NOTED LECTURER
TUESDAY EVENING.

DR. J. M. ROWLAND

Dr. J. M. Rowland, noted author, world traveler and editor of the Richmond Christian Advocate, will deliver a lecture in the Lyric Theatre next Tuesday evening, July 21 at 8 o'clock. It is not definitely known what will be the subject of the lecture, but it is thought that it will be, "Four Times to the Holy Land."

Perhaps Dr. Rowland is best known to the people of this community as the author of "Blue Ridge Breezes." Those who have laughed and cried their way through this interesting volume will not have to be urged to take advantage of this opportunity to hear this gifted speaker. Suffice it to say that Sylva and Jackson county will have a rare opportunity to hear a man who is an eloquent orator, a fanatic, and a Christian gentleman.

There will be no formal admission charge and the entire community is invited to hear this distinguished native son of the Old North State.

METHODIST CHURCH

The services which have been planned for the Methodist church of Sylva Sunday will be rather unusual. The Sunday school and the entire congregation will go out into God's great out of doors and worship among the templed hills.

The place selected for the service and which was announced last Sunday is Patterson Springs on No. 19 Highway, some 8 miles west of Bryson City. The Sunday school and congregation will assemble at the church from 9 to 9:15 a. m. All who have a car or cars are asked to bring them to the church so that ample provision may be made for any who may not have one. One truck will be provided to carry the baskets which the ladies are requested to bring well filled, and another one will carry some of the larger boys and girls.

Mr. Clemmer, who will return from Camp Daniel Boone with the Boy Scout troop Saturday will be in charge of the program of worship. The pastor will speak on some theme in keeping with the character of the service. One special feature of the service will be the congregational and class singing.

In the evening there will be preaching at the Methodist church in Dillsboro, Rev. P. W. Tucker, the presiding elder will be the speaker.

LOCAL TROOP BOY SCOUTS CAMPING

The Scouts of Troop No. 1 are having a real time at Camp Daniel Boone. The daily program consists of many activities. There are three wholesome meals, games, canoeing, swimming, instruction in the various sports and with just enough work sandwiched in to make the boys appreciate still more the pleasurable activities.

Patrols vie with each other at work in games, in keeping their tents tidy and in personal cleanliness and neatness. (Some parents no doubt will take this with a grain of salt.)

None of the Scouts have "Killed a Bear" but Scoutmaster Clemmer and Scouts Frank Askey and Earl Collins killed a Rattlesnake as they neared the caverns of the camp and thus entered into the heroic traditions that center about the name of that good Scout Daniel Boone. The boys will return Saturday, considerably tanned, but much the better for the fine experience which they are having in camp.

CHILD DIES

R. L. Bryson, the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Bryson of Cullowhee fell on sleep Saturday July 7, 1928. The friends and neighbors of the bereaved parents extend sympathy and commend them to God for comfort and solace in this time of grief and loss.

BALSAM

Mr. A. F. Arrington received notice that his brother, Sam Arrington died in an Asheville hospital Sunday night. Mr. Arrington was working in a furniture factory in Asheville and was accidentally hurt about two months ago, and was taken to the hospital. The remains were brought to his home in Hazelwood, Monday, and interment in Sanoock cemetery Tuesday. He leaves a wife and eleven children.

North Carolina's first Farm and Home Week and 26th annual meeting of the State Farmer's Convention

FOUR LIVESTOCK DAYS AT FARM CONVENTION

Raleigh, N. C., July 18 — Pigs, dairy cattle, beef animals, work stock and sheep will occupy an important part in the program of farm discussions to be held at State College during Farm and Home Week, July 23 to 27.

Tuesday, July 24, will be swine day with W. W. Shay as chairman. Experimental results in feeding hogs actual results in feeding by farmers and late information about the great increase in growing hogs for market will be three of the important matters discussed on this day. Two county agents who have had much experience in swine feeding work during the past year will lead two other discussions.

Wednesday, July 25, will be dairy day with John A. Arey in the chair. On this day farmers and specialists will tell of actual experiences with dairy animals. R. L. Shuford of Catawba county is on the program to tell how to develop a good herd and it is admitted, generally, that he has the right to talk with authority. H. A. Patten of New Bern will also discuss some local feeding problems and experts will discuss other phases of the dairy industry. The day will end with a judging demonstration.

Thursday, July 26, is beef cattle and workstock day with Earl Hostetler as chairman. How pure bred beef bulls are being used in Ashe county will be one of the interesting discussions as will those having to do with the present status of this industry in the South. H. L. Young, field man for the Hore Association of America, will discuss the present situation as regards workstock and will also demonstrate multiple hitches in the afternoon.

Earl Hostetler is also chairman of Sleep-day on Friday, July 27. In addition to four important lectures on the subject there will be demonstrations in slaughtering and dressing the animals as well as in drenching and judging lambs. In the afternoon a trip of inspection will be made to the college flock when the experimental work with sheep will be observed.

BUYS WAYNESVILLE FURNITURE PLANTS

Waynesville Mountaineer.
R. C. Robbins, for several years connected with the Star Furniture Co., of Lenoir, has bought the Haywood Furniture Company at Waynesville and the Waynesville Furniture Company at Hazelwood, and began operations Monday as the Robbins Furniture Company. Mr. Robbins has already arrived in Waynesville to take active charge of the operations of the two plants.

Mr. Robbins has been negotiating with the owners of the two properties here for several months for these two plants.

One plant will manufacture dining room furniture while the other makes a line of bedroom furniture. These lines with improvements will be continued under the new management and ownership.
