one of these wonderful cars.

Worth Working For
From every point of view these cars are worth working for. Both of them are luxuriously appointed. They carry throughout the qualities of economy and reliability. They are nimble in their operation, and the gears shift quickly. To own one of these easily controlled cars anyone would be willing to work and slave for months—let alone a few weeks—so why not investigate the Journal "Salesmanship Club" now while you have the opportunity. Gain the advantage of an early start. It costs you nothing to try.

Included in the prize list is the Overland Sedan $825.00, Ford Coupe $621.00, Diamond Ring $425.00, Globe Parlor Living Room suite $225.00. Three trips to Atlantic City with Transportation and Hotel Expenses paid and $75.00 in gold. The good old coin of the realm. Besides our generous commission plan, our proposition is such that you cannot help but win, and right now is the time for you to make up your mind to make some real money in the next few weeks.

Absolute Fairness
To safe guard the interest of those who participate in the Jackson County Journal, $3,000.00 Salesmanship Club Circulation Campaign and to insure absolute fairness the publisher of the paper has secured the services of a campaign manager who comes highly recommended and a specialist in this line of work, and who will devote his whole time and attention to those who wish to share in this prize distribution. Sealed Ballot Box
To insure absolute fairness and impartiality in the awarding of prizes

the campaign will be brought to a close under the "sealed ballot box" system. During the entire last week of the race, the ballot box—sealed—will repose in the vaults of a local bank where candidates and their friends will deposit their final cash collections. When the race has been declared closed a committee of local men, who will act as the official judges in awarding the prizes will take charge of the ballot box, break the seals and begin the final count of the votes. In this way no one, not even the campaign manager, can possibly know the number of votes held by any candidate until after the judges have made the final count, which precludes and possibility of favoritism and guarantees fairness to the minutest degree.

WEEKLY MARKET NOTES

Raleigh, May 21.—Poultry growers in twenty-two counties of eastern and central Carolina have benefited by the cooperative car lot shipments of poultry promoted and organized by the State Division of Markets during the past month. Approximately 181,810 pounds of poultry were shipped by nearly 4,000 farmers a total increase in price over local markets of about $10,000.

The lettuce crop looks to be shorter than was expected due to the prevalence of the tip burn disease. The growers are using better grades and packs which means that much of the diseased lettuce is culled out and lost. Cabbage are moving in carlots from Morehead City now and cured sweet potatoes are leaving the Craven County storage houses for northern markets.

The Carolina Dewberry Association is showing up stronger than was expected. Nearly all the growers except those around Cameron and Lenoir Springs have joined the Association and indications are that the group will market around 200 cars this year.

In the mountains, particularly in Madison County, the Division of Markets plans to begin some beef cattle marketing work under the direction of T. L. Gwyn. The Commissioners have appropriated for a county agent and work will soon begin in improved pastures and herds of beef cattle. One estate alone plans to have 2,000 head of cattle for sale each year. When this work has been developed the Division plans to promote a cooperative effort between the cattle growers of western Carolina and the crop farmers of eastern Carolina so that the eastern farmer may finish the cattle, keep the manure for soils and sell the finished animals in the large eastern markets.

CORN FED HOGS MAY PAY THIS YEAR

Raleigh, May 21.—Reports show that farmers over the United States will plant more corn this season than last which means cheap corn. The existing shortage of hogs indicates that hogs will be high; so, cheap corn fed to high priced hogs should prove a winning combination for Tarheel farmers if they have saved and bred those brood sows according to recommendations made by the office of swine extension at State College.

W. W. Shay, swine extension specialist states that cornfed hogs will prove winners in North Carolina next September when hogs as a rule are highest in this state.

"Take ten pigs weighing 35 pounds each on May first," says Mr. Shay, "Put them on a pasture of at least one acre to one and one-half acres and give them a self feeder plentifully supplied with shelled corn, fish meal and a mineral mixture. See that water and shade are provided. Plant enough land to provide 52 1-2 bushels of early maturing corn for these pigs. Turn them on this corn, which in eastern Carolina should be ready between July 15 and August 1. Move the self feeder over too but take out the corn leaving only the fish meal and minerals. Now sell the pigs around September 15 when they will have a weight of about 200 pounds each."

If handled in this way, Mr. Shay states that these pigs will return a profit of $134.52, or figuring it cost 75 cents per bushel to produce corn, a profit of $1.39 will be made on each bushel of corn fed. This, he states, is better than attempting to sell corn at 80 cents or one dollar per bushel when it costs 75 cents to grow it.

"If 25 percent of the prospective corn crop of North Carolina were handled in this way this year," says Mr. Shay, "the profits to the farmers of the State would be increased ten million dollars."
