Bible School Over At M. E. Church

The Sylva Methodist church Vacation Bible School, headed by the Rev. Robert G. Tuttle and Mrs. David M. Hall, director, has concluded most interesting courses of study in all departments.

The school opened each morning at 9:30 with a devotional period, led by the pastor and an alternate days by the children of the various departments. Mrs. Paul Ellis, a talented pianist, played each morning for the devotional and afterwards in each department, teaching the children songs that were new to them. The music added greatly in making the school more interesting to the children.

The study course, recess, and vocational period made up each day's program. Mrs. Howard Crawford was in charge of the intermediates. Mrs. E. J. Duckett led the junior boys and Miss Mary McLain the junior girls. Mrs. J. Walter Hartman, Mrs. Paul Kirk and Mrs. Gene Hinson were leaders in the beginners department, with an enrollment of twenty-two, the largest group in the school.

Mrs. Ed Baldrige and Mrs. Fred Sutton cleverly led the nursery children.

At the end of the first week of the Bible school, the Woman's Society of Christian Service treated the children to ice cream and cookies.

Mr. Tuttle and Mr. Paul Kirk took the boys on an all night camping trip in the mountains.

The Vacation Bible School, one of the largest and most interesting ever held in Sylva, had an enrollment of sixty children.

The children gave a Rally Day program at the Sunday School hour, Sunday morning, at which time beautiful certificates for regular attendance at the Bible school were awarded.

CONGRESSMAN Z. WEAVER

Renominated without opposition. He has served this district in Congress through two wars.

REGISTRATION FOR CANNING SUGAR TO BE HELD BY P. T. A.

The Parent-Teachers Associations of the county will hold the registration for sugar for canning purposes at the school houses in Jackson county on next Tuesday and Wednesday, June 9 and 10, according to announcement made by the rationing board. The Parent-Teachers have volunteered to do this work at the request of the Rationing Board.

The Rationing Board announces that an allowance will be made for one pound of sugar for every four quarts of fruits and berries to be canned; and an additional one pound for each member of the family for the purposes of making jams, jellies, and preserves.

Arrangements have been made for registrants to be at each school house in the county, regardless of whether the school has a Parent-Teacher Association.

BABY CHOKES TO DEATH SUNDAY ON AN ICE CREAM CONE

Jackie, 18 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allison, died in a Franklin hospital, Sunday afternoon, a few hours after he had been choked on a piece of ice cream cone.

The Allison family was enjoying a picnic near Franklin, and the baby was eating an ice cream cone, when part of the cone went down the child's windpipe. His parents rushed him to the hospital in Franklin, where he died a short time after an operation was performed to remove the obstruction.

The funeral was at Sylva Monday afternoon. And interment was in the Love's Chapel cemetery.

On The Tar Heel Front In Washington

By ROBERT A. ERWIN And FRANCES McKUSICK

Washington—If ever there were two groups of people who are feeling the "pinch of priorities" during the war, it's the farmers and little businessmen. However, we believe there is no state whose Representatives have worked harder for these two groups than the North Carolina delegation. Not only have its members voted straight down the line for relief of these two groups, but Tar Heel Representatives on Capitol Hill each week work diligently to see that farmers and little businessmen are given as much consideration by War Production Board experts as is humanly possible under the present stringent "all out war effort."

Let's look behind the scenes in the Tar Heel offices for a minute or two and see exactly what's been done for these two groups in the last week or ten days alone.

Representative John H. Kerr, member of the House Appropriations Committee, a farmer himself and one who is always in close touch with the problems of tobacco farmers, has found that unless something drastic is done about the fuel oil allotment, many tobacco farmers will find themselves unable to cure this year's crop. A large number of farmers, he said, are equipped to cure their tobacco only by fuel oil. Most of them could not bear the added financial burden of turning their oil stoves into wood burners, and many feel that even if they could afford it, lack of priorities would prevent them from getting the necessary metal.

Another problem of both farmers and small business people which has already been taken care of, through the hard work of North Carolina Congressmen, is that of the "back haul" trucking order. In April, the Office of Defense Transportation issued an edict that any truck carrying a load more than 15 miles from its starting point must be 100 per cent full going out, and carry a 75 per cent load capacity on the way back.

Farmers and small manufacturers and business men who wanted to deliver a truckload of goods obviously would have to stay at home because of the provisions of this order, unless by some arrangement they could either haul back a load, or could afford to buy a return truckload of merchandise for themselves. Any trucker would be exempt from this order if he were delivering a government order, of course, but this nature.

DAN TOMPKINS

Theodore Snyder Missing In Action

Theodore Snyder of Dillsboro has received a message from the War Department stating that his son, Private James F. Snyder, is missing in action. The young man, aged 25, was serving with the 31st Infantry Battalion on Bataan Peninsula, the last that his family heard of him. They were informed by the Red Cross on May 7 that he was "alive and well."

James F. Snyder enlisted in the army more than a year ago, and had been stationed at Manila for the past twelve months.

He has eight brothers and sisters, Jackie Sue and Betty Ann Snyder, of Canton; Margaret, Ruth and Ray Snyder, and Mrs. Fred Cagle, of Spartanburg, S. C.; and H. R. Snyder and Lucille Snyder of Dillsboro.

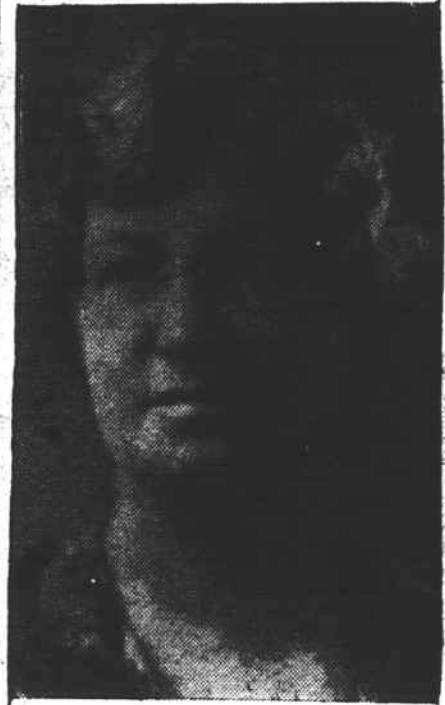

BUMGARNER RESIGNS FROM DRAFT BOARD

Lewis Bumgarner, who has been a member of the Jackson County Selective Service Board since it was organized more than a year ago, has tendered his resignation, and Dillard Coward has been appointed to succeed him. Mr. Bumgarner, who has been engaged in the automobile sales business here for several years, has gone to Newport News, Virginia, to accept a position, and that is the reason for his resignation from the board.

Mr. Coward, Sylva barber, is a veteran of the World War. The board is now composed of J. Claude Allison, chairman, Edward Bryson, and Dillard Coward.

The Navy's largest flying boat has 8,000 horsepower, which in any language is quite a few horses.

MRS. E. L. MCKEE

Was unopposed for State Senator in last Saturday's Democratic Primary.

DEWEY JONES DROPS DEAD AT BETA HOME

Dewey Jones dropped dead at his home at Beta yesterday morning. Although he had been up and about for some time, Mr. Jones had been in ill health for the past two years. Surviving are his widow; two children, and several brothers and sisters.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at Scott's Creek Baptist church, with Rev. B. S. Hensley and Rev. Thad F. Deitz conducting. Interment will be in the Old Field cemetery.

Ashe, Holden Again Named To Fill Offices

T. Walter Ashe, present Commissioner of Finance, received a plurality of 110 votes over Frank Hall, the runnerup in last Saturday's primary, and will be accorded the nomination, since it is certain that Mr. Hall will not call a second primary. John H. Morris was a close third in the race, trailing Hall by only 92 votes.

At the same time Sheriff Leonard Holden was nominated for a second term as sheriff, receiving a majority of 1364 over Fred Sutton.

The new board of county commissioners will be Ed Fisher of Sylva and J. C. Passmore of Cashier's Valley, these men being the high two in a four man race. The other two contestants were W. S. Fowler of Hamburg, and Cleve Fisher of Hamburg. Mr. Fisher is a member of the present board.

The entire old board of education, composed of C. E. Smith, John Hooper, John B. Deitz, J. H. Middleton, and D. H. Stephens was renominated, defeating J. C. Long of Mountain and Will Breedlove of Cashier's Valley.

Dan Tompkins was nominated to head the ticket as candidate for representative in the General Assembly, without opposition. Roy M. Cowan, Clerk of the Court, and Glenn Hughes, Register of Deeds, were also renominated for their present positions without opposition.

Mrs. E. L. McKee had no opposition in the primary as one of the senators from the 32 Senatorial District. The other senator nominee is J. T. Bailey of Canton, who defeated Grover C. Davis in the Haywood County primary. The district is now composed of Polk, Henderson, Haywood, Transylvania, and Jackson with two senators. This year, under the rotation agreement, Jackson and Haywood have the senators.

Senator J. W. Bailey swept the county and the state to be returned by an overwhelming majority over R. T. Fountain. In this county, Senator Bailey received 2650 votes to 484 for Mr. Fountain.

All the officers nominated in the county, except the State Senator, Representative and members of the Board of Education were nominated for terms of four years. Sheriff Holden was first nominated by the executive committee after the death of the late Charles C. Mason. The people voted a constitutional amendment extending the terms of sheriffs in this state to four years. Then the General Assembly made all the county offices four year terms. Thus the commissioners, the Commissioner of Finance, and the Register of Deeds now have four year terms. The office of Clerk of the Superior Court has always been for four years.
