"Thou shalt not kill;" as written on the tables of stone; did not say "except with automobiles."

As we see it, Senator Hill wants to give North Carohina folks a chance to bay whether they want to stop get ting their gin from Virginia,

So far we have heard no in timation that every third person on the office. payrolls of the relief administration should be plowed under.

Seems as though it is taking those time old men a long time to make up their silvered heads about this gold business.

We respectfully request Mr, Waynick, while he is talking and recommending, that he not overlook Highway 106, Jackson's only hope of being linked with the outside world and the Park.

About all we can make out of that extertion part of the Hauptmann trial is graveyard talk.

A tax on liquor is a tax on poverty. either actual or potential. North Carolina can not afford to build her schools and institutions at the expense of the weak, the unfortunate and the poverty-stricken.

Increase school fund, says Erwin. Increase highway fund, says Waynick. Increase appropriations for institutions, say the heads of all of them. Don't increase taxes, say the people. And there you have an easy jch for the legislators.

The assumption by the State of the county deb's for highways would not be a diversion of highway funds. It it is an unwise precedent that would be set by the bill; and then, it isn't right to pay out money for supplements of State funds by counties or districts, without giving the people who are to do the paying a chance to say whether they want to pay it or not.'It, from a standpoint of upsetting the idea of a school system of the State, by the State, and for all the children of the State, upon which w are toying to build is the most dan gerous and insidious, piece of legista tion that has been proposed, so far this session, Kill it, Senate, and preserve the State school system.. The good that it might do a few bus driv ers in our neighbor county could not possibly compensate for the injury it might do in the precedent it would set. Some people, including eity newspaper editors, certain educational leaders, and legislators, seem unable to grasp the fact that we have progressed in North Carolina from a patchwork system of schools, based on high local taxes, in certain part. of the State, to a State system, with equal educational advantages to al the children of North Caroohna, and equality of taxation distribution.

WHOM THE GODS DESTROY'

Many North Carolina Democrat consider Woodrow Wilson the great est man of the centuries. Others thin: him the greatest Democrat of they all. Still others would say that he ithe greatest Democrat since Indrev Jackson. With practical minin. they would acclaim him the preemi nent Democrat this generation ha seen.

Everybody admits that his physical undoing, and the wreck of his party were brought about by his enemies. such as Henry Cabot Lodge, who with his Yenkee brilliance, held a deepseated animosity toward Wilson and DY COWARD; SALLIE COWARI an undying hatred of the South and TEAGUE AND HUSBAND, ROB hose who would upset the universal into being by Wilson.

Now we see the junior Senator from North Carolina, Robert Rice Reynolds, arise from his seat in the United States Senate to which he had been elected as a Democrat, and belch forth the reechoings of the speeches of Lodge, and a castigation of the philosophy of international good will as enunciated by Wilson. It was anworthy of North Carolina Democracy that sent Bob to the Senate, by reason of the mistake of CamMorrion's confirmation of Frank McNinch anti Smith leader in this State, for ag pointment as a Democrat on the Fed rral Power Commission.

Now, we see that Bob has not only become a convert to the teachings o ileniy Cabat Lodge and the Cathol. Father Coughlin, but that when the matter of the confirmation of the sam-McNinch as chairman of the sam commission came up, Bob did not op en his mouth until asked his opinion on the Senate floor, and then content ad himself with entering into a speec! advertising Asheville as a tourist center.

would hadly be an act of honesty of the part of the State in taking ov the road dob's front the countialong with the roads. If it isn't do... now, it will be, later, Justice and right alawys comes out ahead; in the long run.

Billy Sullivan allowed that Polk' Cloud is not a Democrat. Tam Bowie said he is. There we have an excel lent authority on both sides; and with the oration on the advantages of Asheville as a summer resort the only protest Bob Reynolds made against the confirmation of the apostate McNinch, we all might take Tam's charitable view and overlook the lesser, though more recent sins of Mr. Cloud.

Indications are that North Carolina will join the growing number of States refusing to ratify the so-called Child Labor Amendment, which, in its present form, is ambiguous, but grants unheard of and dangerous powers to the federal government, The General Assembly will be using its sense and doing the will of North Carolina, when it votes down that amendment, designed as a blow at the South, and is sponsored in this State by well-meaning foks, who should know better, but evidently do not.

GAS AND ROADS

Speaking of bills that have been introduced in the Genearl Assembly, who among us, in Jackson County, wouldn't be willing to pay a cent more tax per gallon on gasoline, and see our tax rate cut to 40 cents or under on the $100 valuation of property?

It would not only be a boon to the owners of homes and farms, but would also be the greatest inducement that we could possibly offer to investors in this county, and would revive real estate values, thus stabilizing the en tire business of the county.

Here's hoping something of the kind will go through. Our indebtedness, upon which we are paying, was contracted in the building of State highways, either before or since they became such, or for loans to the State itself, for that purpose, and it is only fair, right, honest and just that the State pay the bills. .

up a courageous and meritorious fight agianst the bill to allow Haywood county to supplement salaries of school bus drivers, without a vote of the people. Mr. Sullivan was right in his contention that it opens the door for wholesale supplement, which would undermine and upset the whole State-wide school system. The House passed it; but we trust the Senate will exercise more real judgment. It is none of our particular business what Haywood bus drivers get for pay; but And the second second 1 . . . .
