

THE VIDETTE.

TROY, N. C., DEC. 8, 1887.

Clark for Governor.

The Journal will not nominate a candidate for Governor, but it will occasionally tell what the people say of those who are talked about for this position.

They believe Judge Clark is such a man and that he ought to be nominated by the democratic party.

From remarks we have heard upon this subject we are satisfied that Hon. Walter Clark would be heartily supported by the Democrats of this section.

Poverty and Slavery.

Quite an interesting and truthful contrast is drawn by the Wilmington Star as follows, relative to the difference in the conditions of those who have to labor for their daily bread in the North and in the South;

The South has less money by a very great deal than the North has. In fact, the South is quite poor in this world's goods and barely shabby genteel as compared with the plutocrats and bosses in the rich North.

It is explained by the young men, that their purpose is not to interfere with the endowment and that they will receive subscriptions only where they are not made to its detriment.

The Attorney-General has written a letter to the State Superintendent of Public Schools, concerning the duty of tax collectors to collect the school tax, and pay it over to the county Treasurer, by the 31st of December of each year.

After all the distribution of favors is not so equal as many believe. The South is really populated by a different race—as Tourgee saw—and is guided by motives and principles that are also dissimilar to those prevailing in the more popular centres.

It is expected that Rev. C. Durham will, for a time at least take charge of the Baptist tabernacle at Raleigh.

A Washington correspondent of the News Observer says that our representative, Hon. Geo. S. Henderson had arrived at his post of duty and that Mr. Henderson is the senior member of the North Carolina delegation.

One must think that the death of Liza Pinkstone and the political moribund condition of the great fraud Hase will interfere with John Sherman's deceitful howl for "a free ballot and a fair count" in the South, when it is remembered that in a speech, a few years ago, John said, "Anything is fair to beat the Democrats."

A Library Hall for Trinity.

Commendable effort is being made by the students of Trinity College to raise funds for erecting a suitable building for a college library and the use of the literary Societies.

We believe this matter eminently worthy of consideration and of generous action on the part of our people, and in our humble capacity we stand ready to do all in our power to make the worthy scheme a success.

Websters Weekly: Mr. Joe Blackwell while out hunting last week killed a veritable white partridge.

There have been about 10,000 bales of cotton destroyed by fire in the South this fall.

Mr. Pearson, the evangelist, is making a deep impression in Raleigh. Great crowds attend his meetings and there have been many professions.

The safe of Stephen Quich, a Richmond county merchant, was robbed Sunday night of $1,750 by somebody who knew the combination.

The Wilmington Messenger of Saturday contains the following special from Fayetteville, dated the 2d:

"A fearful gloom has just been cast over the M. E. Conference and over this city at the sudden death of Rev. Dr. L. S. Burkhead, of Winston, N. C., of heart disease, which occurred in his room at 7 15 p. m.

He was in Conference this morning and in the committee room this evening, and was in good health and bright and cheerful. He went to supper at the home of Mr. J. W. Welch, drank a cup of coffee, complained of being unwell, and asked to be excused.

The sad intelligence spread rapidly, and the members of Conference, as well as the entire town, were soon plunged into the deepest sorrow."

Why it Should Go.

One of the strongest reasons urged why the internal revenue should be repealed is that it is the most dangerous enemy of State's rights that we have to contend with.
