$1.00 A YEAR IN ADVANCE IN THE COUNTY

Nationally Recognized "Grow American" Ad Repeated This Week

Numerous requests for the repetition of the "Grow American" advertisement of the Jackson County Bank, Allison Hardware, Sylva Supply Company and Builders Supply & Lumber Company, have been granted and the advertisement again appears in this issue of the Journal, in a double page spread. It originally appeared on May 8, and was seized upon by the United States government, and photostatic copies of it were made, and sent to all parts of the United States. The message of the advertisement is one of contributing to the National Defense by producing and conserving foods and feeds, and is addressed to the farm people of Jackson County and of North Carolina. It will be used in all parts of the country in promoting the National Defense on the farms of America. The National Defense heads realize the importance of growing foods and feed at home, for home consumption, in order to preserve the public health, and to help the people in the British Isles in their struggle for the preservation of Democracy. Then, too, many people have been obtaining foods from the surplus commodities. Those surpluses are rapidly dwindling and being wiped out, presenting to these people the problem of producing and conserving their own foods.

Men Twenty-One Since October 16 Must Register For Service On July 1st

Every man in the State of North Carolina who has attained the 21st anniversary of the day of his birth since October 16, 1940 (with a few exceptions) must register with his local Selective Service Board on July 1, State Director J. Van B. Metts stated today. Men required to register in this second registration are those who were born on or between October 17, 1919, and July 1, 1920.

Aliens, as well as American citizens, who become 21 years of age before midnight July 1, must register. Director Metts emphasized. He also pointed out that aliens between the ages of 21 and 36 years, who have come to the United States since the first registration on October 16, 1940 and have not yet registered, must register on July 1.

Special arrangements will be made by local boards to register men who cannot appear before the local board because of illness or incapacity. Men subject to registration who are inmates of asylums, jails, penitentiaries, or other similar institutions on July 1 will be registered by the warden on the day they leave the institution.

Men subject to registration on July 1 who are away from home and cannot, except at great expense and inconvenience, return to their own local boards to register, may appear before the nearest local board and will be registered there. Such men should be cautioned, however, to give their permanent addresses when registering, General Metts said.

Men who are required to register on July 1 and fail to do so will subject themselves to severe penalties, including imprisonment for not more than five years or a fine of not more than $10,000 or both fine and imprisonment, General Metts emphasized.

Young Musicians Play For Club Meeting Here

A group of young musicians from Cullowhee presented a musical program at the Sylva Rotary Club meeting Tuesday night. The group was composed of Helen Bird and Jane Elliott, who played violins, Elizabeth Ann Hunter, clarinet, and Anne Bird, at the piano. The group open their program with several selections from famous operas. Later each performed individually and the two violinists rendered a duet, followed by a piano duet by Miss Anne Bird and Miss Hunter. The four closed their program with a medley of familiar tunes.

All of the young ladies showed a great amount of talent and the club members were well pleased with the program. Raymond Sutton, president, reminded the members that the next meeting will be held on Thursday, June 26, at High Hampton Inn at which time ladies' night will be observed and officers will be installed.

The Journal Follows Men In U. S. Service To Training Camps

When the first contingent of selectees went to camp for one year's training, last November, The Journal adopted the policy of sending its paper to every man from Jackson county who is in the armed services of the country, free of charge, for the duration of the emergency.

We accepted this as a part of our contribution to the welfare, morale and well-being of the county's men in the defense forces. The list has grown week by week; until it has reached sizable proportions, and is steadily increasing. The Journal is and has been going to every man from this county, whose address we have been able to obtain.

The publishers of the The Journal are proud of our county paper, and we believe that the men will be and are proud to have a county paper of the character of the Journal, to read and to show to the men from other counties and other parts of the United States. It has long been known by newspaper and advertising experts that a community or a county is judged more by the character of its newspaper than by any other one agency.

On the other hand, The Journal is proud of the men from this county who are in the defense forces. We are proud of the record of North Carolina of having more men in the armed forces than any State in the Union, regardless of population; and we want our men to have their county paper.

Commerce Body Actively Opposes Stoppage Of Trains

The Jackson County Chamber of Commerce is active in its opposition to the discontinuance of the passenger, express, and mail trains on the Southern Railway lines through the county.

Notices were posted, last week in the stations of the railway stating that the company will petition the Utilities Commission for permission to discontinue the trains. This would leave all of North Carolina from Asheville to Murphy without passenger train service.

The Chamber of Commerce immediately wired the Utilities Commission requesting a hearing before any action is taken in the matter. R. O. Self, secretary of the commission, replied that no petition has yet been received; but that a hearing will be granted to the people of the territory affected, before the commission acts in the matter.

The Chamber of Commerce wrote to the chambers in Murphy, Andrews, Waynesville, Bryson City, and Canton, informing them of the activities here and soliciting their cooperation.

The Journal hazards no guess as to whether the order of Judge Johnston that Anne Trampler, Indian woman, remain out of Sylva for three years, and not take a drink in that time, would come under the Constitutional prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment. We know of people to whom either provision would be cruel. But, that was what the Judge told Anne, in superior court last week when she was found guilty of an assault. He sentenced her to 12 months in jail, and suspended the sentence upon provision that she refrain from intoxicating liquors, and stay out of the town of Sylva for three years.

A number of cash bonds were ordered forfeited, and the school fund of the county profited considerably thereby. Helen East-ridge had up a cash bond of $75 for driving drunk. She failed to appear, and the bond was forfeited. Carl Tritt was called and failed on a prohibition law charge, and his $100 went the same way. Janet Olinger was charged with drunk driving. She had up $100, and the court got it for the schools. H. P. Talbot was charged with drunk driving. His bond of $101 went to the schools. Howard Jones' $100 in cash was taken to the school fund, when he failed to appear to answer to a drunk driving charge. Ray M. Cope had up $100 in cash for his appearance to answer to the drunk driving charge, and the schools got that when he did not put in an appearance.

Garland Green drew $50 and costs for carrying a concealed weapon. Sherman Hunter, prohibition violation, $50 and costs.

Roy Settlemyer and Dollie Raby, F. and A., jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. Roy Settlemyer, assault with a deadly weapon, 18 months, suspended for three years.

Lillian Trampler, assault three years probation, under Mrs. Charles Hutchins, probation officer for women.

Sam George, assault, three years probation.

Major Sutton, forgery, two years probation.

Ruth Bryson and Sadie Hooper, assault and blocking the road, sentenced to serve two years at the Industrial Farm Colony at Kinston.
