AS WORLD EVENTS UNFOLD

By DAN TOMPKINS

ATTACKS on American ships by Axis submarines and aircraft have taken the spotlight away from the huge battle raging in Russia, during the week first, the neutral ship, Zamzam was sunk, sailing the South Atlantic from the United States to a neutral port in Africa, and American lives were endangered. Then came the sinking of the American merchantman, Robin Moor, also in the South Atlantic.

American protests to Berlin go unanswered officially, though the unofficial spokesmen in Berlin and the German press have been particularly insolent in regard to these incidents. Then, within the last few days, the American destroyer, Greer, carrying mail to Iceland was attacked by a German submarine, the American freighter, Steel Seafarer, was sunk by aircraft in the Red Sea, and the American ship, though registered from Panama, owned by Americans and with an American crew was sunk by an undersea craft, as she was enroute to Iceland. In other words the war against America has started. Just why Hitler chose this particular moment to initiate deliberate provocation of America, when he has the Russian Bear by the tail, is difficult to decipher unless it be that he wishes to turn the attention of America toward the Atlantic and thus relieve the pressure against his wavering partner, Japan. Be that as it may, the war against America has definitely started. The shooting at us has begun. The freedom of the seas, perhaps the oldest of all America's foreign policies is definitely threatened. In but one instance has the fire been returned, and that was when the Greer dropped depth bombs back at the attacking submarine. Berlin impudently accuses President Roosevelt of deliberate provocation and pre-emption.

PRESIDENT Roosevelt returning to Washington from Hyde Park, where he buried his mother, Sara Delano Roosevelt, on Tuesday, will speak to the people of America and the world, Thursday night over the radio. There is much speculation as to what he will say, but it is generally agreed that the moment will be a momentous one. Isolationists are in a dither; but the rest of us expect him to reaffirm the American policy of freedom of the seas, our right to ply the high seas with our warships and our commerce, that the seas are as much ours as anybody's and that we do not propose to be driven from them by any warring nation, with the further assurance that American ships, American nationals, and American rights will be protected by the American government. For, it is stated in the preamble to the Constitution that the purpose of forming this Union of States, is to "form a more perfect union, provide for the common defense, and promote the general welfare."

LENINGRAD still holds out, with thousands of civilians filling the ranks of its defenders, whole German artillery shells the city of more than three million people, and German planes ceaselessly bomb it. Berlin asserts that the ancient capital of Peter the Great, the city of Lenin, is doomed. The people of Leningrad swear that they will defend it to the last drop of blood. Odessa way to the southern end of the long battle line, is also besieged. But, in the center of the line a massive Russian counter offensive, daily gaining momentum, is battling the Germans to break the center and thus force retreats from both ends of the line. That great battle, while not as spectacular as the siege of Leningrad, is the one that military observers throughout the world are watching. It is comparable to the Battle of the Somme in 1914, which checked the Germans, and

Community Hospital Must Be Supported Now Trustees Assure Paper

$1.00 a day, leaving the hospital to bear the balance, of $3.58. Col. Harris, it was stated, furnishes the hospital with light and fuel, and has occasionally made other donations, but these in no way approximate the cost of maintenance of the hospital. Last year, the audit shows that the net operating loss amounted to $1,104.46.

Although the hospital is a community hospital, and belongs to all the people of Jackson county, neither the county nor the town of Sylva makes a donation to its maintenance or support, except that the town furnishes free water, which amounts to $120 a year.

It is a non-profit organization, owned by the people of Jackson county, and operated for them by a Board of Trustees,

The Sylva Hospital is in danger of becoming lost, so it was explained to a representative of The Journal, by the Board of Trustees of C. J. Harris Community Hospital, the other day, unless the people of the county realize that the hospital is their hospital, just as the court house is their court house and the school houses are their school houses. The hospital does not belong to the doctors and the nurses any more than the court house belongs to the lawyers and the officials, or the school houses, to the teachers. They are all the property of the people of Jackson county, placed here for their use and their benefit.

Since the hospital was established here, it was pointed out, many lives have been saved, because emergency patients would every one of whom serves without compensation.

Mr. S. W. Enloe is the chairman of the Board of Trustees. Mr. E. L. McKee, treasurer, Mr. W. E. Bird, secretary, and Dan K. Moore, Paul Ellis, W. T. Wise, H. T. Hunter, Sol Schulman, M. D. Cowan, Thomas A. Cox, and J. Claude Allison, are the other trustees.

The physical property, which belongs to the people of Jackson county, is valued at $63,600.00. It cost the people nothing, for Col. Harris bought it and gave it to the people of this county, several years ago. Various individuals and organizations have from time to time made donations of equipment. And, it was stated, additional equipment and repairs are now needed, such as repairs to the roof, the installation of a heating plant, and of equipment.

Support of their hospital by the people of the county was urged by the trustees.

BOY ON BICYCLE HIT BY TRUCK HERE SATURDAY

Raymond Nicholson, Jr., was knocked from his bicycle and suffered a broken left leg, Saturday night, when he was struck by a light truck driven by G. B. Hall, of the Savannah section of the county.

The lad was taken to the Community hospital, where his injuries were treated, and is reported as resting comfortably.

According to statements made by witnesses, young Nicholson was on the right side of the street, close to the curb, when the truck made a left hand turn into Walnut street from Main, near the Lloyd Hotel. The driver of the truck assisted in taking the boy to the hospital.

BROWN MADE OFFICER

David H. Brown, Jr., of Cullowhee, who recently received his master's degree, has been appointed Lieutenant in the Ordnance Department of the United States Army, and is stationed at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Aberdeen, Maryland.

have died, had there been no hospital here, and they transported to some other hospital farther away. Time in many cases, it was pointed out, is most valuable, and frequently it is a race between death and the patient hospital-bound. In those cases, it was explained, every minute counts, and minutes lost often mean lives lost.

Should the hospital be forced to close by reason of lack of adequate support by its owners, these emergency cases would be put in precarious position for their lives, the trustees stated.

Trustees asserted that the impression has gone out that the hospital is supported anyway by the Duke Foundation, Col. Charles J. Harris, and other donors. For every case that the Duke Foundation helps to pay, it was stated, the hospital loses $3.58, because the cost of hospitalization is $4.58 per day, and the Duke Foundation pays only

Rules Of The Road

Sec. 104, Motor Vehicle Laws of North Carolina:- "Whenever any person driving a vehicle approaches a highway and interurban or steam railway grade crossing and a clearly visible and positive signal gives warning of the immediate approach of a railway train or car, it shall be unlawful for the driver of the vehicle to fail to bring the vehicle to a complete stop before traversing such grade crossing."

This means that you are required by law to come to a full stop at all railroad crossings where a light or bell device warns of the approach of a train. You also are required to stop at crossings marked by an official eight-sided, black and yellow STOP sign, whether any automatic signal device is present or not. Of course, all school trucks, and passenger buses are required to come to a complete stop at all railroad crossings.

Meeting of Vehicles

Sec. 110, Motor Vehicle Laws of North Carolina:- "Drivers of vehicles proceeding in opposite directions shall pass each other to the right, each giving to the other at least one-half of the main-traveled portion of the roadway as nearly as possible."

In other words, share the road. Don't drive on the other fellow's half of the highway.
