COMMUNICATIONS.

CARTHAGE.

Peaches are getting ripe. Rev. J. J. Harrell, who recently returned from Brazil, gave a lecture in the Presbyterian church Thursday night, on "The needs of that country as it lies dominant under the hands of the Roman Catholic Church."

Mrs. A. V. Dockery will sail for England, her former home, in a few days.

Miss Ella and Fannie McNeill have returned home from Hillsboro Female College, where they have been going to school for some time.

Messrs. A. H. McNeill and J. C. Black have laid off 88 building lots in the "Barrett Old Field." These lots are all within the corporate limits of the town, directly on the line of the Carthage Railroad, and it is one of the prettiest locations in the place.

Mr. W. B. Waddell, who has been on the sick list for a few days, is up again.

Mr. Oliver Dockery, jr., and sister, Miss Carrie May, of Richmond County are visiting relatives and friends in town.

Communion services at Union church last Sunday conducted by Rev. M. McG. Shields.

Mr. M. McL. Kelly, our worthy Register, who lives about three miles from town, is having his house painted.

Odd-Fellowship seems to be prospering here. We learn that there are seven applications for initiation into the Encampment which has just been organized here.

Miss Ada Humber has gone to Greenville, N. C., to spend a few days with relatives and friends.

It was our pleasure to listen to two sermons in the Methodist church on Sunday, by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Hornaday, in his own original, impressive and pointed style. They were both good, but the one on Sunday night is not excelled by any man we have ever heard.

At the residence of the bride's father on June 4th, Mr. Clark Sears and Miss Henrietta Cockman were united in the bonds of holy wedlock by Accommodore Muse, Esq., all of Carthage township.

AMICUS.

CAMERON.

Harvest is upon us, grain is good, but then there was not an average crop sown in this neighborhood.

Rain! Well, we forbear to say any thing about it; the sun is shining now; if it keeps in sight for a few more days we expect to finish planting.

John Richardson sent for us this morning to go and view his cotton forms, but our old blister is off on a bust, and we were busy getting roasting ears, cucumbers, tomatoes and such like for dinner,—if you were here would just let you smell our sweet milk and peaches.

We have a curiosity, but can't take it to your office, as it consists of a patch of cotton that is free from grass and weeds.

Mr. William Monroe died on Sunday last, from wounds inflicted by his own horse.

We have not been in Cameron enough recently to tell who is there or what is being done.

The stockholders of Crane's Run Factory are very anxious about their business agent. We can say that we know him personally, and that he is just now busy "tending his crap" and reading his Bible. In the first he finds plenty of grass and mud, in the other he finds comfort; and also that Martha and Mary had a brother, and that Joseph had a coat of many colors.

The Bare pork eaten by the inhabitants of Winder, is about to cause them to establish an emigration bureau.

THE FERTILIZER CASE.

A Shortage Discovered in the Guano of the Durham Fertilizer Company.

For several days it has been rumored that a shortage in the per centage standard of the goods sold by the Durham Fertilizer Company had been discovered by the Agricultural Department. It is now learned from the Department that such is the case, and that on June 9th, the following letter was written to the officials of the Durham Fertilizer Company.

"Enclosed we hand you an analysis of your goods made by the State chemist, drawn by our inspector from goods found at Mebanesville in the hands of J. R. Smith, which shows a deficiency of $2.43 per ton. According to the provisions of law these goods stand condemned and are subject to confiscation and sale. Acting under the rule heretofore practiced by the Department, we will agree to release the goods by your assuming to reimburse the farmer by paying back to each purchaser of a ton or fraction thereof the difference between your guarantee and the finding of the chemist. If this arrangement is accepted the payment to the farmers must be immediate. Otherwise we shall proceed at once to the sale of the goods now in the hands of the said J. R. Smith.

Very respectfully,
JOHN ROBINSON, Com'r."

The Company agreed to the demand of the Department to reimburse every purchaser of a ton of fertilizer, with the amount of the shortage, $2.43, and in proportion for parts of tons, and Commissioner Robinson wrote Mr. Smith, the Alliance agent at Mebanesville, to this effect, and asked him to send a list of parties who had received fertilizers, and stating that the Durham Fertilizer Company had agreed to furnish funds to reimburse them.

The Farmers' Alliance is under contract with this company through its State Business Agent, Mr. Worth, for 10,000 tons of this guano for the use of Alliancemen in the State, and the goods has fallen $2.43 below the required and guaranteed standard. A considerable quantity of this contract has already been delivered.

It is unfortunate that those who had charge of the mixing of the guano made this mistake, probably in their endeavor to come as near to the requirement as possible without going beyond it.

The gentlemen who compose the company are of the highest character.—News-Observer.

Washed Out of Their Home.

The town of Ashley, forty miles north of Columbus, Ohio, on the Big Four Road, adopted a novel but effective means of reform on Monday night. A white family and a negro family have given offense to the good people of the town by living together in the same house, which was a resort for bad characters. The families were given to understand that it would be prudent for them to leave town, but they did not take the gentle warning.

At midnight about 40 masked citizens seized a fire engine, and drawing it up in front of the house turned on the hose, literally washing the inmates along with their furniture out of the place. The weatherboarding being old, the house was well siph demolished by the force of the stream.

Big Foot on a Big Man.

An iron last was made at Martin's Ferry recently for Rev. John Farnhome, of Charlotte, N. C., which was 20 1/2 inches long and 7 1/2 inches wide. The colored preacher who owns the big foot is six feet and ten inches high and weighs 410 pounds.

Important Lawsuit.

A case which will be a test of hat trimming cases against the Government is now before the U. S. Circuit Court in Philadelphia. For several years the importers of ribbons, etc., for trimming-hats have been required to pay thirty per cent. more duty than they claimed they ought to pay under the tariff act, and some of them instituted suit against the Government to recover the excess which they had paid. The aggregate value of the goods on which refunding is claimed is put down at from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000, on which the duty to be refunded would be from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000, to come out of an almost empty treasury. The peculiar feature of these cases is that if the verdict be in favor of the claimants it will be a clear make of from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 for them, minus lawyer's fees. For when they paid the duty demanded on the imported trimmings they added that duty to the price when they were sold, and thus they got back the duty which they had paid. Now if they win their suit they get back the $20,000,000 or $30,000,000 paid and will be just that much ahead. Hon. John Wanamaker has a finger in this pie to the amount of several hundred thousand dollars.—Wilmington Star.

Another Strong Protectionist.

There's a young man in Detroit who will be a famous statesman one of these days, if by some unlucky fate he is not called upon to fill a premature grave. The other night he was paying his usual semi-weekly devotions at the shrine of his best girl, and the talk turned upon politics, as talk will do sometimes when trod upon.

"Tell me, Harry," she said, "what is the difference between protection, freetrade and reciprocity?"

"Certainly Darling," he responded in free, silvery tones, drawing about half an inch nearer to her, which was all there was to draw. "You see it is this way; if for instance, we should kiss each other, that would be freetrade."

"Oo," she twittered, with a dainty little twitter.

"If," he continued, "I should kiss you and you should kiss me in return, that would be reciprocity."

"Oo, oo," she twittered, with two dainty twitters.

"And lastly," he went on, "if you should kiss me and I should take a dozen from you to pay for the privilege you enjoy that would be protection."

"Oo, oo, oo, Harry," she twittered, in consecutive bunts of dainty little twitters, concluding with an explosive hug; "I'm in favor of protection." and the young man concluded with her unanimously.—Detroit Free Press.

Disastrous floods are reported from the Red River section of Texas. Thousands of acres of growing crops have been destroyed, and a large number of houses swept away, and hundreds of cattle, hogs and chickens drowned. Several bodies of drowned persons have been found.

A committee, composed of about one hundred Southern gentlemen, have been to Washington, and invited President Ben Harrison and his cabinet to attend the Exposition at Raleigh during October and November. The President did not promise to come.

Three young ladies and two young gentlemen captured a sea turtle at Wrightsville last week weighing 600 lbs. So says the Star. A day or later another one was captured weighing 300 lbs.

Trinity College last week conferred the degree of D. D. upon Rev. W. H. Moore, of Fayetteville, and also upon Rev. Richard N. Priece, editor of the Western N. C. Advocate.

She Wanted the News.

"If there's any important news," said the newspaper man's wife, "wake me up when you come home and tell me about it."

And the next morning as he was walking home he hastily reviewed the news of the night to put himself in shape.

"Wake up," he said when he got there. "There's a war with Italy on."

"About what?" she asked, as she yawned and stretched her arms.

"Why, you know, in that New Orleans affair?"

"Oh, that old thing," she interrupted.

"What else?"

"Well, at one of the Harrison meetings to-night?"

"Oh, yes, of course. Politics—always politics."

"Lyman Gage has refused?"

"Who cares. Give me some news."

"Chauncy Depew has been indicted by?"

"That railroad accident, of course."

"Well, then, the Princess?"

"A European scandal. There's one every day."

The newspaper man sighed, thought a moment and then said:

"I don't think of any more except a little local paragraph about Mrs. Brown having left her husband."

"Mrs. Brown! No! You don't mean it!" And she sat up in bed. "Why she only lives a few blocks from here. I see her go by nearly every day. What do you suppose is the matter? Will either of them apply for divorce?"

"I don't know," he said. "There isn't much doubt about it."

She looked at him scornfully for a moment and then said:

"And you pretend to get out a newspaper. Bah!"

Negro waiters have been removed from the dining rooms of the various mountain resorts of Virginia and West Virginia, and their places filled by white girls.

Many years of practice has given C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of patents at Washington, D. C., unsurpassed facilities for obtaining patents for all classes of inventions. They make a specialty of rejected cases, and have secured allowance of many patents that had been previously rejected. Their advertisement in another column, will be of interest to inventors, patentees, manufacturers, and all who have to do with patents.

A Challenge to Fight.

One of the boys tried to get up a sensation the other day by challenging another to fight a duel. It didn't work. Mat. Farrell keeps the ball rolling by issuing another challenge. He challenges anybody to sell as good harness, saddles or bridles, or any other goods, at a cheaper price than he sells them.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor, the hair began coming, and, in three months, he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

It is conjectured that a specific may yet be found for every ill that flesh is heir to. However this may be, certainly the best specific yet found for diseases of the blood is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and most diseases originate from impure blood.
