IN MEMORIAM HURIAH BROWN

The passing of Uncle Huriah Brown, one of the oldest citizens of Cullowhee township, on the morning of Tuesday, February the fifth, removes a familiar and beloved figure from the midst of us. Those who have these years watched him in his home life; who have seen his venerable figure as he rode over the highway or as he strode along some hillside footpath; who have chatted with him about crops, politics or religion; who have come in contact with him in a business way, or who have in any other way come to know him, realize that a many-sided and versatile citizen is gone. He will be very much missed by all who knew him.

Mr. Brown had nearly reached the eighty-seventh mile stone of life, but was quite vigorous and active till a few days before his death. His had been a long life of hard labor of courageous battling with life's adverse conditions. He had been a soldier in Lee's Army, having joined one of the earliest companies formed from Jackson County. Following the four years of civil war, he had his share in the fierce struggle to rebuild and restore what the South had lost.

Mr. Brown has taken an active interest in whatever affected the welfare of his county and community. He was interested in education, good roads, politics, state and national, and to the day of his death was a loyal and contributing member of the Baptist Church at Cullowhee.

The funeral services were held at the Brown residence at the head of Long Branch, where he had lived for many years. The services were simple and impressive. Taking part in the services at the home were the following: Rev. L. K. Stafford, his pastor; Rev. J. G. Murray, of Sylva; Rev. A. C. Queen, an intimate of Mr. Brown's; Professor R. L. Madison and Dr. H. T. Hunter. The personal tributes emphasized Mr. Brown's friendliness, his interest in public affairs, his excellent worth as a husband, father, neighbor, citizen and Christian. Special mention was made of the fine family of children reared by him and Mrs. Brown. That, is, after all, one of the greatest tests of a man's worth. A good family of children speak more for a man than property, office or public acclaim.

Mr. Brown was buried in the Rogers cemetery, near the residence of the late Judge Davies. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Brown; by two daughters, Mrs. L. A. Buchanan, of Sylva, and Miss Emily Brown of Cullowhee; and by four sons, M. C. Brown of Cullowhee, Robert Brown of Cullowhee, B. M. Brown of Spruce Pine and Jesse Brown of Sylva.

AT REST

On Tuesday night, Jan. 8, 1929, while all the world was wrapped in the still of night, the death Angel went to the home of Harley Green of Greens Creek and gently laying its hand on little Carl, their much beloved son, bade him follow to a clime where there is no darkness. He was almost five years old, quite young when the frost of an early death blighted his life forever—no not forever, for the flower too sick for earth was gathered by the Lord, from the waste of life to a heavenly garden.

A precious one has gone from us. A voice we loved in silence. There is a vacant place in the home that can't be filled.

Physicians were called in, and all was done that loving hands could do but all in vain. A bright sweet shone lived flower, but not without a fragrant and blessed influence; perhaps the light of this little life will shine brighter from the portals of glory than it could have done in an earthly home. The reapers gather some roses buds as well as full blown flowers—some ere the dew has gone as was on Monday and eventide. The Master has need for them all. Dear little Carl! Sweet obedient child; thou art not dead but sleepeth. A heavenly childhood is thine. Angels are thy companions, and Heaven is thy home. The funeral services were held at the home, conducted by Rev. L. K. Green. The remains were laid to rest amid the sobs and tears of relatives.
