

JACKSON COUNTY JOURNAL
DAN TOMPKINS, Editor

Published Weekly by The JACKSON COUNTY JOURNAL CO

Entered as second class matter at Sylva, N. C.

Howdy, folks! We're glad you came to town.

The wall on Wall Street is where the small speculators butt their heads

All the trappings of a big fair except the pumpkins and the undesirable mid-way attractions.

If Al Smith had been elected, last autumn, we know who would be taking the blame for the stock market panic.

A few months ago the tom-toms were beating and the bugles proclaimed the "Hoover Market". Whose name does it go by, now?

Look around the Sylva Shops and see if you can't just about find what you want to buy, and that you can buy it as cheaply, quality considered, and with a deal more satisfaction than you can order from the mail order houses, or get by burning up a lot of gas going to a city.

It is really nothing personal to us, as North Carolina has now become one of Uncle Sam's biggest revenue producing States; but we just naturally resent Mr. Grundy's remark that the small revenue producing States have too much say so about passing a tariff bill. We always knew that Massachusetts and Pennsylvania manufacturers thought that they should be allowed to run the country to suit their own fancy; but Mr. Grundy is the first one we have ever heard of who would admit it, publicly. It seems as though this would be enough warning to the South and West, that so long as the same crowd is kept in power, we just don't belong. We knew that the South was considered as still being out of the Union; but the bucolic West was on the other side in the War Between the States.
The War Between the States, in reality, is not over. It was originally a struggle for economic and political supremacy, regardless of the mush and sentiment, and it still continues.
Government by right of wealth is the theory of the Grundyites; and they have just about had their way about it since the beginning of the present decade. And yet our fathers fancied that they were establishing a democracy in America.

SYLVA HI CLASSES ORGANIZE

Realizing that effective work can be done only through united effort, the classes of Sylva Central High School have been organized. The primary reason for organizing was to create class spirit. In this way it is hoped to join all the classes in arousing better school spirit, and more interest in all phases of school work.

A reporter has been chosen by each class to report all news within the class. The following reports give the officers of the various classes:

Eleventh grade, no report.

Junior Class: President, Evelyn Clayton; vice-president, Edgar Moody secretary, Mack Hooper; Treasurer, Earl Moody; Committee, Lela Faye Parris, Mary George Howell, Mack Higdon.

The Barker Class, one section of the ninth grade: President, John A.
Parris, Jr., Vice-president, Margaret Wilson; Secretary and Treasurer, Pauline Hill; Committee, Margaret Queen, Jean Miller. The members of the class feel themselves indebted to the Parent-Teacher Association for giving them Mrs. John A. Parris as grade mother.

The other section of the ninth grade, known as section A, elected the following to lead them: President, Bertice Fenn; vice-president, Sara Lee Clayton; secretary, Helen Allison Treasurer, Jack Arrington. The class hopes, under its new officers, to have hopes, under its new officers, to have

A section of the eighth grade did not report.

B section elected the following officers: President, Kathryn McLain; vice-president, Dalona Buchanan; secretary, Madge Wilson; treasurer, T. K. Guthrie; reporter, Margaret Hall. Mrs F. N. McLain is class mother.

Each class would be pleased to have the other visit the class and the school.

JOHN'S CREEK LOSES GAME.

The John's Creek boys lost their first basket-ball game to East Laporte, Saturday, the score being 8 to 2.

A. AT JOHN'S CREEK SCHOOL.

The John's Creek Parent-Teacher Association met on Friday evening, Oct. 18. A dramatization was presented by the first grade, a song by the third grade, and an address by Mrs.
Carrie Bryson rounded out the program.

Mrs. Bryson mentioned the many different ways in which the association might benefit both the school and the community. She suggested programs to be given and enumerated the possibilities of good to be accomplished.

After the program, cake and ice cream was served by the teachers.

The association at John's Creek is reported to be composed of wide-awake and interested members, and the people behind the movement hope that many more patrons of the school will become interested and attend the meetings
