

This Month On the Farm

THIS MONTH ON THE FARM

Extension specialists of State College recommend the following approved practices as suggestions for farm work during the month of March:

Agronomy

If you haven't finished sowing common, Tennessee 76, or Kobe 1-5 pederza, then get the job done right at the beginning of March, advise Enos C. Blair, State College extension agronomist. Broadcasting requires 35 to 40 pounds of seed to the acre, while 25 pounds is required if they are put in with the grain drill. Red clover and sweet clover also should be seeded this month.

Swine

If you have not already a portable weighing house for your swine, it is a good idea to get one now. It is a good idea to get one now. It is a good idea to get one now.

Dairy Cattle

The grazing of old pastures which are thin soils can be improved materially by giving them a top dressing in March of about 300 pounds of a 4-6-4 fertilizer. This same amount of fertilizer should be applied to the soil in the spring.

Poultry

To the poultryman, March is the beginning of the spring season, says Roy S. Dearstyn, head of the State College Poultry Department. Layers have peaked or are reaching peak.

Tuckasee Democrat, March 2, 1889

The little folks of Silva gave an entertainment in the parlor of the Hampton House, last Saturday night. The programme was an excellent one, and was carried out in a manner highly creditable to the children. The exercises were interspersed with music on the piano, violin, flute and triangle. The quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church was held at Junaluska school house on last Saturday and Sunday. Revs. Spake, Evas and West were in attendance. This is the first quarterly meeting for Wilmot—a good turnout and orderly behavior. The prospects are favorable for a good church house to be built soon in Wilmot. The storehouse at East LaPorte in this county, owned by Senator L. C. Smith, and occupied by G. D. S. Allen & Son, was destroyed by fire last Friday night, with all its contents. The stock of goods is estimated at $2500, and is said to have been insured for only $500. Several papers were all the money left in the store and they were afterward burned. The junior member of the arm, Dr. R. L. Allen, who lives in Waynesville, happened to have been at East LaPorte that day, but he, as well as Mr. P. C. Allen, who man-the business, had recently left the store to attend a debating society meeting in the neighborhood. The fire occurred about nine o'clock at night. — Jackson County Sunday School Convention will be held at East Fork, March 23th, and 24th of this month. The objects of this convention are to promote the Sunday School interested by the encouragement and establishment of schools to arouse communities to a sense of the importance of Sunday schools, and to bring about the best methods of conducting and instructing such schools.—The stewards of the M. E. church South, at Murphy, have decided to build a six hundred dollar parsonage, forthwith.—President Harbison's Cabinet: Secretary of State, Wm. G. Blaine, of Maine; Secretary of the Treasury, Wm. Windom, of Minnesota; Secretary of War, Tedfield Proctor, of Vermont; Secretary of the Navy, B. F. Tracy, of New York; Secretary of the Interior, J. W. Noble, of Missouri; Secretary of Agriculture, Jeremiah Rusk, of Wisconsin; Postmaster General, John W. Forney, of Pennsylvania; Attorney General, W. A. H. Miller, of Indiana.

Sunday School Convention To Be At East Fork

The Tuckasee Baptist Sunday School Convention will meet at the East Fork Baptist church, on Sunday afternoon, March 12. The session will open at 2 o'clock, with congregational singing. The devotional will be led by Mr. D. G. Bryson, of the Scott's Creek church. The next number on the program will be special music, at 2:15. The secretary's report, roll call of Sunday schools and reports will next be heard. An intermediate departmental demonstration will be in charge of Miss Gillian Wyatt, which will be followed by special music, and Rev. T. F. Deitz will discuss "What a Country-side Revival Will Mean to Our Sunday Schools." The meeting will close with the transaction of business matters of the convention and announcements. All Sunday schools in the association are urged to send representatives.

Days Guide

DETROIT, Mich. — These Debrmann Pinscher dogs, trained by Eugene Kelly of the Penthouse Kennels, lead their blind masters along the street here. The sightless men are (left), Dr. Glenn B. Wheeler of Detroit and Paul M. Brown of Toledo, Ohio, brother of Joe B. Brown, the film comedian.

The new Senate Bill and the Finance. That committee has been so busy that it hasn't had time to consider anything except the Revenue Bill. The Senate on County bill will be a matter of course as there is time to take it up.

Now is the time for a change in the way of doing things. It is not the younger generation expanding new ideas about life and how it should be lived, but the old saying goes, and to think that the old saying is a right way. It is not the younger generation expanding new ideas about life and how it should be lived, but the old saying goes, and to think that the old saying is a right way.

Sixty days is not enough time in which to intelligently manage the business of as big a corporation as North Carolina. That is why the General Assembly can't finish its work in that time. Passing laws, as they are generally thought of, is a small part of the work of the Assembly. It is in a fact the Board of Directors of the Corporation of North Carolina, and has the affairs of one of the biggest of all businesses to set in order for a two year period.

One thing to consider, by the counties away from Raleigh, when they talk about raising the pay of the teachers, is the fact that all salaries were reduced in 1933, and that everybody's except the teachers has been raised back to and in the higher brackets, above the level of 1933, except the teachers, and the small salaries. Then those salaries in the departments is largely spent in and about Raleigh, while the teachers, the highway guards, and the like spend theirs in the communities all over the state. That is a reason why there should be more equitable distribution of salaries. We don't mean that the state should spend more money on a teacher that it does on a state trooper, but a more equitable distribution.

Few people realize that the bill passed in the House Monday night, let it alone. Our Senator's son of our big inland sea, down east a Hydro-Plane Buick, in other words Uncle Sam is beginning to get ready to defend himself, and any quarter and the North Carolina lakes will form a great part of the defense, from the air, from attack along the Atlantic Seaboard, and of our South from possible enemy plane bases in Central and South America. That is the meaning of the bill that the General Assembly passed. And it may be a secret, but it is a secret. It is a secret, but it is a secret.

$30,000 to stop the Japanese Beetle and prevent federal quarantine on all movements of fruits, vegetable, flowers, and shrubs out of the state, is a small price to pay, in view of the emergency that threatened the agriculture of North Carolina from the top of the Smokies to the Atlantic. A stitch in time saves nine. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, etc. certainly applies in this case. Should the beetle be allowed to continue to spread in this state, the bill would go up to the millions each year, and we would have the foreign insect settled with us for keeps. Seeing the danger, Jackson's representative introduced the bill to provide the ammunition to start the fight to save the cabbage, apple, and bean growers of the west, our pastures in the mountains, the peach folk in the sandhills, the strawberry folk in the east, the corn fields, the lawns, the golf course, the trees in the yards and forests; and last but not least, to starve off the federal quarantine, which would have caused untold trouble and expense to the farmers, from the mountains to the sea.

Highest A new type of farm lease that gives both tenants and farm owners a break and can be read without the aid of a lawyer has just been drawn up by the Iowa State College Agricultural Economics Section.

Hard Farming Madison county farmers sell most of their product in the new state. Jackson County Agent C. W. Miller, the county has no factories, no tobacco warehouse no furniture plant, no hatchery or milk plant, no cannery or greenhouse, no feed lot cattle sold directly to the butcher nor any produce house.

It is not the slightest doubt in my mind that the tremendous changes in world affairs and human relations which are going on now are only a beginning. Changes will come faster and will be more far-reaching from decade to decade. The rapidity with which new discoveries are being made in the world of science, and the increasing ingenuity of men in applying the new discoveries to human use, are bound not only to change people's ways of living but their outlook on life—worldly.

There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that the tremendous changes in world affairs and human relations which are going on now are only a beginning. Changes will come faster and will be more far-reaching from decade to decade. The rapidity with which new discoveries are being made in the world of science, and the increasing ingenuity of men in applying the new discoveries to human use, are bound not only to change people's ways of living but their outlook on life—worldly.

There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that the tremendous changes in world affairs and human relations which are going on now are only a beginning. Changes will come faster and will be more far-reaching from decade to decade. The rapidity with which new discoveries are being made in the world of science, and the increasing ingenuity of men in applying the new discoveries to human use, are bound not only to change people's ways of living but their outlook on life—worldly.

There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that the tremendous changes in world affairs and human relations which are going on now are only a beginning. Changes will come faster and will be more far-reaching from decade to decade. The rapidity with which new discoveries are being made in the world of science, and the increasing ingenuity of men in applying the new discoveries to human use, are bound not only to change people's ways of living but their outlook on life—worldly.

There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that the tremendous changes in world affairs and human relations which are going on now are only a beginning. Changes will come faster and will be more far-reaching from decade to decade. The rapidity with which new discoveries are being made in the world of science, and the increasing ingenuity of men in applying the new discoveries to human use, are bound not only to change people's ways of living but their outlook on life—worldly.

What started me on this line of reflection is the retirement at the age of 82 of Judge Louis D. Brandeis of the Supreme Court of the United States. No member of the High Court has ever gained greater respect, but when President Wilson appointed him the people who were afraid of new ideas made a terrific fight to prevent his nomination. They did not object so much on the ground that he was the first Jew to be named to the Supreme Court, as that he had original ideas about the functions of Government and the rights of ordinary citizens under Government.

Lawyers believed that the law was fixed and established for all time. They did not want anybody to be a Supreme Court judge who thought the law and the functions of the court should change as conditions changed and people's ideas of the social order changed.

I think that the influence of Justice Brandeis on ideas of law and Government has been the most useful influence in my time.

DEMOCRACY experiment In the world-conflict of ideas that is raging at the present time, the real issue is between the idea of democracy and the idea of autocracy. Democracy, in the long history of mankind, is a very new idea indeed. It had its roots in the American colonies; its first large-scale expression was in the Constitution of the United States.

The first step toward democracy, in the sense of the word, was inaugurated by George Washington, was inaugurated President, just 150 years ago. On April 30, 1789. There were able men even then who doubted whether any government in which the common people

BEFORE NERVES GET HITRY, JUMPY... LET UP - LIGHT UP A CAMEL. RALPH S. WILLARD'S official work puts a premium on steady hands, steady nerves. It is a specialist in industrial chemistry—a job that causes plenty of strain or nerves. Says Mr. Willard: "I've found that tension doesn't get my nerves when I rest them regularly. My rule is a simple, enjoyable one—it's to let up and light up a Camel when I can. A moment's pause and a refreshing Camel help smooth out that feeling of tension."

Buckeye... You can travel anywhere, any day... on the SOUTHERN in coaches at... Round Trip Tickets Used in Sleeping and Parlor Cars on payment of proper charges for space occupied. PER MILE FOR EACH MILE TRAVELED. One Way Tickets Used in Sleeping and Parlor Cars on payment of proper charges for space occupied. PER MILE FOR EACH MILE TRAVELED. ENJOY THE SAFETY OF TRAIN TRAVEL.