Congress Adjourned Session Last Monday

Washington, June 20—Congress adjourned its historic and epoch-making session Monday...

A great deal more federal money is to be distributed in various ways designed to get ready cash into the hands of the consumers...

There is still more than a billion and a quarter dollars in the fund for home loans to distressed mortgagors.

Money will go out faster now for public works, under the PWA. More of the money will go out to finance rural schools.

Then there are payments under the wheat, corn, hog, cotton and tobacco contracts...

The belief in Administration circles is now that it will take about another year of Government spending...

With Congress adjourned until next January, there can be no new legislation...

There seems to be a feeling that the President will not willingly use the broad powers granted to him in any haphazard way...

The Administration's friends believe that as things quiet down during the summer, business men will begin to realize that a good many of the things that have frightened them are bogies...

The Federal Government is now interfering itself in the activities and welfare of its citizens to an extent that, three years ago, would have been deemed impossible in America.

A Rainbow Soiree and Musical Contest will be given at the kaloin factory, at Sylva, Thursday night, June 28th.

Government is now the only important source of credit on a large scale, and besides its direct loans to industry it owns a billion dollars of preferred stock in the banks of the United States.

There is little likelihood of any change in the attitude of Congress at the next session. That is, there undoubtedly will be a Democratic ma-

Will Stage Celebration On The Fourth Of July

TODAY and TOMORROW

HISTORY and Laws

The key to the future lies in the study of the past. If you want to know whether this, that or the other scheme of saving mankind from the consequences of its own folly will work, read history.

From time immemorial people have had a belief in the magic of laws. Laws can make people good, or so they believe. The prohibition law, were going to make everybody temperate.

Two thousand and more years ago the Greek philosopher Plato wrote: "How charming people are! Are they not as good as a play? Trying their hands at legislation and imagining that by reforms they will make an end to the dishonesties and rascalities of mankind!"

Solomon the Wise said much the same thing; so did St. Paul. Today as in the past; it is impossible to legislate avarice; selfishness and greed out of the human race.

PLANS always selfish

Men of imagination have tried their hands from the earliest days at working out plans for the Perfect State, in which everybody would be happy and contented.

None of them ever worked, because, all of those schemes have been based on the idea that the mass of humanity is imbued with elemental justice and wants everybody to have a square deal.

NATURE steps in

The trouble with all human planning is that there are always incalculable factors which may upset all the plans. Nobody can ever be sure that he has taken all of them in to account.

For example, the plans of the AAA for a reduction of wheat and corn acreage were all very well—if anyone could have taken the weather into account.

The main trouble in getting plans for the benefit of humanity to work, however, is that you never can get everybody to agree to travel in the same direction at the same speed.

RUSSIA then and now

I knew the Grand Duke Alexander of Russia cousin of the last Czar pretty well. That is, I met him a number of times at the homes of New York friends, and had had numerous conversations with him.

The only things the Czarist government demanded of them was that they keep order among themselves and pay their taxes.

Now the poor Russian people are compelled to live according to a prepared plan, to conform to standards imposed upon them, whether they like them or not.

SECURITY rather limited

The whole idea back of most plans

Plans are being laid for a real 4th of July celebration in Sylva this year, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Sylva, and the business people of the town are cooperating.

Prizes, donated by the merchants, will be given to the oldest man, oldest woman, couple married the longest, couple married the most recently, largest family, person bringing the largest number of people at one load, person coming the greatest distance, fattest man, fattest woman, various athletic events.

COPPERHEAD BITES CHILD

A copperhead, one of the two poisonous snakes of the mountains, bit Derwood Middleton, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Hut Middleton, near their home at Tuckaseige, Monday afternoon.

FRATERNAL DECORATION

The Woodmen of the World and Junior Order United American Mechanics will decorate the graves of deceased members in the Keener cemetery, Sylva, the Webster cemetery, the Love's Chapel cemetery, and the Tuckaseige cemetery, Sunday afternoon, after meeting jointly in the lodge hall here.

QUALLA

Sunday morning at the Baptist church Rev. Neal Stepp preached on the subject of the power that was given at Pentecost.

Mrs. Obed Anthony of California, is visiting at Rev. W. W. Anthony's.

Mr. and Mrs. Kern Noland of Swananoa visited relatives last week.

Messrs. J. O. Terrell and J. B. Battle made a trip to Alum Cave.

Misses Nell McLaughlin, Gertrude Ferguson, and Mary Emma Ferguson visited Miss Annie Lizzie Terrell.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Shelton, Mrs. J. L. Hyatt and Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Hyatt went to Lake Junaluska, Sunday.

Mr. J. M. Hughes and son, Jim Ed, of Cherokee were Qualla visitors, Sunday.

Gardens and crops in Qualla are looking very promising for the regimentation of people is the redistribution of wealth and the equalization of the economic status of everybody.

The plea is always that everybody is entitled to equal economic security. That is so contrary to human experience, in which there has never been any such thing as economic security for everybody that it can only work so long as the dictatorship which enforces the plan is in full power.
