Frosty mornings, and glimpses of October weather.

Of course the brutal invasion of Ethiopia by Italy is no concern of ours. "Who then is thy neighbor?"

Placing the stress in government upon the good of people instead of the garnering of profits may be Americanism of thousands better.

The peace efforts of the past 15 years have done away with declarations of war. Our country begins a grand invasion of another without former formalities.

WAR DRUMS

War drums sounding through the mountains and plains of the ancient empire of Ethiopia are calling the tribes to defend their homeland from the Roman invader. Italian planes bomb Ethiopian towns. The League of Nations is called into extraordinary session to discuss the situation and deal with it. Great Britain, after exhausting every resource to maintain peace, is standing on the covenant and opposing aggression, and France is backing England, while she keeps one eye on Germany and the other cocked toward Italy, where she has made a recent friend. To what eventualities the situation may lead in the world, nobody knows.

A strong man with an overbearing ego had an obsession that he is the successor of the Caesars, and is apparently bent upon annexing Ethiopia as a colonial possession. "Drunk with might of power," he has "loosed wild tongues that hold not their awe"; and is proving that his is one of the "lesser breeds, without the law".

Japan did the same thing in the north of China, in defiance of the League. Can Italy do it also? The supreme test of the League, of which Ethiopia as well as Italy is a member, has come.

It might easily lead to general conflict with Britain's fleet already in the Mediterranean, and with Italy's air navy able to bomb London on short notice. It is easy to say that our country will stay out, no matter how long it lasts; but nobody can say with certainty what time will bring forth. The world has become a mighty small place.

WEBSTER P. T. A. MEETS

Webster P. T. A. met Thursday afternoon with the largest number in attendance for some time. Mrs. Lewis Hozegartner, vice president presided.

The topic for the opening discussion was books. A most interesting talk was given by Mrs. C. C. Buchanan, librarian of Western Carolina Teachers College. In her talk Mrs. Buchanan presented a number of ideas concerning library systems, new books, magazines, upkeep and mending of books. Following this, two readings concerning books were given by Ida Jean Allison and Virginia Madison, both from the elementary school. Discussion and plans for modernizing and standardizing the elementary school followed the program.

A picture was given to the third grade, of which Mrs. Claude Cowan is teacher, for bringing the largest number of parents to the meeting.

The high school department of the Webster school system has reached an enrollment of 114 and the elementary school 218, which is an increase over last year's enrollment.

At a recent meeting of the senior class Arthur Lewis was elected class president, Susie Hall vice president, Bernice Cowan secretary-treasurer. Little Wanda Louise Price and Dazette Allison were elected for messes and Mr. B. C. Wilson, of the high school faculty, will be sponsor for the class.

MRS. LAURA BRADBURN

Mrs. Laura Teague Bradburn was born March 19, 1861, and passed to her reward on August 18, 1935, her age being 74 years, 4 months and 29 days. She had been in bad health for the past eleven months. On August 16 she was stricken with paralysis and only lived a few hours.

Mrs. Bradburn professed faith in Christ in early life, joined the Baptist church at the age of 14 and lived a christian life until death.

She was married to Mr. John F. Bradburn in 1879 and to this union were born eight children: three sons, Mall C., Chappai A. and Stephen H. and five daughters, Mrs. John Baby, Mrs. J. L. Martin, Mrs. W. M. Moore and Mrs. R. D. Hyatt, all of Whitler, and Mrs. J. G. Massey, of Hayesville. She leaves to mourn her death, three sons, three daughters, twenty-four grandchildren and twenty-five great-grandchildren, one brother, three sisters and a host of other relatives and friends.

Her funeral service was conducted in the Baptist church at Shoal Creek, of which she was a member, on August 19, by Rev. John Hyatt and Rev. Charles W. Clay, both of Whitler, and her body was laid to rest in the Thomas cemetery.

Our Mother was called away: God took her home; it was His Will:

But in our hearts she liveth still: God has called thee to thy rest: Mother, your soul is with the best.

Though we miss you in our home, You are sweetly sleeping on, God in heaven help us to prepare To meet Thee and her, over there.
