AAA ENCOURAGES EXPANSION OF FARM STORAGE SPACE

Anticipating an increasing deficiency in grain storage space in many sections of the country, U. S. Department of Agriculture officials are urging farmers in North Carolina to expand storage facilities for all grains, it was announced by W. Herbert White of Caswell county, member of the state AAA committee.

"It now appears," Committeeman White said, "that with wholesale changes in the world marketing picture there will be increased need for storage facilities on the farm." gomery, Theodore Foster, Maize

Even now, the Caswell farmer added, storage space for mond McAvay, Richard Rarnal grain is lacking in many sections of the country.

son, Jefferson Toineeta, James "Terminal space will be tight Thomas Smonis, Glince James this Fall," he added, "and transportation will be available only all, Claude Dills McCall, Noah for grain having pre-arranged Cucumber, Joe David Buchanan, storage at its destination."

The AAA committeeman reminded that adequate storage facilities are necessary in order that eligible farmers may take advantage of government loans on any crop. Crops placed under government loan must be stored in bins or warehouses which meet government specifications for safe keeping of the commodities.

Farmers who increase farm storage facilities now will be protecting their own interests against possible future conditions under which terminal space would be inadequate to accommodate crops which must be stored. Here the committeeman cited the extremely unfavorable conditions under which Canadian wheat farmers tried to salvage 1940-41 grain, hundreds of thousands of bushels of which was left in the fields for months, exposed to the weather because storage space was lacking.

Jackson Men Appointed On FSA Committee

Seven Jackson County citizens have been named on committees to advise and assist in the operation of the rehabilitation and tenant purchase programs of the United States Department of Agriculture.

William G. Davis, Jackson County Supervisor for Farm Security Administration, announced the appointments made by Vance E. Swift, FSA State Director at Raleigh, North Carolina.

R. L. Ariail, Cashier of Jackson County Bank; Dan Tompkins, Editor of The Jackson County Journal; G. R. Lackey County Agent; A. W. Wilson, County Sanitarian; Dennis Higdon. Mr. Davis said that Mr. Higdon. Mr. Bryson and Mr. Dillard will serve as members of the subcommittee on the Tenant Purchase program; Mr. Ariail, Mr. Dillard, and Mr. Higdon will serve on the subcommittee for the Farm Debt Adjustment and tenure improvement work; Mr. Bryson, Mr. Jones, and Mr. Nicholson will serve on the subcommittee for the rural rehabilitation program. Mr. Tompkins, Mr. Lackey, and Mr. Wilson are members at large to advise on the various phases of assistance to low income farm families.

The Tenant Purchase program provides funds for the purchase of family type farms by qualified tenants under the Bankhead-Jones Tenant Purchase Act. Jackson County already has eleven new farmowners in this program. FSA rehabilitation loans are available to low income farm families ineligible for credit elsewhere, for the purchase of livestock, workstock, seed, fertilizer and equipment, in accordance with carefully planned operation of the farm and home. About 225 farm families in Jackson County have already been helped by this program.

The services of debt adjustment committeemen are available to all farmers, as well as to FSA borrowers. The committeemen will assist creditors and farm debtors to reach an amicable adjustment of debts based on the ability to pay. This serv-

Farm Security Administration is the agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture which assists the low income farm families to take full advantage of the other services of the national agricultural program, such as soil improvement, diversified farming, and increased production for home use, Mr. Davis said. It enables the disadvantaged farmers to make use of the improved farming practices developed by the Extension Service and State Agricultural Experiment Station, thereby encouraging them to become self-sufficient by producing a great majority of the food and feed needed on the

Due to the existing conditions in the world today, there is an urgent need for farmers of this country to prepare for any eventuality, put their shoulders squarely to the wheel and give our government all necessary aid in the present national emergency.

The Farm Security Administration stands ready to offer assistance to every farmer who may require it. Any farmer in Jackson County who needs help should feel free to visit the of-
