WELFARE BOARD SEEKS PUBLIC AID

The Welfare Board of the county has issued an appeal to the people for clothing for the unfortunate of the county, through Mr. A. D. Parker, commissioner of Welfare.

Mr. Parker, in making the appeal, to the people in The Journal, said Welfare Board of Jackson County requested me to ask the people of the county for an offering of discarded clothing, either, children's, men's or women's being acceptable. There are people in Jackson county who will be glad to get these clothes, and who actually need them, and are suffering from cold for want of them.

"Please get all discarded clothes in a bundle, and I will call or send for them. We will make an effort next Tuesday, Dec., 10, to collect clothing in Sylva. Notice will be given later of the collection dates at other places. Look through your old clothes, and see what you can give."

JOHN'S CREEK

On last Tuesday evening the six members of the John's Creek school were dinner guests of Mrs. Woodie Hooper. Soon after arriving at the Hooper home the guests were invited into the attractive dining room, where a beautiful dinner was enjoyed.

Hon. W. H. Smith and his father, Mr. John H. Smith, visited in Asheville, last week.

The following members of the John's Creek faculty spent the Thanksgiving holidays at their respective homes: Mr. Fulton Thomason, Andrews, Mrs. Janie Brown, Cullowhee, Miss Janie Hooper, Speedwell, and Miss Dixie Henson, Willits. The Misses Broome did not go to their homes.

Miss Christine Lovedahl, who is working in Sylva, spent a recent week end at the home of her father, Mr. Oscar Lovedahl.

Mr. Robert Ball spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents in Bryson City.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Huf Nicholson, Pickens, S. C.

Mr. Jonathan E. Brown of Beta visited his parents during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Miss Marie Stephens has been sick at her home for the past week; but is now able to be back in school at Cullowhee.

On Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 27, the basket ball team of the John's Creek school played a very interesting game with the Cullowhee Scouts. The game was called by Rev. M. Q. Tattle of Cullowhee and Prof. Thomason, and closed with the score 35 to 13 in favor of John's Creek.

CASHIERS SCHOOL GAVE PLAY

On the 16th there was given at Cashiers, a play, "The Arizona Cowboy". This is said to be among the best plays given in this section. The house was well filled, and door receipts amounted to $34.30, which is being used to pay for the installation of the wiring and supplies for the electric light system, that has recently been put in the school building. The wiring was done free of charge by the principal of the school and students. The current was supplied by kindness of Dr. Van Epp, while the generator in Mr. Pell's and Mr. Parker's electric plant was out of commission. The school and community are appreciative of the generous spirit that helped to make the lighting of the school building possible.

The play was a school and community affair, using the following students: Lillian Bradley, Katy Dover (Hortense Pell), and Cleveinad Bannerman, and one teacher, Miss Madge Dillard, and G. C. Cooper as coach. Mrs. Joe L. Wright, Messrs Clinton Parker, Junior Pell, Sam Hunter, Eugene Bryson, and Tom Dillard, Jr. were from the immediate community of Cashiers. These young folks acquitted themselves splendidly and the play was well received.

The school is moving along smoothly and splendidly notwithstanding the much rain and mud on hand regularly. It is a distinct shame that for the want of fixing two or three short bad places there are several students just simply cannot get to school. Here's hoping for the future!

Thank the editor
Respectfully yours,
G. C. Cooper,

Local Team To Meet W. C. T. C. In Cage Contest Friday Night

Sylva basket ball fans will have the opportunity once more, of observing an aggregation of old favorites, when the boys of the Western Carolina Teachers College meet Sylva's all-star quint a team sponsored by the Sylva Taxi Company, Friday night on the High School court.

Arthur Fineannon, probably the most popular player who ever wore a Sylva uniform will lead the Yodelers in the battle, and is expected to bring memories of the past with his sensational shots at the basket and superior floor work.

The Taxi Company will present such stars as "Mark" Watson, who in his two years with the Cullowhee team, was one of the outstanding forwards of this part of the State. Doc Queen or Leon Sutton, both of Sylva High, will fill in the other forward position. Harold Grundstaff, who is expected to make a letter at the University of North Carolina this year will start at center. Loy Bryson will start at guard, with Charlie Bymgarner, former S. C. player, and who for the past three seasons has been playing with a team of the Goodyear Rubber Company, at Akron. Coach Plennions' lineup has not yet been announced, but is expected to present a fast, scrappy team, that will offer the local team plenty of opposition.

Immediately before the boys' game the W. C. T. C. girls will play the girls of Sylva High.

FIVE DAYS WORK WOULD COMPLETE HIGHWAY WORK

The paving project on Highway 106 between Sylva and Cullowhee is finished to a short distance on the Sylva side of teh Love Hill, and but five more working days are needed to complete it to the corporate limits of Sylva.

The Wilson Construction Company is pouring concrete every day that the weather permits.

The work of laying the paving would have been finished and the road open for traffic had we enjoyed the usual autumn weather.

It has been erroneously reported that the last 800 feet that was paved froze, and had to be taken up. The weather did turn bitterly cold immediately after the concrete was poured; but the contractor protected and saved his work, by covering the new pavement with dirt and straw, and by building big fires near it.

If favorable weather will hold good for five days, we will yet have our road open before Christmas.

Jackson People Urged To Buy Christmas Goods At Home

The Journal, in all seriousness, urges the people to look over the offerings of the shops in the home town, before going away to do Christmas buying.

We believe that the shops here are most creditable. We know that they are equal to those of most towns of this size, and would do credit to towns many times this size.

We believe that you can come as near getting full value for your dollar here as you can anywhere, and that it will buy more here than in most towns.

Decide on what you want for those Christmas presents, and carry your wants to your garage, your druggist, your jeweler, your furniture man, your hardware dealer, your clothier, your haberdasher, your department store. The chances are that you will find just what you want. If it is something unusual, tell your own merchant about it, and let him get it for you.

That is the sensible way to do the thing, and it saves time trouble, and in many cases, money.

Carrie was sick three or four months, and bore much suffering. She was very patient; and she faithfully held her trust in God. She prayed to get well that she might be with her children; but it was God's will that she enter into eternity, and to His will we must be submissive; but we do pray that her motherly spirit may be near her children in their coming up. May their aim in life be such that they will strive to meet mother in a better world.

To them and the entire family we pray God's companionship in their

Rodgers Addresses Rotarians Here in Inter-City Meeting

Dr. W. Floyd Rodgers, of Asheville, was the principal speaker at the Inter-City Rotary Meeting, held Tuesday evening in the dining room of the Sylva Methodist church.

Dr. Rodgers, one of the best known Episcopal ministers in this section, delivered a profound lecture, interspersed with rare humor, that kept his hearers amused as well as much interested.

District Governor Ernest Wittiers, of the Waynesville Club was a guest of honor, and stated that the meeting was one of the best inter-city meetings that he had ever been privileged to attend.

The meeting was called to order by President S. W. Enloe of the Sylva Club, who introduced Thomas A. Cox. Mr. Cox delivered a pleasing address of welcome, to which Dr. J. Rufus McCracken, of Waynesville, Lyles Harris, of Franklin, and Clyde Jarrett, of Andrews, responded.

President Enloe then turned the meeting over to Dan Tompkins, as toastmaster and he presented Dr. Rodgers, and directed the stunts that had been worked out by the entertainment committee composed of C. W. Denning, C. B. Thompson, Roy Allison, Dan Moore, Dr. Kermit Chapman, and Harry Buchanan.

The delightful dinner was served by the ladies of the Missionary Societies of the Methodist and Baptist churches.

TUCKASEIGE DEMOCRAT
December 4, 1889

The Store House and Lot in Sylva formerly occupied by P. B. Brown, was sold at auction in Webster, Monday, and purchased by Capt. F. H. Leatherwood, representing Sanford, Chamberlin and Albers, of Knoxville for $125.00

Married Dec. 1, 1889 at the residence of the mother of the bride, on Cullowhee, Mr. W. J. Miller of Addie and Miss Sallie V. Rogers, J. A. Wild Esq, officiating.

Near the forks of the Tuckaseige river in this county is a very high mountain known as Cedar Cliff. During the summer just passed, a heavy slide of earth and rock occurred near the top, carrying everything before it to a considerable distance down the mountain. It looks as if the whole top of the mountain on the south side had been torn up by the explosion of some interior force.

The project of consolidating the Australian continent into one powerful State is slowly gaining ground. Within two years a definite plan for founding the new nation will be forwarded to the Colonial office for indorsement of the crown.

Mr. John H. Bryson left for his home in Texas, last Monday, accompanied by his mother and brother.

A force of hands, under the energetic supervision of Gen. Hampton is engaged in clearing out the underbrush on the lands of Mr. Macomb, which has recently been divided into building lots. A beautiful grove will be left, and we vote for a big picnic there next spring. Two lots laid off have already been sold. It will be a beautiful addition to the town.

Mr. Jno. N. Meomb, Jr, of Branchport, N. Y., arrived last Thursday, and part of the time since he came he has spent in surveying and dividing into lots a portion of his land on the north side of Scott's Creek. Some twenty or more lots were laid off, one of which was sold to Mr. J. W. Divalbiss, who will build a residence upon it at once.

J. W. BAILEY WILL OPPOSE SIMMONS

It is only six months until June. That is the month in which the primaries are held in North Carolina; and we think we see some lively times in the offing.

A few weeks ago Cam Morrison, than whom there is none than whom, when it comes to a scrap, threw down the gauntlet and declared war upon the Senior Senator, stating that he will support any good man who will bid for Senator Simmons' toga.

Ever since the unpleasantness of 1928 the politically wise in the State have had an eye cocked toward Raleigh, and an ear to the door of the office of Josiah William Bailey, attorney, Sunday School teacher, and politician.

Opposition to Senator Simmons, and a friendliness to Bailey's candidacy, should he indeed become a candidate, have somehow seemed to go along together. An there has been a strong undercurrent that has been demanding that somebody oppose Mr. Simmons.

Other names have been mentioned, Chief Justice Stacy, Judge Brogden, and some others. Now Mr Bailey has broken the long silence, by saying that he is against his old chieftain, Senator Simmons, and for whoever the party wants to oppose him. His position is that he will support Stacy, Brogden, or any other strong candidate, as against Simmons, and if no other candidate offers, that he will make the race himself.

The Journal never takes sides, or rarely, in a primary fight; but we are against Simmons, the same as we have always been. We believe that either Chief Justice Stacy or Mr. Bailey would make a more suitable candidate, and would better represent the real North Carolina in the Senate.

Coming down to county affairs, there has been less talk about candidates, this close to the primary, than we ever remember hearing before.

The Democrats have had two are talking less about candidates, and more about choosing men to lead the battle, who can weld the ir party into a fighting unit.

From the Republican side, we have heard no rumblings. They being entrenched, it is, according to the rules of the game, as played in America, their move.
