

Farm Show Meets With Huge Success

The Jackson County Livestock and Poultry Show, held in Sylva on Saturday and Friday of last week, was an unusual success. The exhibits were most creditable, in all departments.

Friday morning, Prof. E. H. Sisson, of the chair of history of the University of North Carolina Teachers' College, gave a masterful address on the "Home Idea, and especially on the subject of living within one's means. A large crowd heard Mr. Sisson at the Chamber of Commerce.

The entire show was a great example of what can be accomplished when the people of Jackson County unite in a cooperative program of a fair. The farm people entered heartily into the show and the business people of Sylva contributed liberally and gladly of their time and money to make it a success.

The prize winners in each department are as follows:

S.H.S. Downs Bryson High

(By John Parris, Jr.)

The Sylva High Golden Hurricanes entered enemy territory when they crossed into the land of Swain. In one of the hardest fought gridiron battles on the Bryson field in many moons saw the Hurricanes leave the field of battle with the scalp of the Bryson tribe. The Hurricanes took the contest by the small margin of 6-0.

The Hurricanes broke loose in the opening minutes to register their line touchdowns. Bryson received on the kick-off. On a fumble Sylva recovered. Then the victory march began. Sutton went through the line for seven yards. Greene followed on an end run for eleven yards and a first down. Thomas carried the ball to the one yard line on a play over center for five yards. On the next play, Sutton plunged through the line for the touchdown. On an attempted drop-kick Sutton failed to gain the extra point. The touchdown came after the game was two minutes old.

The next few minutes saw some real fighting. Each team was trying to cross the other's goal line, but to no avail. Greene, Hurricane half, was injured and had to be taken from the game. He sustained a bruised hip.

The half found the Hurricanes on the two yard line. Just another tough break in football. The third and fourth periods were mostly the Hurricanes, however, they were unable to score. As the final whistle blew the Hurricanes had one foot to go for a touchdown.

The punting of Sutton was one of the high lights of the game. His punts averaged 45 yards.

Outstanding in the backfield were Sutton, Green and Thomas, and in the line Hardin, Bryson and Tatham for Sylva.

Bryson's stars were Woodard, in the backfield and Gibbs in the line. The Golden Hurricanes of Sylva High met the Franklin Gridders on the Sylva High field Friday afternoon at 3:00 P. M.

Baptists Led By Former Jackson Man

(By Rev. J. Gray Murray)

When the Southern Baptist Convention met in Birmingham, Ala., last May there was a seriousness that was impressive. There were great problems ahead, and there seemed to be no solution. At least no adequate came with a cook-sure plan. Before the convention was over, however, there was a unity of purpose and agreement that was just as impressive as the seriousness at the beginning. There seemed to be one way out for Baptists. That way was believed to be the "Every Member Campaign."

Now, this is nothing new with Baptists. It is a method of enlistment that has been used by some churches for years. The only thing new about it is the special effort to get every church in the Southern Baptist Convention to use the method this year and to make the canvass at the same time—Nov. 29-Dec. 6. This part of the movement is new and we feel that the united effort will be an advantage to the movement. There is something impressive about a great body of Christ's followers moving in unison—keeping step one with the other.

To lead Southern Baptists in this, the greatest task undertaken by them in years, the convention turned to Dr. Fred F. Brown, a son of Jackson County. There was a deep feeling that he was God's man for the hour and task. He is loved and trusted by all Southern Baptist. He has successfully used the Every Member Campaign in every church that he has served as pastor. The church of which he is now pastor probably has more practicing stewards in it than any other church of the same size in the convention. Dr. Brown has written freely for the denominational press on this question. All these fitted him for the task. So, Southern Baptists elected him chairman of their Promotion Committee.

The movement was explained to the Tuckaseegee Baptist Association in session at Glenview in August. The Association elected the following to be known as the Associational Promotion Committee: Rev. W. N. Cook, Chm.; Rev. J. K. Stafford, Rev. J. Gray Murray, Mrs. W. N. Cook, Mrs. T. C. Bryson, Lawson Allen, Mildred Cowan, J. B. Ensley, F. I. Watson, W. H. Smith and A. A. Norman.

The work has been presented to a great many of the churches and Promotion Committees have been appointed in these churches. Other churches will have the work presented to them later.

There will be held a training school for the church promotion committees, pastors and the Associational Promotion Committee at Sylva Baptist Church next week—Nov. 16-17. The meetings will convene at 7:30. Rev. E. W. Baucom, pastor of Waynesville Baptist Church will lead the school.

All persons interested in this work are welcome to attend the school.

Mr. Thos. Wilson, of the Board of County Commissioners favored this office with a call yesterday.

Mr. John N. Hunter left Monday for Swain, where he said he was going to buy the balance of the fat cattle.

The upper room of the Alliance building is being finished and nicely fitted up for the use of the Episcopal church.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. Clark McDeade, of Dillsboro, had quite a serious fall from his barn last few evenings ago, sustaining painful injuries.

Mr. F. Merriek left last Friday for West Virginia and his son, Ernest, who has been home on a visit for several weeks, returned the same day to his place of business at Pullman, Illinois.

Our young friend, C. S. Polbright, who has been with Depot Agent Davis, studying the science of telegraphy left Monday morning for Murphy, where he goes as assistant to Agent Smathers. Cassius is a clever boy and the Democrat wishes him success.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dills returned from the Exposition at Raleigh, last Thursday. Mr. Dills reports the Exposition a complete success in everything except as to the size of the crowds in attendance, which are altogether disproportionate to the magnitude of the exhibit.

Messrs. John Davis, J. W. Divilbiss and J. M. Smith are entitled to the thanks of the community for having repaired the bridge across the creek, at the shop, which they have done in a very substantial manner. To be deprived of the use of the bridge was a great inconvenience which was submitted to a long time.

The train from Asheville yesterday was detained till a late hour, not passing here till nearly ten o'clock last night, by the wrecking of a log train going into Asheville early yesterday morning, by which two negro workmen were killed. The train ran away and left the track at the switch at the junction with the main line. Logs were scattered in every direction, a stable was knocked down and two horses killed.

The daily display of the weather signals at the post office is due to the enterprise of Miss Ella Potts, who is the correspondent of the weather bureau here.

Mr. W. H. Sandy with his own and the family of his son-in-law, Mr. G. A. Churches Pay Tribute To Mr. Clemmer

A love feast is one of the ancient landmarks of Methodism. Sunday evening, a service that might well be termed a love feast was held in the Methodist church here, in which not only the Methodists of Sylva and Dillsboro, but the Baptists, people of other denominations, and the communities generally gathered to pay tribute to Rev. George B. Clemmer, who is completing four years of pastorate of the Sylva-Dillsboro charge of the Methodist church.

The service was suggested by Rev. J. G. Murray, pastor of the Baptist church, and was planned by him, and others, as one in which the people could express their love for Pastor Clemmer, and their appreciation of the work that has been done by him during his four years of service here.

The church auditorium was filled with people, friends of Mr. Clemmer. Tribute was paid both to Mr. Clemmer and Mr. Murray for the fine spirit of friendship and brotherly love that prevails between the people of the two leading denominations, and other denominations, and the good will that exists in the community.

Various organizations were represented in the talks that were delivered. As Mr. Clemmer has been the Master of the Boy Scout troop, and has made a conspicuous success in that work, as well as in the work of the church, the Boy Scouts were placed first on the program, being represented by Hugh E. Monteith, assistant scout master.

Dr. W. K. Chapman spoke for the Rotary Club. The Methodist Young People were represented by Miss Louise Stein, president of the Hi-League. Mrs. M. D. Cowan spoke on behalf of the Methodist women, she being president of the Woman's Missionary Society. The Sylva Methodist Church was represented by M. Buchanan, charge lay leader; and the Dillsboro church by M. Y. Jarrett, member of the board of stewards. Lawson Allen told of the esteem and affection in which the Baptist people hold Mr. Clemmer. Dan Tompkins, president of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke for that organization; and Mrs. E. L. McKee closed the speech making with an address from the community at large.

In many respects this was one of the greatest services ever held in Sylva. It was a spontaneous expression of the profound gratitude of a people, and of affection for a man and his wife, who have performed well their task as pastor and wife.

The general expression was that if Mr. Clemmer is not given a promotion in the way of a better church, that the people of Sylva and Dillsboro want the four-year rule suspended, and want him returned to them.

Mr. and Mrs. Clemmer came to Sylva, four years ago, from Winston-Salem, and immediately endeared themselves to the people, by entering heartily into the community activities by sharing the joys and sorrows of the people, by giving of their time to the promotion of every good cause, and by serving well and faithfully the churches that were assigned to them.

Several Balamites attended the Livestock and Poultry Show in Sylva last week.

"toughest" known to the oldest inhabitants. Bad whiskey had made a howling mob of them before they reached this point, and their conduct generally was disgraceful and disgusting. In striking contrast was the crowd of delegates and preachers going to Asheville the same day, to attend the Conference of the M. E. Church, South, which is being held there this week.

After a prolonged spell of dry weather, lasting more than two months, the welcome rain began to fall Monday night and continued throughout yesterday. We were gratified and surprised to observe that the river had risen sufficiently to bring down to the boom of the Blue Ridge Lumber Company, at Dillsboro, a lot of fine logs. There was a rise of about four feet in the river.
