BISHOP MOUZON TO PREACH HERE SUNDAY MORNING

Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon of Charlotte, N. C., one of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South will preach at 11 o'clock Sunday morning in the Methodist church at Sylva. Bishop Mouzon will be accompanied to Sylva by the Presiding Elder, Rev. C. M. Pickens, of Waynesville.

The Bishop comes to Sylva not at the call of some crisis but as the Chief Pastor of this Episcopal area on a friendly round of visitation. So far as is known locally, this is the first time the local church has had one of the Bishops of the church preach from its pulpit. The community is to be congratulated on its privilege of hearing this outstanding preacher of Methodism and distinguished son of the South.

Bishop Mouzon stands at the very forefront, not only of the Methodist church, but of the leading ministers of American Christianity. Last year Bishop Mouzon was invited to deliver the famous series of "Lectures on Preaching" before the Divinity School of Yale University, an honor that has come to few southern men. This year he delivered the Episcopal address before the General Conference, and also preached the opening sermon before the International Conference on Religious Education in Toronto, Canada.

The public is very cordially invited to worship at the Methodist church Sunday morning and hear Bishop Mouzon preach. The choir will offer something special in music. In the evening at 8 p. m. the pastor, Rev. George Clemmer, will preach in the Methodist church at Dillsboro, delivering the last of the series on Pentecost. Church schools of the charge convene promptly at 10 a. m.

40 YEARS AGO

Tuckaseige Democrat, July 9, 1890

The Senate passed the bill admitting Wyoming to the Union. The discussion preceding the passage of the bill involved woman's suffrage, arguing that, as women could vote and hold office in Wyoming, they could be elected to seats in the senate. Another senator suggested that the presence of women might have a good effect on the senate, while Senator Morgan's objection to woman's suffrage was the immoral influence of the ballot upon women.

It is cold yet, up in the Maine woods. Two Connecticut sportsmen reported snowdrifts two or three feet deep in sheltered places in the forests, and the temperature so cold that fishing in the lakes has been backward.

THE WEEK

(By DAN TOMPKINS,

Major A. Lee Bulwinkle, former congressman from the ninth North Carolina District, who was defeated for reelection in 1928 election by Charles A. Jonas, Republican, was nominated for his old seat, in a run-off primary with Hamilton C. Jones of Charlotte, Saturday. Both Mr. Bulwinkle and Mr. Weaver, who went down before the assault of Republicans and Anti-Smith Democrats, 18 months ago, have been given the opportunity to redeem their districts.

It cost the people of the United States 49½ lives to celebrate their Independence Day, to say nothing of the hundreds who were maimed, and the property loss. Comment and the moral should be unnecessary.

Mr. Hoover called the Senate into session, immediately upon the adjournment of congress, for the purpose of having that body pass upon the Naval Treaty, negotiated at London. In other words, he kept the Senate in after school, to do their work. Which reminds us to seek for the reason that the Senate is given powers in foreign affairs, by the constitution, not accorded the House. The reason is obvious. The original intention of the Constitution was to form a federation of sovereign States, and the senators are supposed to be the representatives of those several governments, thus giving the States themselves certain control over the foreign relations of the federation. But, how far afield have we wandered from that ideal of a federation of sovereign states!

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle passed into the Spiritland, Monday. As creator of Sherlock Holmes, Doyle was one of the most famous novelists of the times. As an expounder of the British position in the Boer War, he won his knighthood. During the latter days of his life, especially after one of his sons was killed in France during the Great War, he devoted his mind and talents to probing into the things of the spirit. Before his death he stated that he expects to communicate with his family, from the other side. He may, and he may not; but why not? We have devoted our time to searching out the material universe, and have neglected the

JACKSON SCHOOLS OPEN FOR SHORT TERMS

All the schools of the county having terms of six months opened Monday. The schools having long terms will open the first Monday in August, with the exception of those at Sylva, Dillsboro and Cullowhee, which will open the first Monday in September. The list of teachers for the schools which began Monday follows: Greens Creek, Mrs. Deneries Cowan; View Point, Hoyle Deitz, Enola Arrington; East Fork, Bud Buchanan; Gay, C. S. Tilley, Martha Lou Stillwell; Zion Hill, Mrs. Z. V. Moss; Weychutta, Cora Painter; Osear, Mrs. Sara Belle Woods.

of Miss Tiny, fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dills.

The people of Cullowhee met Saturday and determined to push forward the contemplated additions to their school facilities. Land was acquired, timber and sawing donated, so energetic were they that teams were started Monday hauling logs to the mill for the new building. Cullowhee has taken the lead in educational matters and her motto is "Excelsior."

In the interest of the Teachers' Convention at Waynesville, July 16 and 17, Prof. Madison has secured rates of board at the various hotels and boarding houses of 75 cents to $1.00 per day, and railroad rates of 2 cents per mile both ways.

Wears a New Collar

Gen. Charles G. Dawes, Ambassador to Great Britain, back in Washington to confer with the President, still smokes his famous "base-burner" pipe but has changed the style of his collars.

Spiritual. What great truths, yet un-revealed, lie within that realm, none can tell.

John D. Rockefeller, Sr., celebrated his ninety first birthday. All America congratulates this kindly old man, and wishes him many more years on this sphere. Mr. Rockefeller, who amassed one of the greatest fortunes of all time, in his earlier career, sometimes by somewhat devious means, can command the best physicians, can live in just the kind of climate that is best for him, can do the things that are conducive to longevity. Other and less fortunate men must meet the rigors of the weather, toil in the summer sun, or plod through the biting winds of winter's storms, and their lives are thus shortened. Perhaps it is fair, perhaps it is just. Perhaps it was so intended by the Creator, who gave the earth and life to the sons of men; but I don't think so, and if that be Bolshevism, make the most of it.

The senate is up to its old tricks. Called into special session by President Hoover for the purpose of ratifying the London Naval Treaty, a small group of "willful men" has set about to embarrass the president and defeat the treaty. Thus they did to the League of Nations Pact, to the Treaty of Versailles, and, for political purposes, and to discredit the great Woodrow Wilson. They succeeded, and the result was the return of the Republican party to power, an orgy of corruption under

ACCIDENT VICTIM DIES SUNDAY IN LOCAL HOSPITAL

C. B. Bullington, aged 72, a resident of Kings Mountain, was fatally hurt and Mrs. H. F. Brady, of Atlanta, suffered serious injury, when the car, said to have been driven by Mr. Bullington's son, and the car in which Mrs. Brady was riding, said to have been driven by Mr. Brady, collided, Saturday afternoon, on Highway Number 10, near Barkers Creek. A third car, said to have been driven by John Watson and the one driven by young Bullington and in which his father was riding, were going west, while the Atlanta car was traveling toward Asheville, where Brady, who it is said, is an employe of the Atlanta Constitution, and his family were enroute for a visit. The injured were rushed to the Candler-Nichols hospital, where Mr. Bullington passed away Sunday evening.

His body was prepared for burial by the Medford undertaking establishment and sent to Newport, Tenn., the funeral and interment occurring there Tuesday. Mr. Bullington was the father of Mrs. Osear Watson and with his son, was visiting at the Watson home.

Mrs. Brady, who sustained fractures of both knee caps and other injuries is recovering.

SYLVA SCOUTS TO GO TO CAMP DANIEL BOONE

Thursday morning, July 17, about ten happy Boy Scouts will leave Sylva for a ten days encampment at Camp Daniel Boone in Pisgah National forest some fourteen miles southwest of Asheville.

Daniel Boone is the Council camp for the Asheville area, and is one of the best camps in the south for boys. It is under the direct supervision of Mr. A. W. Allen, Scout Executive, of the Daniel Boone council. Mr. Allen has a number of able assistants who are skilled in swimming and the various crafts of Scouting.

Following is a partial list of those going: John Parris, Jr., Alvin Sutton, J. T. Griddle, Jr., Tom Kelly, John Irwin; William Curtis, Ernest Wilson, Jr., "Bud" Hall, and Chas. Weller. Any others who wish to go had better see Mr. Clemmer, Scoutmaster of troop one, immediately.

Harding and the Ohio Gang, and the falling of our country from the seats of the mighty, a return to materialism, from idealism, and a wave of crime that still is sweeping over America, because the ideal was trampled under foot and the material set up as our god. Some Democratic senators are taking part in the present move to defeat the latest step toward peace, and I for one, as a Democrat, am thoroughly ashamed and disgusted with them. They are helping to do the very kind of thing for which this paper most heartily condemned the Republicans a few years ago.

French airmen, seeking to cross the South Atlantic from South America to Africa, were forced to land in mid-ocean, and were rescued by a ship. They had sense enough to start out in a sea plane, enabling them to land on the water. That is the only kind of an airship that should ever attempt to cross the oceans.

Another fool tried to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel. He's dead. Suppose he had accomplished the feat and come out alive. He wouldn't have been the first person to do it, and there would have been little glory.

James Cannon, Jr., Bishop of Africa and of Politics, head of the Southern Methodist political lobby, insists that in the reapportionment of the House, aliens should be counted out. Of course the Political Bishop's purpose is to lower the congressional representation of the Eastern centers. But, if such a move is made, the opposition will also insist that non-voting Negroes be counted out, which would materially reduce the representation from the dry South. It is a good idea to take many things into consideration before making a political move.
