HONORED ON 88TH BIRTHDAY

Jeremiah Green, one of the oldest pioneers now living in Jackson county, was honored at a delightful gathering, on Sunday, May 23 in celebration of his eighty-eighth birthday anniversary. The affair was held at the home of his oldest daughter, Mrs. Eugenia Deitz, near Sylva, and was attended by about one hundred friends and relatives, including four children, nineteen grand-children, twenty-three great grand children, and one great-great-grandchild, making four generations of the descendants of Mr. Green present. Pictures of these and other family groups were made, to be presented to the honoree.

During the day conversation and reminiscences were enjoyed, Mr. Green adding much to the enjoyment of the guests by telling of his early childhood days and stories of his favorite sport, hunting.

At noon a most delicious picnic lunch was spread and enjoyed under the shade trees on the spacious lawn of the house.

Among the out of town guests were: Misses Mae, Viola and Fanny Deitz and Clyde Deitz, all of Belmont; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Deitz and small daughter, Barbara Ann; Wayne Deitz and Misses Mary Alice and Adrienne Stewart, all of Laurens South Carolina.
