EVERYBODY SHOULD ATTEND COUNTY LIVESTOCK SHOW

(By C. W. TILSON)

The value of any county fair or show is determined by the interest the people take in showing their stock and the number of people attending the show to meet the folks all over the county as well as to see and talking good stock.

Good livestock in the show makes folks want better stock for their own. This has been true of this for generations. Through the show our people first saw various breeds of cattle, sheep and poultry. The superior animals they saw in the show made them want such quality animals on their farms because they could readily make more profit could be made growing such animals. And ever since we have had some good stock in this county everywhere been showing it to encourage others to grow livestock of the same kind. And it's lots of livestock that makes prosperous the business people of Sylva.

These facts and the value of livestock show to Jackson County. They have cooperated to the promotion of this show, October 1st and 2nd by $500.00 cash for premiums and provided show pens as well as some good entertainment for every day. The livestock will be shown in the Love Building adjoining J. B. Ensley's house and the poultry in the building of the Jackson County Poultry Club.

The Superintendant of the Beef Cattle, Dairy Sheep, Hog, and Poultry departments are going to prepare and everything ready for caring for, watering and showing the highest class way. Numbers of people have already said they will bring some good cattle, sheep, poultry here for the show. Others will come.

It's up to every farmer and stock raiser to call themselves half way ready to make the effort necessary to attend the show and take interest in it.

Let's talk the show to every neighbor and do all we can to get the people of Jackson County to attend the show and take an active interest in it.

Thursday will be taken up with the show and getting the show in comfortable places, but will be a lively day with the placing of the livestock and the fox hunt in the morning and a convention at 2 in the afternoon with special features. Then will see all the stock show-ribbons and owners' names, and Indian ball game in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Already see from the banners in front of Sylva business that every farm man, child, as well as other folks in Sylva for every day of the show and Poultry Show. Let's get ready and have a good time to see the Livestock and Poultry Show and a much bigger boosting Jackson County always.

THE WEEK

(BY DAN TOMPKINS.)

One man from Massachusetts, one from New York and two from New Jersey, were sentenced to serve from 17 to 20 years in the State's prison, after a jury had convicted seven men of the murder of Policeman Adersholt, in the troubles growing out of the Gastonia textile strike. Two Gastonia men were sentenced for from 12 to 15 years, and another got off with a five to seven years sentence. All appealed. Now, provided of course, that the sentences are ever executed, if the members of the mob that murdered Mrs. Wiggins, and the men responsible for the Marion Massacre are convicted and sent to the penitentiary North Carolina justice will be fully vindicated, and none can deny that North Carolina law is no respecter of persons Judge Barnhill and the Mecklenburg jury appear, at this distance, to have done their full duty. It is for other juries and other judges to finish the chapter.

One of the most distinguished assemblages ever to meet in the world, gathered, Monday evening in Dearborn to pay tribute to Thomas A. Edison, the grand old man of science, on the fiftieth anniversary of the first incandescent light. The world has gone far, since that day, 50 years ago, in the realm of science; but, perhaps, no man of any age has contributed more to the physical comfort and well-being of the race than has Mr. Edison and no one will envy the grand old man the tributes of the world.

The French cabinet resigned, after a defeat of the government by a coalition in the parliament. This is an example of real democracy that they have in France and Britain. Here we have to put up with lame ducks long after the people are ready to repudiate them.

The Administration has met defeat on every hand, so far, in the Senate battle over the passage of the tariff bill submitted by the house, with the approval of the White House. Maybe, the tariff bill, when it is finally passed, if it ever is, won't be such a bad one, after all. We shall wait and see. The policy of the government should be toward a gradual tariff reduction, so as not to throw our whole economic system out of joint, as we work to abolition of the artificial barriers that have taxed the many for the benefit of the few, and have militated against America attaining her position of dominance in the trade of the world. Few people, when they figure the tax burdens of the country, take into the accounting the tariff that taxes money out of the pockets of everybody in the country, the largest tax of all, and which does not go into the common offer; but swells the bank accounts of the privileged few.

Another fool has started across the Atlantic in a small monoplane, trying to emulate Lidbergh. Why try to fly across the ocean in a land plane? And, suppose he does make it across alive, what of it? What contribution has he made that will in any way benefit the race? There is a vast difference in bravery in a good cause, and in being a plain fool.

The Virginia Conference resolved that the General Conference should require that bishops assigned to Mission Conferences should remain on their fields. It is for Bishop Cannon to decide, with his animadversive mind, whether there was anything personal in the action of the Virginia Methodist brethren.

The stock market in New York broke with a tremendous crash, Saturday; but has somewhat recovered. Just another shearing of the people, and nothing to become greatly excited about.

On next Tuesday the Virginia voters will elect their governor and other State officials. Bishop Cannon, who has been trying ardently to inject the Smith-Raskob-Prohibition issue into the campaign, has left the scene; and most observers predict that the regular Democratic candidates will win in a walk, over the Anti-Smith-Republican Fusionists. The defeat of the regular candidates in Virginia would be a terrible blow to the Southern Democracy. Last fall the

Stikeleather In Favor Completing Highway

On Tuesday evening, members of the delegation that last week went to Raleigh to appear before the State Highway Commission in the interest of the early completion of the paving of highway 106 to Cullowhee, reported that the Highway Commission gave them a most respectful and sympathetic hearing, and that their efforts were ably seconded by Mr. James G. Stikeleather, commissioner for this district.

While no promises were made, and while the emergency fund for next year, which it was believed until a short time ago would be used on this project, was apportioned to 28 to be used between Highlands and Sapphire, the delegation was led to believe that the entire commission, especially Governor Doughton, the chairman, and Mr. Stikeleather, is very much interested in completing 106 by Western Carolina Teachers College.

Since the return of the delegation from Raleigh, Mr. Stikeleather has called Mr. Thomas A. Cox, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and also chairman of the delegation, and again expressed his interest in the Cullowhee road and his determination to complete it at the earliest possible moment that funds can be made available for the purpose.

Mr. H. R. Queen, speaking for the committee, reported that the Highway Commissioner, Mr. Stikeleather, and the county authorities are working in harmony in trying to devise means to extend the present paving project on 106 from the limits of the Town of Sylva to the intersection of 106 with Highway No. 10, and that Mr. Stikeleather is very much interested in the matter of completing the paving on into Sylva.

A resolution strongly commending Mr. Stikeleather for his efforts in the interest of completing Highway 106, and expressing the appreciation of the county for his efforts in behalf of Jackson county highways, was introduced by Mr. M. Buchanan, and was unanimously adopted by the meeting.
