JUDGE WARNS AGAINST UNLAWFUL SEARCH

Judge Harding, holding superior court here Friday morning issued a warning from the bench against the stopping and searching of automobiles without proper warrant.

Deputy sheriff Robinson was on the stand and testified to the officers having stopped a car and found eight gallons of liquor. The judge inquired as to why the car was stopped by the officers and learned from Mr. Robinson that the search was made on "report."

Judge Harding told the officer that it so happened that the car had liquor and that it turned out all right in this case, "But" said Judge Harding "suppose you hadn't found liquor? Where would you be? An officer hasn't a right to stop an automobile unless he has a warrant, unless he knows that it has liquor. If he hadn't had liquor, you would be on trial for an assault."

The judge stated that he was stating the law in such cases for the benefit of the officers in order that they might go about their duties in a lawful manner.

WORK ON PARK PROGRESSING

Work incident to establishment of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park is progressing rapidly and satisfactorily it was announced Tuesday by State Senator Plato D. Ebbs who spends the greater part of his executive committee of the North Carolina park commission which is composed of Dr. E. C. Brooks, of Representative Mark Squires, of Lenoir and Senator Ebbs.

Verne Rhoades, field agent for the state park commission, with headquarters in the Medical building and who spends the greater part of his time in the park area made reports to the committee on the progress which is being made in making surveys and timber estimates in the park area.

A crew of thirty men is engaged on this phase of the work which, it was explained, is being done in order to ascertain the exact amount which will be required in the purchase of lands for the park. North Carolina and Tennessee, in which the proposed park is situated, will buy the land and turn it over to the federal government for development and maintenance. The greater portion of the fund for purchase of land has been raised by legislative appropriation by popular subscriptions in the two states.

A national campaign for additional funds will be launched the latter part of October or the first of November. The national campaign will be directed by Col. W. A. Welch, of New York City chairman of the Southern Appalachian Park commission. Prospects for the success of this campaign seem particularly encouraging, Senator Ebbs said.

WILL SENTENCE JONES TODAY

Enos Jones, convicted of Manslaughter, by the jury trying him for the slaying of Lee Conley, negro station hand at Dillsboro last summer will be sentenced today by Judge Harding, when solicitor Davis returns here from his Waynesville home.

The case was a hard fought one, Jones contending that the shooting was purely accidental and the state contending that the killing was intentional and that Jones should be convicted of murder in the second degree or manslaughter.

Johnny Jones a brother of Enos, was arrested following the trial, on a warrant issued by Judge Harding on a charge of intimidating a witness. Guy Leatherwood, who testified in the case went on the stand in the hearing Friday before Judge Harding and stated that during the trial Jones accused him in the court house, accused him of lying, cursed him and slapped his face; and that the night after the trial he was again accused by Jones in a local drug store and that on that occasion Jones again accused him of false tetsifying.

Raymond Glenn, another witness, substantiated the testimony of Leatherwood as to the last occurrence.

Judge Harding ordered young Jones into the custody of the sheriff until he furnished a bond of $500 for his appearance in the court today at which time the solicitor will again be in Sylva and the grand jury will be in session, by order of the court. Jones failed to furnish the bond and is being held in jail awaiting the outcome of the matter.

A Chrysler car, loaded with three young men and a quantity of liquor, ran off over the bank and turned over between Highway No. 285 and the Tuckaseegee River, just above the Dillsboro and Sylva Electric Light Company's plant, shortly after dark, last night according to residents of the locality. Leaving one of the party on guard, the car was gotten out, and brought to Sylva it is said, where repairs were made, and later in the night, the youths are said to have returned, gotten the liquor that wasn't spilled in the crash, and gone on their way.

It is said that pieces of fruit jars jar tops, and the smell of liquor were much in evidence this morning and prints were found where two kegs or barrels had been concealed near the river bank.

CHINA MISSIONARIES SPEAK AT CULLOWHEE

Cullowhee, October 19.—The Methodist Missionary Circle, which met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. H. Brown, was very fortunate in having at its October meeting, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Royall, missionaries to China who have been in this country during the political trouble in China.

The Circle has been studying "The Moslem Women" and Mrs. Royall spoke especially of her experiences with those of this faith in China, who although not very numerous are very difficult to convert. Their standards of cleanliness and living generally are much higher than those of the average Chinese and they are proud and unapproachable. Making a contact is one of the hardest tasks which confront the missionary, Mrs. Royall said. In one place she was forced for months to walk the streets, with a crowd of children following at her heels throwing stones, before she was invited into any homes. Most of the people who attend the meetings go for a "way to get rid of sins."

Mr. Royall gave a few very vivid details of life in China. His territory was at times in lands where no missionary had ever before. His description of the thousands of people who are born, live and die on the river houses and his story of those living in dugouts in the ground showed how hard it is to reach the Chinese even in Shanghai, where there have been missionaries for so long a time. One of the ways which he found most effective in winning the people was sharing a joke which appealed to their keen sense of humor.

During the meeting the society decided to give a supper in the school building on Tuesday evening, October 25th the proceeds from which are to help meet obligations already contracted.

The performance was good, the selections being of an unusually high order, but a very small number attended the concert.

PAIR GETS 12 MONTHS ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Abe Keener of Addie and Hoyt Hill of Asheville, candy salesmen, were sentenced to serve 12 months each on the roads of Buncombe county, after entering pleas of guilty of transporting liquor in superior court Friday.

They were captured it was shown by deputy sheriff Robinson and some other officers the first of last week in a car containing 8 gallons of liquor with Hill driving and Keener and another man who escaped in the car with him. Both were shown to be former offenders and the 12 month's sentence was imposed. The automobile was ordered advertised and sold, under the provisions of the statute.

Jake Stamey who stated he was going through the country from Yancey county to Ducktown, Tenn. plead guilty to carrying a pistol to operating an automobile while intoxicated and to transporting a small bottle of liquor. He stated that he bought the liquor at an Asheville hotel from a negro porter. The judge sentenced him to serve 6 months on the Buncombe roads; but ordered his car returned to him at the expiration of his sentence.
