Final Call.

For some weeks past we have been asking, begging, offering, persuading, and making all sorts of excuses, but to get our delinquents to come in and pay up back subscribers.

Many of our subscribers have come promptly to this aid and paid up their subscriptions, and we had hoped they had done so. But our hopes have not been realized. We have used glass without any effect, and we have sent messages and we now give a last and for a warning that we have cleaned out our copies of this card will have to resort to something more effective.

Let our subscribers do what we have asked to do. If you don't read it, "O, well, I can pay it any time, they don't read it." Friend, this is where you are wrong. A thousand little accounts make a big total. We want to give our subscribers a good paper and to do this it takes money, consequently our subscribers do this office for us a certain fixed sum. You owe us a dollar and fifty cents; that isn't much, but a thousand such accounts make $1,500. Send us a postal note, stamps or the money. Bring us produce and all will be well. We have to pay our bills promptly and expect you to do the same.

We give fair warning that all accounts that are not settled within the next ten days will be put in the hands of the collector, where you will have to settle them. This is the last. Come in and pay what you owe.

Tuesday evening the flying trotters of the town were given some practice upon the fair ground track. D. W. Shuler's five pair (which are badly wanted by the sporting men at Brighton) set the pace for H. L. Abernethy's, Best & Co's and J. B. Beard's thoroughbred and speedy colts. The track is heavy as yet, but the jockeys have them under good control and the time made was creditable to the finest turf.

Mr. J. W. McMillan, the new jeweler is now ready to do your work for you. He comes highly recommended as a fine workman and you can count on him doing you a good job. If you want to see something pretty, peep in his show case at Links.

The snakes may think there is no whisky in this country for their bites and are thus encouraged to multiply and replenish. Mr. J. A. Seaboch's plow turned over a nest of spotted adder eggs last week in which were 23 snakes from 6 to 8 inches long and one of them had two heads. Now get there.

Mr. W. L. Killian was in town last Saturday and promised a large entry of fruit to the Hickory Fair. He is the largest fruit grower in the county and will make a fine exhibit.

The latest schedule on the C. & L. N. G. R. R. went into effect Monday. The freight and passenger train goes to Lenoir and back down the road every day.

We can furnish the Detroit Free Press to our subscribers three months for 25 cents, or the PRESS AND CAROLINIAN and the Free Press to new subscribers three months for 50 cents.

Claremont College.

The musical department of Claremont College for the term beginning August 27, 1888, will be under the charge of Mrs. J. W. McMillan, late of Atlanta, Ga. Thorough instruction in vocal and instrumental music. Mrs. McMillan comes well qualified for this position, having been carefully trained by a graduate of the celebrated conservatory of music at Leipzig, Germany, and from the fact that the committee on music, and also the principal of the college, decided after a careful examination to elect her over a number of other applicants, we feel sure that she will fill the position with honor to the school, justice to the pupils, and credit to herself.

H. C. Denny has added to his already complete shop, one of the latest improved barber chairs. It is the most comfortable chair we ever occupied, and in it you can get the best shave to be had in the State, especially in the city.

The whole country appears to be in love with Cleveland's message.

Close of the Tabernacle.

The Rutledge Tabernacle meetings for 1888, closed last Sunday. On Sunday, the last day, the assembly was very large, many counting houses represented. The people were well dressed, quite intelligent and the order well kept. Rev. J. M. Watson of Hyde county, preached an excellent sermon, and Rev. J. M. Watson of Hyde county, preached an excellent sermon, and Rev. J. M. Watson of Hyde county, preached an excellent sermon. The tabernacle closed at 11 p. m. to be re-opened in August of 1889. The tabernacle closed at 11 p. m. to be re-opened in August of 1889. The tabernacle closed at 11 p. m. to be re-opened in August of 1889.

The Hickory Fair.

Looking to be the biggest thing ever held in this part of the country. People are coming from all points of the compass to see the huge display that will be shown. Some of the most prominent men to visit: Gen. Joe Johnston, Zol Vaice, Senator Ransom, and probably Jeff Davis, will be here to address the people. Every body is coming so you come along to swell the crowd. The more the merrier.

Charlotte Chronicle Changed Hands.

Mr. W. S. Henby, of the Charlotte Chronicle has sold the entire outfit and good will of his paper to Mr. G. W. Chalk, who will in the future have entire control of same. While we very much regret Mr. Henby's retirement from the journalistic field we cordially welcome Mr. Chalk and hope he will give us the the same newsy sheet as published by his predecessor.

Joint Convass Opened.

Fowle and Dockery opened fire on each other at Monroe last Monday. Dockery said his little speech like a good boy and Fowle lashed him from post to finish. The immense crowd cheered so, when Fowle made Dockery confess to voting for a negro lawyer instead of a good white farmer that the echoes still reverberate from the Blue Ridge to the Atlantic. —Hurrah for Fowle and Democracy!

Five negroes hung a white man a few days ago in Henderson county. Before hanging him they beat him nearly to death. They have all been arrested and lodged in jail. The man is not dead but was beaten. He has been reported home in Mitchell County.
