SYLVA GIRL IS PLAY AUTHOR AND DIRECTOR

Miss Caroline Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rhodes, who is a student at Transylvania College for Women, has recently written and directed a play, "Unmasked", which was presented by the Sophomore Class and received much favorable comment, both in college and legitimate circles.

The play, "Unmasked", a three act play, was presented in the chapel Saturday night by the Sophomore Class. Caroline Rhodes wrote and directed the play, displaying her originality in composition, and a new ability in directing.

Miss Rhodes was recently elected president of her class at G. C. W., and is also a member, as press correspondent, of the National Student Federation of America.

PLAN TO BUILD REA GETS FINE DAM IN HAMBURG AND SUSPENDED 6 MOS. SENTENCE

A big power development, contemplating a minimum hydro-electric power of 500 horse power, a lake covering 1060 acres, is being projected in the Hamburg basin, and at the High Falls of the Tuckaloogie. It was officially announced here today.

The Nantahala Power and Light Company has secured options on the High Falls, Onion Falls, and a greater part of the reservoir. A corps of engineers is in the field this week, checking the surveys that have already been made, and if they are proved to be correct, it is planned to construct a dam some 100 feet high, just above the Onion Falls, backing water to the bridge, at Charles Jennings' place on Hurricane Creek, at the foot of the Blue Ridge; and to convey the water through a conduit down the gorge to a power house below the High Falls.

OPEN NEW GARAGE

Rufus Deitz and Frank Terrell, two well known motor mechanics of Sylva, have just opened a new garage and automobile repair shop in the new brick building, just completed by Dr. D. D. Hooper, at the end of the Scott's Creek bridge.

The new firm will be known as the D. and T. Motor Company, and will repair all makes of motor vehicles.

SCOUTS GO TO CULLOWHEE

On Friday evening of this week Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts of Sylva, will go to Cullowhee, putting on its regular weekly program at an inter-troop meeting in the college gymnasium. It is anticipated that there will be other scouts, and a number of friends present.

One feature of the program will be a vocational talk on life insurance classification by Dean Ernest Beck.

Misses Annie Ford and Mary Howell, and Mr. Glenn Robinson of Willis, and Mr. Carl Hoyle, of Cullowhee, were Qualla visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Battle was guest of Mr. D. C. Hughes.

Mr. S. P. Hunt spent the week end with friends at Proctor.

Mr. J. E. Freeman of Sylva was in Qualla, Monday.

Mrs. J. L. Simon visited relative at Barker's Creek.

Mrs. A. M. Gibson visited among friends, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Freeman returned to Sylva, to visit Mr. and Mrs. James Freeman.

THE WEEK

(By DAN TOMPKINS)

William Howard Taft died at his home in Washington, Saturday afternoon, and was buried at Arlington on Tuesday, while millions listened in at the simple service of this greatly loved American. The big man with the genial smile, who held the two highest offices in the federal government, is now a pleasant memory. Although he was to later hold the great office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and despite the fact that American people loved him, while he was yet President of the United States, Taft received the most crushing defeat for reelection, perhaps, that was ever administered to the presidential candidate of a major party. Theodore Roosevelt, the Greater, fearful of the attempt to try for the third term, himself, virtually named Taft as heir apparent, and appointed him as successor. Then the tariff tinkers began work in the congress, and raised the schedules so high that it became a national scandal. The long-suffering West rose in open revolt. Old Bob LaFollette organized the Bull Moose Party, and Roosevelt captured it and the nomination, raised the battle-cry of "Onward Christian Soldiers", resulting in the election, by an almost unanimous electoral college, of a Southern college professor, transplanted to New Jersey, Woodrow Wilson, the nominee of the Jeffersonian Democrats. As a president, Mr. Taft could neither lead nor command his own party. As a jurist he is entitled to rank among the great. As a man he was loved by his fellow citizens of all parties and all faiths. He has followed Roosevelt, Wilson and Bryan across the river.

H. G. Doyette, Baptist minister, lawyer and Republican politician, as well as holder of Wake Forest, says that he has been shoved aside for the last time, by the powers that be in his party, and has filed his name, along with the necessary $50.00, and says that he is running for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, whether or no. This might eventuate in something new under the sun, a Republican state-wide primary in North Carolina, in which the voters of the party would have some choice in selecting who their candidates are to be.

Senator Simmons voted to kill in the committee, a bill to pay off the adjusted compensation certificates of the service men and women of the late war. This would make the Senator any votes among the former soldiers, most of whom need their money, during these times.

Admiral Richard E. Bird, returning from the conquest of the South Pole, and Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, had a Radio conversation, Mr. Ochs speaking from New York, and Admiral Bird from Dunedin, New Zealand, while millions of people over the face of the earth listened. It was 7:30 Tuesday morning in New York while it was 12:30 the next morning in New Zealand.

The P. and N. Railway Company has defied the Interstate Commerce Commission's order, and is going ahead to extend the lines of the Electric Railway Company in North and South Carolina. I don't know what the row is all about; but I am with the P. and N. It is time somebody defied the Interstate Commerce Commission. I am tired of government by commissions and boards, something that the framers of the constitution never contemplated.

The Women, claiming to be 12 million strong, came to the aid of prohibition laws, before the house judiciary committee, that has been hearing the anti's, for some days.

The National Republican Club of New York adopted a resolution calling for the repeal of the prohibition law, saying: Resolved that the National Republican Club urges representatives of the Republican party in both houses of congress to advocate and vote for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, in order to restore the American form of government. Has the club gone over to State's Rights? Page the Shade of Them Steppes.

WIN S. E. CAGE CHAMPIONSHIP IN TOURNAMENT

By a rally in the final quarter of their game, the basket ball team of Western Carolina Teachers College defeated Biltmore Junior College, at Biltmore, Saturday night, and captured the championship of the Southeastern Junior College Athletic Association, Saturday night.

Led by Arthur Fineannon, former Sylva High star, the Yodelers came from behind in a last minute rally, to smother the Biltmoreites out to the tune of 30 to 26.

The teachers from Jackson county had defeated Hiwassee and Bluefield colleges to reach the finals, while Biltmore had put Tennessee Wesleyan and Mars Hill out of the running.

The following is the story of the game as told by the Asheville Citizen:

The teachers played through the entire tournament without a substitution. Much credit for their victory goes to Wilson and Henson, two great guards, who turned back all comers.

The Teachers drew first blood when Fineannon sank a long one from the corner after two minutes had passed, but Matheson broke loose to sink a crisp and tie the count. Matheson sank a long one to give the home team the lead which fell before a long one-handed shot by Fineannon. Rogers then made a good charity shot, but Kanning retaliated with a free goal to tie the count. Matheson sank a snowbird to again tie the game. Setzer hit a long one to put the Miller men again in the lead, and Miller made a long one to put the Biltmore team on the long end of a 11-7 score. Lanning dropped in a free goal, and the Teachers took time out. Fineannon sank a long shot, Wilson made a basket to bring the Yodelers to within three points of Biltmore. Both teams missed fouls as the half ended with Biltmore leading 14-11.

Wilson fouled Miller who missed and Fineannon made a long shot and was fouled, and shot one of them to tie the score 14 all.

Matheson made a long shot, Miller hit a crisp, and Matheson made another long shot to give Biltmore a 20-14 lead. Cullowhee rallied and with Fineannon getting a pair and Wilson one to tie the count. Rogers batted one in and Wilson made long one to give the Teachers the lead. Rogers batted in another and Miller and Jones made free throws to bring Biltmore within four points. Fineannon hit another to give the Teachers the lead. Jones made a foul. Fineannon made a crisp, but Lanning retaliated. Fineannon hit a pair of shots as the game ended to give Cullowhee the title by a 30-26 count.

A large crowd of Cullowhee fans motored through the snow to see their team and were not disappointed, though for a while it looked as if Matheson, the Biltmore scoring ace, would turn the game, but in the end the punch was lacking.

Line-up:
W. C. T. C. (30) - Ross (26) Fineannon (17) F. Matheson (11) Rogers (7) E. Miller (7) Kitchen C. Lanning (4) Wilson (6) G. Jones (2) Henson G. Setzer (2)

MRS. MCKEE ENTERS SENATORIAL PRIMARY

Formal announcement was made today by Mrs. E. L. McKee that she will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Senator, in the 1st district.

Mrs. McKee's announcement follows:

"More than a year many Democrats of Jackson county, also in Haywood and Transylvania counties, have urged me to become a candidate in the Democratic nomination for the State Senate from the 2nd Senatorial District.

After much thought and considerable hesitation, I have decided to accept my name, before the democratic primary in June. Many of my friends have been aware of my intention and genuine reluctance to enter the political field, and hence in justice to those who have advocated my candidacy, I feel that I should make this my own statement.

I am not a real cleaver it will be my only purpose to represent and serve the best of my ability."
