BEAUTY A TOWN ASSET

In spite of the apparent commercialism of the age in which we live, it is evident to any observer that the American people are rapidly developing a greater appreciation of the beautiful. This is not confined to the wealthier classes, but extends to the great masses in the towns and villages and in the rural districts.

New towns and new sections of the older ones are being laid out with wider streets, with provision for larger lawns, more trees, shrubbery and flowers and a more attractive setting generally.

Recently built houses show better architecture and greater harmony with their surroundings, while unsightly yard fences have largely disappeared. The net result of all these modern developments is beauty. And aside from the satisfaction which it affords the eye, it pays in dollars and cents.

Beautiful cities, towns and villages attract people. They attract tourists, and they attract trade. It is natural that a person selecting a trading center will choose a town that is beautiful and clean in preference to one that is unsightly and dirty, if other conditions are anyway near equal.—Ex.

One of the best flocks of poultry in Cabarrus county is kept in a house made of sacks with straw loft. The house cost $25 and will take care of 250 birds. The straw loft gives protection from heat and cold.

Over 2,000 bushels of lespedeza seed has been saved by farmers, of Stanly county and will be seeded on small grain in February.

A group of farmers in Chowan county recently ordered 86 tons of limestone for use on their lands this spring.
