COMMUNICATIONS.

POCKET.

Rev. Mr. Law preached an excellent sermon at Pocket church on Sunday night.

Mr. Dan Underwood's little girls are still very sick with Meningitis.
Measles is raging also in this vicinity.
Mr. Dan McLauchlin, of Winder, spent Saturday and Sunday on the Pocket. His many friends were glad to see him.

Prof. B. W. Young, Principal of Pocket High School is now assisted by his daughter, who also teaches music.
The school is flourishing. They are first-class instructors and deserve a good patronage.

Mr. W. B. Campbell has the contract for building ten houses for the Egypt Coal Mine Company.

Roads are almost impassable. It rains nearly every day, and mud is very convenient.

Pocket people enjoy a good Sunday school and prayer meeting every Sunday. WILD ROSE.

CAMERON.

Where, oh where! is our LEADER?
Can't you get it to Cameron the same week it is published? If not, just say so, and we will try and go after it.
Think we can beat the mail route.

We recently took a short trip above and around Carthage, she is about to outgrow all of her old clothes. Were it not for Mr. Hunsucker's old shoe shop, we boys would hardly know which of us got there.

Small grain makes a poor show as yet. Some are making preparation for a big crop this year—the biggest move that we noticed was that of A. J.
Lawhon and J. E. Benner preparing for cotton and tobacco. They have seven short cotton beds ready and two small blackjacks cut for the purpose of burning tobacco beds. But we must hush, as some are already way-laying us on the road, wish we knew whether they have concealed weapons or not.

If it did not rain too hard, Mr. Kenneth McDonald and Miss Jannie Ferguson were married last night. May happiness attend them, and plenty of this world's goods be their portion.

Keep still; we have just got our Leader. It is one week old.

We are off for the Fair. Will call in the Borough. Please have us a snack, as we are dry! dry!! and hungry!!! If you see Jim Harrington, Bill Caddell, or any of our boys, please let us know. They are out looking for a lost "hoss." They have found him, just as and where we expected.
Will try and report matters at the Fair, if not too nervous.

TRINITY COLLEGE. FEBRUARY 14th, 1891.

We are in the midst of class football match-games. Last Saturday the Soph. team played the Fresh. team, 22 to nothing; to-day the Seniors played the Juniors 18 to 10; next Saturday the Sophomores will play the Seniors for the championship of the College.
The games are intensely interesting.

Mr. A. H. Powell, of New-Berne, N. C., has been elected Chief Marshal, by the Columbian Society, and Mr.
J. H. Crowell, of Penn., Chief Manager, by the Hesperian Society, for Commencement. Excellent selections.
These chiefs are selected from the Junior Class, and they select their subs. from the Sophomore and Freshmen Classes.

Rev. D. H. Tuttle, of Tarboro, has been selected to preach the sermon at Commencement before the Y. M. C.
A. His record is so well known as a consecrated working man of God that it is not necessary to comment on the wisdom of the selection.

Our Y. M. C. A. is in excellent condition. Mr. Coulter, State Secretary, was with us last Thursday night and made us an excellent talk on the intercollegiate work of the Association.

A question on examination in Political Economy: "If Ethics and Political Economy were divorced what would be the result?" Answer—"Perish to death from starvation."

We are just through with our first monthly examinations. In these if a student gets 85 it is final for that.

Mr. Merritt is not only enjoying good health now, but he is in the possession of a box of inestimable violets.
He does not know now, whether he had La Grippe or La Grippe had him.

Tell "Old Crutch" he will think somebody else is "tending to our business" before April showers come if cupid's subjects have made no mistake.

BROADWAY.

Our Mr. Watson informs us that trade was never better here than at present.

We learn through N. D. Underwood that W. A. Kelly, of Jonesboro, will soon have a soap manufactory in full blast. Mr. Vance Badders, of Chatham, spent a day or two with us, the past week. He represents the Alliance Plow as being as "catching" as itch.

Married at the residence of the bride's mother near Broadway, by M.
M. Watson, Esq., James P. Rosser, of Harnett county, to Joanna Harrington, of Broadway.

Died at his home in Harnett county, on the 10th inst., Dr. J. R. Buchanan.
The Dr. leaves one sister and a large circle of friends to mourn his loss.

Mess. R. B. Douglas & Co., are making preparations for the next turpentine crop.

Col. D., an old friend of ours, who is a very temperate man, and a little hard of hearing, was traveling the Lillington road below here, a few days ago, and found a wagon whip. Riding on, he overtook a wagoner who recognized and claimed the whip, and the Col. returned it to him. The wagoner proposed to present the Col. with a half a pint of onion sets. The Col. catching the half-pint part, thought it was whiskey, and remarked, riding on and shaking his head. "No, no, I never drink anything." The wagoner made another effort to make himself understood, but he could not get the Col. to understand.

The papers now have it that the Wilmington Messenger will be continued about four months under its present management, after which it will be disposed of. We see it stated that two parties, one from Chicago and the other from New York, want to buy the Messenger, and convert it into an 8 column folio.

THE Legislature will probably reduce the legal rate of interest to six per cent. Whether this will be beneficial or not remains to be seen.

There are well grounded fears that such a course will simply serve to reduce the amount of money now in circulation in North Carolina. If such be its effect, then indeed will the passage of such a bill be unfortunate.

THE Editor was prevented from attending Chatham Court last week, on account of a severe attack of muscular rheumatism, from which he has not yet entirely recovered.

He makes this statement that it may serve as an explanation to his Chatham County clients, lest they should imagine that he had deserted them in their day and hour of trial.

He promises not to do so any more, if he can possibly help it.

RALEIGH has raised the requisite $10,000, and now she will have the exposition.

In this respect she is particularly fortunate, and we doubt not that her business men will reap abundant reward as the result of their enterprise.
And the State at large will be greatly benefitted, in that there will be a great display of her magnificent and varied resources, pleasing to the eye, and ravishing to the senses.

The advertisement will be extensive and will undoubtedly pay well, as does all judicious advertising.

An excellent article appeared last week in the Greenville Watch Tower, and the Eastern Reflector, being copies of a paper read by Miss Nannie M. Seawell, of Jonesboro, before an Educational or Literary Society in Pitt County, advocating the claim of girls for greater educational advantages.

It abounds in sarcasm of the most cutting kind, and the arguments strike fairly home.

When it is considered who is the author, it is needless to state that the paper is remarkably well-written, and the subject treated in a masterly manner.

THERE is a growing sentiment in favor of extending the Atlantic & N.
C. Railroad from Goldsboro westward to some point on the line of the C. F.
& Y. V. Road, as contemplated in a bill now pending in the Legislature, granting them a charter for such extension, and prescribing the means by which it may be lawfully done.

If an extension is to be made on the ground, as well as on paper, we suggest that the objective point on the C.
F. & Y. V. Ry. should be either Jonesboro or Sanford, crossing the Cape Fear River near Lillington in Harnett County.

This would open up a section of country through which there is no railroad now, and which abounds in timber, as well as being finely adapted to the cultivation of cotton, tobacco, grasses and the cereals, to say nothing of the peculiar adaptation of a considerable portion to the cultivation and growth of orchards, vines and small fruits.

A number of fine farms, orchards and vineyards along the proposed line attest the desirable qualities of the soil.
