Mrs. E. L. McKee has returned from Raleigh, where she went to attend a meeting of the State Educational Commission, of which she is a member.

Mrs. J. E. Henderson of Cherokee, was here last Thursday, coming up to attend the meeting of the Woman's Study Club, which was held at the home of Mrs. J. D. Cowan.

Mr. Jesse C. Smith and Mr. Griffin Middleton came down from Cowarts, the first of the week, and entered Sylva Collegiate Institute for the Spring semester.

Friends here will be interested in the announcement of the birth of a son, on January 10, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ryan, in DeLand, Fla. Mrs. Ryan was formerly Miss Elizabeth Candler of Sylva.

Mrs. A. M. Henson left the first of the week for Eagle Lake, Fla., where she will be the guest of her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Henson for several weeks.

DOUBLE HEADER NEXT WEEK

The Sylva Collegiate Institute court will be the scene of a double header in basket ball, Friday, January 28, between the boy's and girl's teams of Waynesville High School and Sylva Collegiate Institute. A large crowd is expected to attend, according to Coach Roberts.

PARENT - TEACHERS MEETING POSTPONED

Mrs. Billy Davis, president of the local Parent-Teachers Association announces that because of the tuberculosis clinic, the meeting of the association will not be held on next Monday, but will be on Monday, February 2, and requests a large attendance of the members at that time.

PILGRIM CLASS HAS MEETING

The Pilgrim Class of the Methodist Sunday School, held the regular monthly business meeting on Tuesday at which time Mrs. L. C. Hall was hostess, at her home on Courtland Heights.

Mrs. J. L. Dillard, who was elected president, at the December business meeting, presided over the meeting. Mrs. Ben Queen, vice president and Mrs. C. W. Allen, Jr., secretary-treasurer, are the other new officers.

Reports of the various committees were heard, these reports including those of the activities of the class in relief and good cheer work, at Christmas. Committees were also appointed and plans made for work in the year just beginning.

During the social hour, which followed the business session, Mr. Hall served delightful refreshments.

BASKETBALL THURSDAY NIGHT

Thursday night, January 20, the girls of Sylva High School will meet the girls from Cullowhee State Normal, on the high school court, and the Sylva High boys will play the Cullowhee High School boys. Game called at 7:30.

WILL HOLD REVIVAL SERVICES

Rev. J. G. Murray, pastor of the Baptist church at Harmony, N. C., will hold a series of evangelistic services at the Sylva Collegiate Institute, beginning next Wednesday, January 26.

President Reed, of Sylva Collegiate Institute, announces that the meetings will be held at 10:00 o'clock each morning and at 7:30 each evening, in the dining hall of the institute.

While the meetings are primarily for the students of the school, the public is invited to attend them.

MR. AND MRS BROWN ARE HOSTS AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. W. Mike Brown were hosts at a beautifully appointed six o'clock dinner, last night, having as honor guests Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson, who last week returned from their honeymoon trip.

A cut glass bowl filled with pink and white sweet peas formed the lovely centerpiece for the dining table, the delicious dinner being served in four courses. Guests enjoying the charming hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Brown, besides the guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hedden, Mr. and Mrs. John Parris, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Bales, Miss Inez Sullivan and Mr. Ott Ledbetter.

From the County Home.

Webster, N. C.,
Jan. 15, 1927

I am not a subscriber, but a reader of the Jackson County Journal. Editor, will you please give space in the columns for a little item of thanks to the many good people of Cullowhee, Dillsboro and Sylva for their kindness as a tribute of love shown the inmates of the home, making them feel a sense of love to the Giver of all good, for He is our God and we are the people of His pasture.

Written for the old folks at the County Home.

BAPTIST CHURCH OF SYLVA (Contributed)

We had an interesting prayer service Wednesday evening. There were about fifty present. Prof. Reed spoke on the "Sacrificed Spirit of the Christian." His talk was followed by Mr. Tilson and Professor Roberts.

There will be preaching here Sunday evening at seven o'clock by the pastor, Mr. Deitz.

The B. Y. P. U. is beginning with its new officers. Last Sunday evening we had a good program. Let's make the new year count for most in the training of young christians.

With the fine study course conducted at the Sylva Collegiate Institute we should go far ahead of the best we could do without this training. We as a school and B. Y. P. U. heartily thank Mr. Morgan and Miss Ricket for the opportunity of studying B. Y. P. U. work under them.

The Y. W. A. will meet next Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock.

A revival meeting will begin at Sylva Collegiate Institute Wednesday morning, January 26th at ten o'clock. We want the town people to avail themselves of this meeting and feel that they have a part in it. We are hoping for great results from this revival. Mr. Murray from Harmony, North Carolina, will conduct the services.

U. D. C. HAS SILVER TEA

Members of the W. A. Enloe Chapter U. D. C. were hostesses at a beautiful silver tea, celebrating Lee-Jackson Day, given at the home of Mrs. S. W. Enloe, this afternoon, receiving about one hundred guests, during the afternoon. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Enloe and Mrs. David M. Hall and were conducted upstairs where wraps were disposed of by little Miss Anne Enloe. Mrs. P. W. Kincaid and Mrs. Cole Cannon stood at the living room door and ushered the guests to the breakfast room, where Mrs. J. J. Hooker and Mrs. M. H. Morris presided over the tea and coffee urns. From the breakfast room the ladies were taken by Mrs. D. D. Hooper to the dining room and there served cake, ice cream and red and white mints by Mrs. Mont Cannon, Mrs. C. W. Allen, Jr., Mrs. F. E. Alley, Jr., and Mrs. Dolph Murray.

The colors of the Confederacy were used in red and white carnations which attractively decorated the rooms.

A number of piano selections were played by Miss Dorothy Moore, during the afternoon.

U. D. C. CELEBRATES LEE-JACKSON DAY

The B. H. Cathey Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy celebrated Lee-Jackson Day, by holding a program at the Sylva graded school this afternoon.

Mrs. J. Ramsey Buchanan, president of the chapter presided. The program was opened by singing America, after which the invocation was pronounced by Mrs. W. H. Rhodes.

Mrs. James H. Cathey, in a few well chosen words, stated the purpose of the U. D. C., which is to keep alive the facts of Southern History and to present them to the rising generations without bias or prejudice.

Mrs. Buchanan, who was presiding, made a short talk to the children and "The Bonnie Blue Flag," was sung by the congregation.

Mrs. C. A. Bales, read "Stonewall Jackson's Way" and "The Sword of Robert Lee."

Following Mrs. Bales, Mrs. E. L. McKee made a most interesting and instructive talk to the children, informing them of facts regarding the war, and admonishing them to remember that the "South fought for what it knew was right," and telling them to always be proud of their Southern birth and Southern breeding.

Little Miss Mary Frances Grind staff, read "In Grandma's Day."

Mrs. Buchanan presented copies of "North Carolina Women of the Confederacy" to the Sylva graded school and to the Sylva Collegiate Institute, which were accepted for the schools by Miss Queen Duvall and Mrs. W. C. Reed.

The program closed by the singing of "Dixie," after which Rev. W. M. Robbins pronounced the benediction.

Nothing is easier than fault finding; no talent, no self denial, no brains, no character are required to set up in the grumbling business.—Robert West.

A field of alfalfa in Mecklenburg county produced 23 tons of cured hay on the eight acres. The alfalfa is being sold for $35 per ton and is giving a return of $100.45 per acre. How does this compare with cotton? asks B. J. Hunter, the owner.
