Four concrete mixers pouring roads leading into Sylva. Hot Dog!

It is unofficially reported that Bob Reynolds will campaign for president two years hence.

"Florida has had checkered career." More checked than checkered, at the present writing.

"Property Values in Swain County Mounting! Which Swain county mounting?"

For the first time in her history Jackson county appears to have a superior court judge.

Buncombe county held a primary last Saturday; the laundrymen held a convention in Asheville, Monday. Huh!

Every even year of the calendar we are more and more convinced of the profanity of John Grant's famous remark, and our respect for his judgment of things increases.

One of the most hopeful signs in North Carolina is the fact that the evolutionists and fundamentalists couldn't get enough of a crowd before which to stage their scheduled debate.

Our friend John Irwin, son-in-law of T. H. Hastings, of Sylva, is less than a hundred votes behind the high man in the sheriff's race in Mecklenburg county, and expects to be the nominee in the second primary.

TALK LESS OR PROVE MORE

Such is the heading of an editorial appearing in the Asheville Citizen of today. The Citizen's editorial is equally applicable to Buncombe, Jackson, and perhaps other counties in Western North Carolina, where both the Australian ballot law and the absentee voters act are in effect.

Says the Citizen: "Fraud, fraud"—it is the customary excuse of the defeated in all parts of the country, and in this county for a number of years it has been invariably shouted after each election. Every trick of political chicanery has been charged against the supporters of the winners.

Saturday's primary was no exception, but rather the clamor of other years was intensified and increased in volume as the results were announced. In this precinct ballot boxes were stuffed, in that one ballots were changed, in another votes for one candidate were counted for his opponent; official "markers" disregarded the wishes of ignorant or infirm voters and everywhere absentee ballots were used as swindling devices. So runs the widely repeated charges.

They are the same charges made after every primary for some years—the same charges have always ended in nothing but charges which nobody has undertaken to establish as true. This paper is sick of these biennial complaints which no one seeks to prove. If they are true there should be a formal investigation in order that an end be made to grave offenses; if there is no evidence to support them they should not be repeated—such talk hurts the community's reputation. Complainants allowed the Canvassing Board to adjourn without calling for any investigation, but there is still opportunity to present evidence to Solicitor Swain. In plain language, complainants should either put up or shut up."

WE HAVE WITH US TOMORROW

35 South Carolinians, coming from our neighbor county of Oconee, and from our neighbor town of Walhalla, will be with us tomorrow. They come to get acquainted. We have been here all the time. They have been here all the time; and yet we know not each other.

Perhaps every man and woman in Sylva knows a large circle of friends in Franklin, Brevard, Waynesville and Bryson City, and yet we doubt if there are more than three people in Sylva who know as many as three people in Walhalla. Each of these towns is the seat of government of adjoining counties to Jackson. An older generation of Jackson county people were as well acquainted with Walhalla and Oconee county as they were with their own county and county town. Why do we not know our neighbors? The reason is obvious. The best road out of Jackson county once went to Walhalla. It has fallen into disuse and a state of unrepair. The only way to bring us close to our neighbors in friendship and mutual interest is to open a highway of travel connecting the two towns. We have many things in common. We can both gain much by working together for Jackson and Oconee counties.

The Wade Hampton Memorial Highway is being opened. The South Carolinians are making the journey here over it. It furnishes the shortest route to Sylva, to Western North Carolina, to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, for the people of Walhalla and a large section of the lowland South. It will be worth thousands to Sylva and Jackson county. It should be a part of the state highway system as was planned in the beginning.

We welcome our South Carolina friends. We hope to know them better. We pledge them our support in completing the road to Walhalla.

Union County reports the finest hay crop ever produced in that county. Barley, oats and vetch did it, say these growers.

Jackson County Leads Enrollment at Cullowhee

Cullowhee, N. C., June 7—Although nearly one tenth of the 350 students enrolled at Cullowhee State Normal for the first session of the summer school are from other states the enrollment figures show that the school is pre-eminently a training school for Western North Carolina teachers. The eight North Carolina counties leading in number of students enrolled are: Jackson, with 46; Buncombe with 37; Macon, with 32; Haywood with 24; Swain with 24; Clay with 15; Madison with 14; and Cherokee with 13.

With the exception of Boone Training School, Cullowhee is the only state normal this side of Greensboro and this probably accounts in part for the unusually large enrollment regardless of the fact that Western North Carolina has five summer schools for teachers.

Although the Cullowhee officials have tried to provide all dormitory space possible for the summer school students, dormitories are overflowing and already plans are being made to provide more room for a still larger enrollment for next summer.

The rapid growth of the institution is shown by the enrollment figures for the past three years. There were 150 students in the 1923 summer school, 221 in 1924, 312 in 1925 and the enrollment for the present summer school will likely reach close to the 400 mark.

The success of the school is no doubt due in part to the famous summer climate and mountain scenery of Western North Carolina. Nearly every county in the eastern part of the state is represented. The teachers of Cullowhee state that the students seem to be capable of doing good work as students usually do in the regular winter terms, a condition which is not found in summer schools less fortunately located.

The Farmer Can't Stand Much More Help Like He Has Been Getting

Congress say they are helping the farmer. They are in Washington ON salary. He is home trying to pay it. Farmers have had more advice and less relief than a wayward son. If advice sold for 10c a column, Farmers would be richer than Beutleggers.

And when they get all through advising, there is just one thing will help the Farmers. That is eliminate some of the middlemen and let the two ends meet. The Consumer and the Producer are two men in America that have never even seen each other. Cut out the middle and tie the two ends together.

When a steer starts from the feed pen to the table, there is about 10 to take a bite out of him, before he reaches the family that pay for him.

Who wears the best clothes or drives the best car, the fellow who raises a bushel of wheat, or the working fellow who goes up to buy a sack of flour? Why neither one of them. The ones in between these two have their private Tailor and "Straight Eights."

The Government just told Agriculture, "You are in a hole." They didn't offer to pull them out, but they did say, "We will get down in there with you."

I want to tell you right here, I don't know what would have happened to the poor farmer if it had not been for his old friend, "Bull" Durham. It's the only thing he has been absolutely able to rely on. And I want him to know that myself and "Bull" Durham are with him right to the poor house door.

BOSTON SCHOOL of COOKERY Tests and Approves

Miss Lucy G. Allen, director of the school, tells her experience with the Perfection Oil Stove.

MISS LUCY ALLEN, director of the conservative Boston School of Cookery, is one of six famous cooks who recently put the Perfection Stove to a rigorous, practical cooking test. Like the other five famous cooks, Miss Allen gave by every cooking process, and gave us her opinion of the Perfection.

Uniformly Good Results

"I cooked many meals on the Perfection Stove," says Miss Allen. "The results, whether using the top of the stove, the oven, the broiler, or the toaster were uniformly good. There were several features sufficiently pronounced to recommend the stove to the most particular people.

Easy to Work on

"The Perfection is an easy stove to work on. There is no reaching across several hot plates, as there is with a gas or coal range.

"The flame never varied from the point at which it was set, whether it was low for stewing down pumpkin or high for baking beans several hours.

Clean Kettles

"There was no black deposit on the cooking utensils, even when the high, tip-tipped flame was used for a week.

"The long chimneys burn every drop of oil completely before the heat reaches the utensils.

"We were so well pleased with the 1926 Perfection Stove, both as to results and operation, that after completing the test we kept it to use for auxiliary work in our classes," she concluded.

Tested and approved by the Boston School of Cookery! That means that the Perfection was used under all possible cooking conditions—for slow cooking, for fast cooking; for baking, for frying, and for broiling. In every case it was found efficient.

Six Cooks Agree

The other five famous cooks who tested the Perfection were enthusiastic, too, about the results obtained. And, every day 4,500,000 women get real cooking satisfaction from their Perfections.

See these 1926 Perfections at any dealer's. All sizes from a one-burner stove at $6.75 to a five-burner range at $120.00. When you cook on a 1926 Perfection, you, too, will be well pleased with it.

Clean, Even Cooking Heat

The long chimneys of the Perfection burn every drop of the oil before it reaches the kettle. Thus you get clean, even cooking heat free from soot and smoke.

You can be doubly sure of this sort of heat when you use a year water-white Kerosene that burns cleanly, evenly and without odor—"Standard" Kerosene. It is specially refined.

All impurities that might cause smoke or leave deposits of soot are removed. This assures the maximum amount of heat. By sticking to "Standard" Kerosene you are sure of best results from your Perfection. Insist on it. You can buy it anywhere.
