All Polls Conducted Favor Roosevelt For President

Washington, December 4--Official Washington is displaying great interest in Presidential polls these days. The one that has attracted the most attention is the poll recently completed by 2,000 country newspapers...

Some of the things which the President's friends are hoping will happen are a strong up-swing in business conditions, the failure of the Opposition to develop real leadership...

As to leadership in the Republican Party, something may develop at the annual meeting of the Republican National Committee to be held here this month, which will clarify the issues upon which the Opposition will make its stand.

The strongest element in Mr. Roosevelt's favor, as matters now stand, is that business is definitely improving and that all the signs point to further improvement. The stock market boom is not regarded here as dangerous until stock market speculation reached the point where it was being done on borrowed money.

The Administration is very clearly determined to begin a policy of retrenchment of governmental expenditures. The statement by Representative James P. Buchanan, of Texas, Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, after his conferences last week with the President at Warm Springs...

There is never any telling what any Congress may do. The reasonable certainty that a veterans' bonus bill will be enacted is a matter of some concern.

Mr. Lee Mills left town very quietly Monday, without giving any information of his intentions, went down to Bushnell and returned with a bride, who was Miss Addie McClure.

The Baptist State Mission Board has held a meeting to make some arrangements for the mission work of Dr. Durham until the annual meeting of the Baptist State Convention, next month. Dr. Durham's successor will then be appointed, as it is a convention office.

40 YEARS AGO

(Tuckasee Democrat, Nov. 28, 1895)

Miss Mary Willie Knight was among the Asheville, guests at the wedding of Miss Lela Enloe and Mr. Fred Moore.

Mr. W. L. Esterly, of Columbiana, Ohio, who is associated with Dr. O. A. Rhodes in the enterprises now being inaugurated at this place, arrived Wednesday and will remain for some time.

The postmaster at Scott's Creek reports to the Citizen the falling of a meteor last Sunday night "as large as a half bushel", accompanied by a roaring noise. The light from the meteor was seen and the rushing sound it made was heard here.

Business indications seem decidedly more hopeful and encouraging here than for some time. Our merchants appear to have a more active trade, several new buildings are in course of construction, visitors seeking to place investments are more numerous...

The ladies of Dillsboro will give a supper, with oysters as one of the prominent features, at Dillsboro, on Thursday night, December 5th, the proceeds of which are to be applied to the finishing of their new Baptist church.

The Professors Gruber, father and son, have been in this community tuning and repairing pianos. We, with others, had the pleasure of listening to a most enjoyable exhibition of their skill as performers on the piano and violin at the residence of Gen. E. R. Hampton, Monday evening.

Married: At the residence of the bride's father, Capt. W. A. Enloe, in Dillsboro on Wednesday, November 27, Miss Lela Enloe and Mr. Fred Moore. Perhaps no handsomer couple ever stood before the marriage altar than they, and in addition they are both possessed of such good qualities of mind and heart as to have secured for themselves a high place in the esteem and affection of a large circle of friends.

On November 27, at the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. E. H. Hampton, Mr. D. H. Keener to Miss Estella, daughter of Rev. W. H. Cooper, of the Western North Carolina Conference.

Mrs. Amanda Enloe and Mr. John H. Mooly were married on Tuesday evening November 26, Esquire S. C. Allison officiating.

Mr. Lee Mills left town very quietly Monday, without giving any information of his intentions, went down to Bushnell and returned with a bride, who was Miss Addie McClure.

Sylva Merchants Welcome Santa Claus Visit To Town

Yes, Santa Claus has been to Sylva, and has left with the shops choice merchandise from which selection for Christmas giving can be made, and at really attractive prices.

The range is wide and includes the innumerable varieties of toys and dolls for the children, and from there to the more expensive presents for grown people of more than moderate means.

With the idea in mind that the thrifty shopper is the early shopper, the Sylva shops began putting up their Christmas decorations and displaying their holiday merchandise, immediately after Thanksgiving, and most of the shops are now most attractive in their holiday attire.

The shops of Sylva invite the people of Jackson and the surrounding counties to visit them, and to bring the children to see the wonders from Santa Claus' toy shop.

Year by year Sylva has been progressing toward the point where it will be the Shopping Center of Southwestern North Carolina. Its shops compare most favorably with those of cities, and there is no longer any reason why the people of this territory should put themselves to the inconvenience and expense of driving 50 miles or more to a city to do their shopping.

BAPTIST PASTOR RESIGNS HERE

Rev. J. Gray Murray, pastor of the Sylva Baptist church, tendered his resignation to the church, at the morning service, last Sunday.

Mr. Murray has been in poor health for the past two years, and stated that he found that there are important duties connected with the pastorate of the church that he found himself unable to perform.

He is generally beloved by the people of his church and of the community, and they had hoped that the state of his health would improve sufficiently to permit him to continue his ministerial duties.

A year and a half ago, Mr. Murray offered the church his resignation; but instead of acting upon it, the church granted him an indefinite leave of absence, which he spent in rest, and regained sufficient strength to return to Sylva and again take up his duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray will leave about the first of the year for Cary, Wake county, where they will make their home. They leave behind them in Sylva a great many friends and admirers, who will regret to see them go.

QUALLA (By Mrs. J. K. Terrell)

Rev. F. E. Hartsfield preached a Thanksgiving sermon at the Methodist church, Sunday morning, from the text, "Thou openest thy hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing". He, with Mrs. Hartsfield, and Mr. J. K. Terrell, was a dinner guest at Mr. T. W. McLaughlin's.
