

SUPREME COURT REVERSES DECISION ON RAY BAILEY CASE

The Supreme Court of the United States has reversed both the superior and supreme courts of North Carolina in the Ray Bailey case, and the plaintiff, Bailey, returned to his home in Greenville county, South Carolina, on a charge of having murdered a patrolman Hunt, in a gun-fight between officers and a band of armed men in Greenville, on Sunday, May 1, 1932.

Bailey was brought to the hospital in Sylva and remained here as a patient, hovering between life and death for several weeks.

Request papers were granted by Governor Gardner, at the request of the Governor of South Carolina, with Clyde R. Hoey as his chief counsel, brought habeas corpus proceedings, and the case was heard in Sylva before the late Judge Walter E. Moore, who granted the writ after hearing the evidence, and released Bailey. The State of South Carolina took an appeal to the supreme court of North Carolina and that court upheld the decision of Judge Moore. Again South Carolina appealed to the supreme court of the United States, and the decision handed down this week reverses the North Carolina courts. So Bailey will go back to South Carolina for trial, if and when he is apprehended by the officers.

PARK COMPLETION IS NOW ASSURED

The Great Smoky Mountains National Park is soon to become a reality, far sooner than was anticipated by those hardy souls who sponsored it, a few years ago, and nourished the project on its way. The money will be forthcoming both for the purchase of the rest of the boundary of the park and for the development of the area for national park purposes.

Authority for the expenditure of the money for purchase of the additional lands needed to complete the park is included in the National Recovery Bill, recently enacted by Congress, and is a part of the vast Tennessee Valley power development that has been so close to the heart of President Roosevelt, ever since his visit to Muscle Shoals. The President is authorized to buy lands. The protection of the mountain watershed of the Tennessee Valley is considered essential to the successful development of the power resources.

Plans for the development of the park have already been made by the park authorities, and it is understood that they will be hurried to completion as a part of the re-employment plans of the administration.

Congressman Weaver, it is said, deserves much of the credit for having gotten the Great Smoky Mountains National Park area included in the emergency legislation for national rehabilitation.

Relief Works To Be Started Soon

Washington, May 21.—One of the first things which Mr. Roosevelt wants to do is to start his great program of public works to give men employment and stimulate business. To do this will take, it is estimated, about three hundred million dollars. To get that much money the Government will have to borrow it from the investing public. It is a lot of money, but there is no doubt about the Government's ability to borrow it, provided the lenders have some assurance as to where the money is coming from to pay the interest on it.

It will take about 220 million dollars a year to pay interest and service charges on a $3,200,000,000 bond issue. A sales tax calculated to raise that much is now for the first time since inauguration being discussed seriously. Congressional opposition however, may result in the new tax taking some other form, such as a "breakfast-table" tax on coffee, tea, sugar, spices and chocolate. Whatever the tax is levied upon, it will be spoken of as a "re-employment tax."

Bernard M. Baruch, who was chairman of the War Industries Board in President Wilson's administration, is said to be the man picked to head the new industrial control board. The law has not yet been passed to set up the Government's control of business and industry. The draft of the bill had not been presented to Congress as this is written. Yet so smoothly does the machinery here operate that

Reorganization Of Jackson County Bank Is Completed

TODAY and TOMORROW

(By Frank Parker Stockbridge)

GOVERNOR... Federal Reserve

In picking Eugene Black of Atlanta for Governor of the Federal Reserve Board President Roosevelt has followed the example of his last Democratic predecessor in selecting a man from the South to head up the nation's financial system. I am one of those who believe that the late W. P. G. Harding of Alabama was the best man who ever held the post to which Mr. Black has been appointed.

Mr. Black was picked, I am told, mainly because he is entirely free from Wall Street influences. He has a bigger and more important task than any of his predecessors had since it is on the cards, I believe, that the entire banking system of the nation will be taken into the Federal Reserve System, and the head of that system will exercise financial control even greater than that of the Governor of the Bank of England.

Unlike many bankers, Mr. Black has a sense of humor. But his reputation for sound, homely common-sense is of the highest.

ROCKEFELLERS... they move

Times change and landmarks pass. The Rockefellers, father and son, are moving from the historic address "26 Broadway" to the new Rockefeller Center, five miles up town. For more than fifty years "26" has been the headquarters of the Standard Oil interests. Nobody knows how many millions have been made there, but probably enough to pay off our national debt, if the men who made it had kept it.

The Rockefellers don't keep their money. They spend it largely in vast enterprises for the public welfare—education, health and the restoration of historic antiquities.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is in the limelight just now because he objected to Communist propaganda being put into a mural painting by Diego Rivera, the Mexican artist who had been engaged to do some work in the Rockefeller center. Some "Liberals" are making a great fuss saying that Mr. Rockefeller is no judge of art. That may be true, but wouldn't he look foolish promoting Communism?

GOLD... since 1493

According to the United States Bureau of Mines all the gold that has been mined in the world since any kind of records have been kept; that is from 1493, the year after Columbus discovered America, down to date amounts to a little over a thousand million ounces. At $20 an ounce that is worth twenty billion dollars, and more than half of it is still in the form of money or gold bars held in banks as security for money.

In the United States since 1792 we have mined about 226 million ounces, worth above $4,600,000,000, and that, curiously enough, is just about the amount of monetary gold still in this country.

In the same 450 years of gold production the amount of silver mined in the world was a fraction more than fifteen thousand million ounces; and the ratio of silver to gold in the world's monetary system before silver was dropped by one country after another, was just about fifteen to one.

Silver is coming back as money, but it is more likely to arrive at a ratio of about twenty or twenty-five to one than the traditional "sixteen to one" of the old Populist days.

EMBROIDERY CLUB MET YESTERDAY

The Embroidery Club met yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. Robert Fisher, Jr., hostess, at her home, Mt. View Farm.

It is only necessary for the President to say that he is going to submit a bill, when it is taken for granted that the bill will become a law in short order, and the picking out of the personnel to administer it begins at once. Nothing of the sort has been seen here since war times.

Whether Mr. Baruch actually heads the control board, he certainly pulls a strong oar in Administration affairs. Mr. Peek, who heads the farm control board, is his protégé.
