HOME HAPPENINGS.

—Free lunch at the "Big Casino," this evening. John T. plays the organ, but who will play the drum?

—Mr. J. B. Williams and wife have moved into the Woodward house near the railroad, and will open it at an early day as a boarding house.

—Parties desiring to lease a good hotel, in a large town, well patronized by Northern people, will do well to address this office.

—Julius Lewis & Co., the live Hardware merchants of Raleigh, call attention to a new advertisement in this issue.

—A M. Clark and wife of Pennsylvania, are stopping at the Prospect house. On account of Mrs. Clark's impaired health they will remain during the winter.

—R. M. Couch of Keyser, has been engaged part of the past week in tearing down the old boarding house near the railroad. The material will be taken to J. T. Patrick's experimental farm to be used in constructing out-buildings.

—Fred L. Brown, the efficient and agreeable representative of J. L. Stone, of Raleigh, was in town Friday looking after the interest of the firm in the way of piano tuning. Mr. B. is recently from Titusville, Pa., and we hope he will favor us with another call at an early day.

—U. T. John, a prominent lawyer from Shamokin, Pa. with Dr. C. W. Weaver and B. R. Keller of the same place, spent Wednesday and Thursday at this place. The gentlemen expressed themselves as highly pleased with our place and avowed their intention of returning. While here they were entertained by mine host Wilson, the jolly post-master.

—Frank Howell, Vice Prest. of the Merchants and Mechanics Bank, of Scranton, Pa., with W. W. Paterson, of the same place, and J. C. Wells and W. B. Barnes, both prominent business men of Wilkesbarre, Pa., arrived in town on Saturday evening in company with F. W. Clark, Gen. F. & P. Agent and State Commissioner J. T. Patrick. From here they went to Hoffman.

—Wilson's codfish has arrived.

—Work on A. F. Page's new hotel is progressing finely.

—John H. Pomeroy, publisher the Daily Repository, Chambersburgh, Pa. and L. D. Ryder of the same place, passed through here on the early mail train Tuesday morning. In conversation with the gentlemen, during the day pleasantly spent at Raleigh, we were informed of their favorable impression of the Tar Heelers, and their intention to return in November.

—Lake Lauderdale, which was drawn down about four weeks ago, has now dried sufficiently to allow the bottom to harden as well as the few remaining fish to stink. The lake has been "damned," very emphatically, during the past two weeks, and now won't the committee on "joys and sorrows," see to it that this lovely sheet (of water) once more sparkles in the moonlight.

—At last! the fond hopes that we had almost buried in the sand and covered over with clods of forgotten promises, is about to assume definite shape, and ere long the morning sun will kiss the roof of a neat and much needed building that will have its "grip" immediately in front of the spot where once stood "our boarding house." Full particulars later on.

—We note with pleasure that our North Carolina health resort, Southern Pines, is getting well upon its feet as an assured entity, and is already attracting many people from the North to its health-giving climate. There is one first-rate hotel completed and prospering, another of the same sort rapidly approaching completion, and a third in prospect which is to be very much larger than either of the two first mentioned. Then there are other features which indicate that the resort is to be successful even beyond the anticipations of its projectors. Certainly the climate of the place is almost perfect, and this fact alone would take an ever-increasing number of people there. But now that not only comfortable but elegant accommodations can be guaranteed all who go, we would not be surprised to see a mild rush to the Pines with the beginning of cold weather.—News & Observer.

FAIR HAVEN.

—Cooler! and oh, how the cotton pickers rejoice!

—Cotton is looking well. The stalk is small, but fully balled.

—There have been several cases of remittent fever in this section, but all of them are either well or improving.

—Fair Haven has her share of bachelors. There are nearly a dozen of them, ranging in age from 23 to 35, and in height from 5 feet 2 to 6 feet.

—Mr. C. H. Womble killed a German carp in Deep River that weighed 13 pounds. How it got there is a mystery, as none have ever been put in.

—The farmers have finished pulling fodder and report the corn crop considerably damaged, along the river, by the freshet the first of July.

CARTHAGE.

—Mr. Samuel Vick, a venerable citizen of this county, died on the 4th inst.

—The County Democratic Executive Committee held a meeting on Monday and fixed upon the 18th for the opening of the canvass.

—The Board of County Commissioners and the Board of Education were in session on Monday, and transacted the usual routine business.

—The Republican Convention which met here Saturday, nominated Col. W. B. Richardson for the State Senate; D. C. McKinnon, Esq. for the House of Representatives.

—Mrs. J. W. Feagan of this town was baptised by immersion, on the 6th. The rite was administered by Rev. J. F. Moore. This makes the 19th admitted to the Baptist church here recently.

—G. W. Prochnow, a German, who has lived in this county several years, died of Paralysis at the residence of Mr. L. Grimm, four miles from town, on the 3rd inst. He was a skillful mechanic and draughtsman, and leaves a wife and two daughters in Baltimore.

—Maj. C. W. McClammy, candidate for Congress from this District, spoke here on Monday, at Parkwood Monday night, at Carter's Mills, Tuesday and at Cameron, Tuesday night. He made a fine impression here.

—Mr. Fordham Blackman, living a few miles north of town, killed a pigeon a few days ago, on whose wing was stamped the following inscription: "Alonzo Fulton, 1943 Park Place, Philadelphia."

JONESBORO.

—Cotton to-day brings 9 cents.

—The nights are pleasant reminders of the long winter evenings when the PINE KNOT will be doubly appreciated.

—Miss Mary Lee Seawell is convalescent, and the Seawell School is again in operation.

—We understand that J. K. Perry is a candidate for the office of Register of Deeds, in opposition to J. B. Cole, the present incumbent.

—The Library Society meets to-night. The Executive Committee always manage to get up an entertaining programme.

—We are informed that the ladies of the Parsonage Aid Society are arranging to regale us on cake, ice cream and flowers next Friday night.

—Invitations are out for a general picnic at the Jumbo Tobacco Warehouse, on the 15th, inst. The public are cordially invited to attend.

—Jonesboro, up to date, has bought over three hundred bales of cotton this season. McIver and Dalrymple alone have purchased over one hundred and fifty bales.

—Miss Carrie Pell, of Greensboro is visiting Mrs. R. Bryan. Bashful young men loiter as they pass by the gate with a "so near, and yet so far" expression that is pitiful to see.

—The Jonesboro High School, under the wise management of Professor R. H. Broom and his able assistant, has a steadily increasing patronage. The Professor possesses that happy combination of gentleness and firmness so indispensable in teaching the young idea to shoot straight.

PROSPERITY.

—Farmers are looking for better times next year.

—Here's hoping that the PINE KNOT may always bear the pleasant face it now wears! May it not be a pine knot in the muddy place, wasting its heart away, but rather the pine knot on the flinty ridge, enduring forever!

—The large store of W. K. Jackson & Co. has been enlarged to hold their well-selected stock of goods. Repairs are being made at their mills, under the direction of N. A. Shields, foreman.
