trans-Atlantic rate of speed would require ninety days three full months, to reach the moon.

There is a difference of 200 degrees Fahrenheit between the highest and the lowest officially recorded temperature on earth.

Instead of coming out in China, as is popularly supposed, if one traveled straight through the center of the earth from Jackson county he would emerge in the Indian Ocean, more than a thousand miles West of the coast of Australia. And when he reached the center, going down, he would continue in the same direction going up. However, if one traveled through the earth on our latitude, he would come out on the headwaters of the Hoang River in the interior of China, nearly 2,500 miles from the nearest seaport.

If the Mexican border were fastened at its Pacific extremity and the kinks jerked out of the line, the East end would reach to Nashville, Tennessee. If the source of the Missouri River were placed at New York City, and the Missouri-Mississippi run over the railroad route most used, the mouth of the Mississippi would be at Los Angeles.

The U. S. A. proper is one 17th. of the land surface of the earth.

When Commander Byrd was directly over the North Pole, all directions were due South, and the compass had no other choice than to point in that direction.

Entering the Panama Canal from the Atlantic a ship travels Southeast and part of the way due east, to get into the Pacific Ocean.

North Carolina contains exactly one 1000th of the land area of the globe and one 664th. of the world's population. If the state were divided equally among the inhabitants, every person would have about 12 acres. Make the Western extremity of North Carolina stationary and swing the state around, and the circle thus described would take in all or part of eighteen states, two of the Great Lakes, the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean, including the cities of Washington, Cleveland and New Orleans, missing Detroit, Chicago and Tampa about 15 miles.

You've Always Wanted a Trip Like This

Come Along Next Month On Western North Carolina's Goodwill Tour to the Middlewest

HAVE you been to Chicago, second largest city in America? Have you ever seen a triot, and its gigantic automobile factories?

Have you ever visited Pittsburgh, and seen the glare from the steel mills lighting up the sky miles around with magnificent grandeur? Have you ever sailed on America's vast island seas, and crossed the line into Canada?

Be aboard the Land of the Sky special next month, then, when it leaves Asheville on the regular annual goodwill tour to carry the goodwill of Western North Carolina to the people of the middlewest. Prominent persons will welcome the party all along the line; there will be banquets, sight-seeing tours and good times for everybody. And the entire cost of the tour per person ranges from $226.25 to $262.45, depending on the accommodations desired—much less than if you were going alone.

There's room on the train for only 125 people. Make your reservations now by writing the Asheville Chamber of Commerce. A deposit of $25 is required with each reservation.

The special train will leave Asheville September 26 and will return October 8. Stops will be made at Cincinnati, Dayton, Columbus, Wheeling, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Windsor and London, Ontario; Grand Rapids, South Bend, Chicago, Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Louisville and Knoxville.
