

JACKSON CO. JOURNAL

DAN TOMPKINS, Editor

Published Weekly By the JACKSON COUNTY JOURNAL CO

Entered as second class matter at Sylva, N. C.

"Women's Rights Still Advancing"—And the lefts are keeping step.

The winter climate "West of the Balsams" again stands vindicated as the best brand in North Carolina.

It is presumed that in North Carolina public schools, practically all the boys and girls are exposed to education; but we notice that it doesn't always take.

North Carolina is one of the great furniture manufacturing states of the union and not a single failure among the state's furniture plants in two years.

They say that Germany is still unrepentant and prove it by the fact that she ignores Armistice Day. For all that, and all that, we'll bet that every time anybody says war in her presence for several generations to come, she'll tuck her tail between her legs and run like a greyhound.

"Coolidge Calls U. S. Prosperity Severest Test." For once the president is eternally right. The kind of prosperity we have been experiencing would try the bank account of almost anybody.

If the ability to change one's mind is a real test of greatness, this fellow Ford is the greatest of the great. Witness this headline from a daily paper: "Ford Lauds Work, Likes Hoover and Praises Jews." We believe the stories we have been hearing about a shift-gear Ford coming.

MEN GETTING BETTER

Morganton News-Herald. Frequently the subject is discussed as to whether the world is growing better or worse. Along this line it is interesting and heartening to note that the aged bishop of the Moravian church Edward Rondthaler of Winston-Salem, is confident that men are getting better with the years. The 85 year old churchman spoke recently at Charlotte, giving his testimony.

"The movies are not vicious except in spots. The automobile is an agency of more good than evil. Men are soberer than they were 50 years ago when Bishop Rondthaler came to North Carolina. Twenty men are in Bible classes now to one then."

"Incidentally, Bishop Rondthaler said:

"The great product of the state is the North Carolinian himself. He is a thoughtful, kindly and vigorous man. The normal North Carolinian is a rather quiet man. I soon learned to trust him when I came south."

"The growth of industry in the State has not affected him. It has given him advantages of education that he did not have formerly. It does not make him a better man but it makes him better equipped."

Which we deem a fine compliment from a man of lofty spirit and keen understanding who has spent a half century with Tar Heels. In these days when North Carolinians are accused and accused of blatancy, it may be soothing to the riled to know that this splendid personage, who has lived to be rather than to seem great, regards the "normal North Carolinian" as "a rather quiet man" whom he "soon learned to trust" when he came south and who has not given him cause to lose that confidence."

NORTH CAROLINA AND SMITH

There has been developing, for some months, much debate and some bitterness in North Carolina about the candidacy of Governor Smith for the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

The prohibition organizations have been waging in this state, an intensive campaign against the nomination "by either political party," of "any candidate who is not in sympathy with the 18th Amendment and the Volstead Act." These speakers have delivered themselves in churches in almost every town and hamlet in North Carolina.

Bishop Mouzon, head of Methodism in North Carolina, has openly opposed Smith. The New York governor has been denounced from pulpits on the streets and in religious and secular press by leaders of Methodist and Baptist denominations, and has been resolved against in religious assemblies. Senator Simmons, titular head of the Democratic party in the state, has announced his opposition to Smith's candidacy on the ground of "unavailability." All this is interesting to us, because it is in our own state, and is of interest to the country at large because North Carolina is the state that gave both Mr. Cox and Mr. Davis the largest majorities that they received in any state of all our glorious union.

The situation has been intensified, and the lines drawn closer, by the publication in the daily papers, last Sunday of a two page article from the pen of Mr. C. W. Tillett, favoring Governor Smith's nomination by the Democrats, and stating that Smith is the "Great outstanding Democrat of the world." The article by Mr. Tillett is all the more interesting and carries with it all the more weight because the author is 70 years of age, is a former president of the North Carolina Bar Association, is one of the leading Methodist laymen of the state, and is known throughout North Carolina as a man who has ever been an ardent worker in the Methodist church, has fought the fight for prohibition through both good and evil report, and is still both an ardent Methodist and a believer in prohibition.

In his article, Mr. Tillett answers those who oppose Governor Smith because of his membership in the Roman Catholic church by quoting the Third Section of Article Six of the Constitution of the United States: "No religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or trust under the United States."

He then discusses the prohibition phase at great length and asserts that Governor Smith, were he elected president, could not, if he would, repeal either the 18th amendment or the Volstead Act, and asserts that he would enforce the prohibition laws as well as they have ever been enforced by any president and as well as any prospective president would enforce them. Mr. Tillett on this point, quotes president Wilson: "I do not believe that party programs of the highest consequence to the political life of the state and nation ought to be thrust to one side and helplessly embarrassed for long periods of time by making a political issue of a great question that is essentially non-political, non-partisan moral and social in its nature." Mr. Tillett concludes with a warning to the Protestant not to depart from their mission to preach Christ and Him crucified.

"In conclusion," says Mr. Tillett, "Mr. Preacher, may I have a word with you, heart to heart?"

"If you pledge yourself to do all in your power to defeat Governor Smith, if he is nominated as Democratic candidate next year do you realize what a fulfillment of your vow will mean to you and your church?"

"Do you expect to preach sermons opposing Smith and advising your members to support the Republican candidate?"

"If so, do you expect the members of your church who are supporters of Governor Smith tamely to submit to your exhortations of their candidate, which necessarily means condemnation of them?"

"Are you so deaf that you cannot hear the rumblings of discontent at the prospect of such a situation?"

"Are you so blind that you cannot see the awful chasm at the end of the course you propose to pursue?"

"The other day at the opening of the great Methodist Cathedral here in Charlotte, Bishop Mouzon (my most highly-esteemed bishop) gave utterance to this striking though pessimistic statement: 'Our Christian civilization is in the midst of a terrible moral collapse!'"

"If that is true, as I fear it is, do you not agree with me that the church, the chief conservator of Christian civilization, is chiefly responsible for this appalling condition?"

"And if the church is chiefly responsible, do you not agree with me that the ministers, who are necessarily the foremost leaders in the church, must be held chiefly responsible for the failure of the church to conserve our Christian civilization?"

"I am not unmindful of the fact that to all who believe the Pope to be anti-Christ, I will be henchforth, — 'anethema'; and that to all who regard the Volstead Act lex suprema, I will be 'marantha.'"

"A few days ago the calendar of my years rounded out three score years and ten. While mine eye is not dimmed nor my natural force abated nevertheless, I know that the span of my life cannot be much prolonged and I have put far behind me all ambitions political or otherwise."

"Born in the humble home of a circuit-rider, I have been for more than half a century a member of the Methodist church.

"For more than two score years I have battled for prohibition and bear upon me now some scars of the conflict."

"I have no affiliations whatever with the Catholics and, so far as I now recall, I have not a single Catholic among my clients."

"The nomination and election of Al Smith for president means nothing to me, but I sincerely believe him to be a useful, upright, patriotic Christian citizen, and it does mean much to me, grieves me sorely, that my native state that I love, and the church that has fostered me and nourished in me the feeble spark of spiritual life that seemed so often about to expire, are now in grave danger of standing condemned before the bar of righteous, intelligent, fair-minded public opinion for having made unjust and undeserved attacks upon an upright Christian citizen, and for having plunged Church and State into needless conflict that portends no good and can result only in disaster and ruin."

"However much you differ with me or even condemn me for what is here written, I dare repeat that prayer uttered once by the Psalmist David, 'Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; try my reins and my heart.'"

"And I will be found guiltless in God's sight of any sinister or unworthy motive."

THANKS

We take this opportunity to thank the people of Cullowee and elsewhere for their tender care and devoted and unstinted services in the long illness and death of our beloved wife, daughter and sister, Mrs. Ruth Wike Cannon. We can never repay you for your loving kindness, except in grateful remembrance.

Lewis H. Cannon, W. D. Wike and Family.

WANT COLUMN

The rate for classified ads in this column is 10c. per line for each insertion, averaging six (6) words to a line.

WANTED—NO. 1 IRISH POTATOES, any quantity. Queen's Fruit Store.

FOR SALE—Home made jeans, gray mixed. Also some yarn thread. Write Robert Potts, Bessie, N. C. 2t

STRAIGHT SALARY—$35 per week and expenses. Man or woman with rig to introduce Egg Producer. Eureka Mfg. Co. East St. Louis, Ill.

BEAUTIFUL ASSORTMENT, Finest quality draperies, household linens and dress goods, hosiery and lingerie—displayed by appointment. Write Iva Lee Nations, Whittier North Carolina.

FARMING—Western Carolina's best methods and opportunities described in new farm Journal. Sample free. Half year subscription ten cents. Hollowell's Mountain Farmer, Hendersonville, N. C.

FOR SALE—25 Half Hampshire pigs $5.00 each. 35 shoats and grown hogs priced to sell. Address Rass Duvall, Aquone, N. C.

FOR SALE—Yellow Jersey Cow R. C. Snyder, Beta, N. C. 11-10-2ts-pd.

FOR SALE—Barred Rock Pullets.—A. J. Dils.

FOUND—Wedding ring, on Train No. 18, September 2nd, date 1921.

LOST—Black and Yellow Tan Dog, 5 years old, kindly frosty nose. Please notify finder and receive reward. J. W. Swayngim, Cowarts, N. C. Jackson County—11 17 3tp.

$25.00 REWARD for evidence for the conviction of the person or persons tearing down and destroying Road Signs of The New Jackson Hotel.

The New Jackson Hotel By J. S. Higdon

Your tongue tells when you need

Coated tongue, dry mouth, bad breath, muddy skin, groggy nerves and sour stomach suggest its use.

Announcement

I Will Be at the COWARD HOUSE SYLVA, N. C. Dec. 1st to Dec. 21st

Anyone with any Chronic Ailment will do well to investigate my treatment.

For Chronic Appendicitis, Paralysis and after effects of same, High Blood-pressure, Headaches and Nervousness it has no equal. See me the FIRST week here.

DR. E. E. SMITH

CHIROPRACTIC NEURECTARY (NERVE STRETCHING) At Coward House, Sylva, N. C. For Reference, see Mr. T. Hastings, Sylva, N. C.

NOTICE

This is to notify all parties that I have this day purchased the Tuckasee Bus Line between Sylva and Rich Mountain, N. C. and all debts existing against said company will be paid by Early Wood, and all debts created after Oct. 10th, 1927 will be paid by Herman Martin, the busline will be operated under the same name. Tuckasee Bus Line.

By Early Wood, former owner
Hery Martin, present owner
Witness: Jane Coward.—11 17 4t.

RHEUMATISM

While in France with the American Army I obtained a noted French prescription for the treatment of Rheumatism and Neuritis. I have given this to thousands with wonderful results. The prescription cost me nothing. I ask nothing for it. I will mail it if you will send me your address. A postal will bring it. Write today. PAUL CASE, Dept. F 237, Brockton Massachusetts.

NOTICE OF SALE

UNDER DEED IN TRUST

by virtue of the power of sale contained in a deed of trust executed by J. W. Bridges and Mary Bridges, his wife on the third day of March 1925 to secure the indebtedness therein to E. A. Reagan which said deed in trust is recorded in the office of register of deeds for Jackson county North Carolina in book 94 page 189 and default having been made in payment of both principal and interest on demand of the holder of said note the undersigned trustee will on Monday, November 28, at 12 o'clock Noon; offer for sale at the court:

House door in the town of Sylva, N. C. to the highest bidder for cash the following piece of land lying in Qualla township Jackson county, North Carolina being the home now occupied by J. W. Bridges containing 25 acres more or less.

Beginning on a Spanish oak on top of ridge in Joe Jordans line and runs south west a straight to a hickory on top of ridge thence with top of ridge thence with top of ridge to a rock corner J. L. Floyds corner, thence south to public road thence with public road to a rock in Jim Hyatt's line; thence easterly direction with Jim Hyatt's line and Public road to a branch thence up the branch to the forks Joe Jordans' line thence to the beginning.

J. H. Reagan, Trustee.

This the 24 day of October, 1927.

"Edmund Breese is right. Luckies give complete enjoyment," says DeForest

The well-known trainer and boxing expert explains his preference to Evelyn Hoey, Musical Comedy Star, as they chat before the Buckingham Fountains in Chicago, Ill.

MADE OF THE CREAM OF THE TOBACCO CROP

You, too, will find that LUCKY STRIKES give the greatest pleasure—Mild and Melow, the finest cigarettes you ever smoked. Made of the choicest tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"IT'S TOASTED"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

Edmund Breese, Well-known Actor, writes:

"We who act owe our audiences perfect voices—we must keep our throats in condition. Like others, I have solved the problem of smoking by adopting Lucky Strikes because they protect the throat and give complete enjoyment."

Edmund Breese

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

Camel

One of life's great pleasures is smoking

Camels give you all of the enjoyment of choice tobaccos. Is enjoyment good for you? You just bet it is.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.