SHINGLES AND LUMBER—J. F. Moore.
FURNITURE & PIANOS—E. M. ANDREWS.

Wood subscribers will please haul in.

Mr. T. L. Gibson has taken charge of the New Charter House.

See Royster & Martin's new stock of $2.50 overcoats.

Charlotte is doing her best and is destined to be the City of North Carolina.

When you want any tailoring done you must not forget Mr. James. See his ad.

The Y. W. C. T. U. will meet at Mrs. J. F. Murrill's Friday at 3 o'clock p. m.

Toy tool set goes free with every boy suit at Royster & Martin's, Hickory, N. C.

Don't forget those pocket-mirrors with every dollar purchase at Royster & Martin's.

Toy tool set and boy suit for $1.50 at the White Front Clothing Emporium, Hickory, N. C.

Pocket-mirror given away with every dollar purchase at the White Front, Hickory, N. C.

Don't fail to see Royster & Martin's show window of underwear—the cheapest in the market.

Eight wild geese passed over the city yesterday morning going South. Look out for cold weather.

Mr. H. L. Moore has accepted a situation with the Gale Harrow Co., and is now in Concord selling their machines.

A letter from a subscriber in Texas says the crops there are very fine. Corn is selling at ten cents per bushel.

Mrs. A. L. Shuford lost one of her finest jersey cows yesterday morning. She is said to have been the finest jersey in the county.

If you want lumber, shingles, laths or anything in this line see J. F. Moore's advertisement. He will give you bargains that you can obtain nowhere else. Try him.

The editor's wood yard is clear and waiting for those who pay wood for their paper. He wants you to haul now while the roads are hard and big loads can be easily moved.

All who desire copies of The Weekly Globe containing the sermons of Rev. Sam Jones are requested to send in their orders as early as possible. Price five cents each, or fifty cents for twelve.

From the amount of cash taken in at the One Price Cash Store in three days last week, there seems to be plenty of money in the country. Mr. Shuford tells us his cash sales in three days amounted to six hundred and seventy six dollars.

There will be communion service in Holy Trinity Ev. Lutheran Church on next Sunday, Nov. 3rd. Preparatory service Saturday night. A full attendance of the membership at the preparatory services is earnestly requested by the pastor.

The drunkenness and staggering and cursing about the streets of Statesville during the Federal Court last week was disgraceful. If the Statesville police force is inadequate to the capability, the city should ask the U. S. for a regiment to guard its drunken violators of the law and decency.

Jenkins-Jones Vendetta.

On last Friday the old warfare between the Jones and Jenkins crowd was renewed.

Lewis Jenkins was riding along when one John Jones met and opened fire on him. Jenkins escaped unhurt but his horse was killed.

On Sunday John Jones accompanied by Columbus Jones went to Lewis Jenkins' house for the purpose of cleaning out the ranch. Lewis shut himself up in his house and stuck his shot gun through a crack and emptied its contents into the back of Columbus Jones. The Joneses at last reports were still on the hunt, swearing they would have blood before they gave up the chase.

This warfare has been going on for some time and both factions have been guilty of enough mischief to deserve to spend the rest of their lives in the penitentiary.

Your Attention.

Is especially directed to the advertisement of E. M. Andrews, the furniture dealer, of Charlotte, N. C. Mr. Andrews has been in business at about nine years and has a State reputation for doing just what he says. He carries the largest stock of furniture in the State and his terms are the easiest. He also does a large business in handling pianos and organs of all makes and his prices are lower than you can buy an instrument at the factory. If you need any furniture or an organ or piano see his advertisement and write him for particulars. Don't send your money North but try E. M. Andrews.

Judge Dick told the Grand Jury in Statesville last week that the U. S. Court was the best for the protection of life and liberty of any on the earth, and there are some cases that make it look so. Recently two Arizona Indians were convicted of crimes in the U. S. Court and sentenced to a term of imprisonment. Their lawyers contended against the jurisdiction of the Court, and succeeded in having the case tried in the Territorial Court, where the Indians were convicted and sentenced to be hanged. Now they say they like the United States way the best and want to scalp those lawyers.

The Cronin Jury.

The Cronin jury was completed last week. Seven weeks have been spent making it up. There were 1091 jurors summoned of whom 927 were excused by counsel "for cause." There were 175 peremptory challenges, of which the defense used 97. When the last juror was accepted the defense had only three challenges left, and the State had 22. If it takes as long, in proportion, to try the case as it has to get a jury we will not hear of the verdict until sometime next year.

A Scarcity of Coal.

From the Citizen we learn that the citizens of Asheville are greatly inconvenienced on account of the great scarcity of coal. The case is the same here. Coal is not to be had for love or money and our coal dealers say the blame rests on the railroad. The miners cannot get cars for the purpose of shipping coal. We have had some very frosty weather and have had to untie goods boxes or anything to be had.

To County Commissioners.

Doctors differ and so do lawyers, but we don't see how there can be two opinions on Section 3448, C. 6. P about hiring out one "who may be committed to jail for failure to enter into bond for keeping the peace or for good behavior" unless it has been repealed or abrogated by the Supreme Court. Let all boards of Commissioners look into this and govern themselves accordingly.

THE FAMOUS FOURTH

TAKES CHARLOTTE BY STORM.

THE HICKORY MILITARY OPERA BAND, OF THE 4TH REGIMENT,

Attends the Battalion Inspection; Is Highly Entertained and Covers Itself with Glory and Honorary Distinction.

The inconvenience one experiences in traveling is often counterbalanced by the amusement one derives from the study of interesting specimens of humanity and in listening to those specimens discourse upon some transpiring event.

"Yes, a big pow-wow is going on in Charlotte to-day, and they are having a big time. It is the inspection of the 4th Regiment and it is worth 25c to see the Drum Major of that band."

"What band is it?"

"The Hickory Band, and?"

"Is Hickory a large town?"

"No. It is a small town but they have got a b—l of a big band there. They are just covered with brass buttons and wear helmets with horses tails stuck in the top. You just ought to see that Drum Major. I tell you he's a bird. He is covered all over with gold strings and wears a hat as big as a half bushel with about three feet of ostrich feathers in the top, and it would make your head swim to see him throw that stick. That is the finest band I ever saw."

The above conversation was overheard on the C. C. train from Charlotte last week. Of course the spice of the narrative is lost—because expression and in tonation cannot be represented on paper. It, however, shows what an impression the H. M. O. B. makes wherever it goes, and it tickled the vanity of the special reporter of the PRESS AND CAROLINIAN to hear such compliments for the band which is the pride of Hickory.

When the boys got off the train and marched up town they carried everything with them.

They were entertained in royal style by the Hornets and shown every courtesy by the citizens of Charlotte.

At 4 o'clock p. m. the regiment marched to the base-ball park, where the inspection came off. There again the boys won the day and the hearts of those in command of the battalion. Upon the recommendations of Maj. Gen. Cameron and Col. Anthony, the H. M. O. B. enlisted in the State Guards and is now a permanent feature of that body, and the regular band of the 4th Regiment. By this step the band secures an appropriation from the State and in addition they will be furnished new uniforms by the State.

This is the first band that has enlisted since the war. It is a high honor but is well deserved by the band which is universally admitted to be the best band in the State. On Friday night the band serenaded the Lord Mayor, of Charlotte, who received and toasted them as well became one in his position. The Mayor of Hickory was in the ring and in his fluent style contested the right to compliment with His Honor, the Mayor of Charlotte.

After this the boys were received and honored by the Hornets at the Central Hotel and all the members of the band declare the trip the most enjoyable one of their experience.

Boys, you well deserve it all and we are proud to own you.

Alliance Meetings.

Dr. D. Reed Parker, Lecturer for the 7th Congressional District, will address the Alliance and public, of Catawba County, as follows.

Newton, Monday, Nov. 18th.
Plateau, Tuesday, Nov. 19th.
Hickory, Wednesday, Nov. 20th.
Deals School House, Thursday, Nov. 21st.
Catawba, Friday, Nov. 22nd.
Mt. Creek, Rehobeth, Saturday, Nov. 23rd.

Speaking, at each place, to commence at 11 o'clock, a. m., at which time the public in general, ladies and all, are respectfully invited to attend, and it is expected that every member of the Alliance in the different sections will be present.

Col. Long, State Lecturer, is also expected to be present. So come one and all, to their meeting, and let us have a good time.

By order of the Ex Committee,
H. A. FORNEY,
County Lecturer.

An Editor With a Horn.

If the editor of The Monroe Register and his Horn will cool off and read again what the PRESS AND CAROLINIAN said about Perry's card they will find it made no charge at all against the Horn, whose denial and explanation is nearly as damaging as Perry's card.

The Register is informed that the PRESS AND CAROLINIAN has business wherever there is corruption and wickedness in high places; that J. A. Perry can prove as good a character in this country as Horn can in his, and that no warrants have been issued against the Burke lynchers, and that is the reason "why these men have never been arrested."

That now!

A Mistake.

In the recapitulation of our new advertisements last week appeared the following: "BANK OF HICKORY.—To rent," meaning that the Bank of Hickory had something to rent. We understand that about a hundred people, whose stupidity must be phenomenal, have enquired at the bank for information concerning the renting of the Bank of Hickory. No, gentlemen, the Bank of Hickory is not for rent or sale either. Probably we should have been more explicit and we want to correct the mistake. The trouble that one line has caused shows clearly, however, what benefits one gets from advertising in the PRESS AND CAROLINIAN.

Is It You?

A large number of subscriptions to this paper will expire Nov 14th, which is two years from the consolidation of the two papers. Many owe for the two years and if they do not settle by that time their names will be dropped from our list and their account sent out for collection. We are waiting very patiently to write receipts for some delinquent subscribers that might be mentioned. This is the last year that some of them are going to dead beat us out of the paper.

Obituary.

Died, at his home in Kingsville, Ky., on September 21st, James A. Moore.

Mr. Moore was a brother to Messrs Lewis and Frank Moore of this place. He came to North Carolina about fourteen months ago and while on his homeward trip, was attacked by disease and never recovered his health. He was a prominent man and a good citizen of the town in which he lived and his death is mourned by many citizens, a loving wife and three children.

PERSONALS.

Mr. John Martin spent Sunday in Charlotte.

Mr. John McD. Michal was in the city Monday.

Mr. G. E. Royster left the city Monday for Richmond.

Mrs. L. M. Hunt returned Saturday from Columbus, Ohio.

Miss Wheeler, of Washington, D. C., is visiting her sisters in the city.

Mr. John Bohannon left last Monday on a long Western business trip.

Miss Lillie Jones, who has been visiting Mrs. J. G. Hall, left the city for Stateville last Monday.

Senator Voorhees passed down the road Monday. He has been visiting Senator Vance in Asheville.

Mrs. M. W. Ransom, with her son and daughter, were registered at the New Charter House last Tuesday.

Miss Fannie Hardin, of Wilmington, returned home last Tuesday morning after spending several weeks in the city.

Conover Items.

We are glad to see that business is increasing.

The W. N. C. R. R. is putting in a longer switch here. It will hold a hundred cars. They also offer an acre lot to Conover if the citizens will put up a large hotel on it. The W. N. C. R. R. Co. says if Conover does not put it up, they will. They are going to put up a car shed and a telegraph office and make Conover their regular stopping point between Asheville and Salisbury. That will help Conover out considerably.

Mr. Jerome Bolick is going to put up a large buggy mfg shop here.

We were surprised to see our friend, Mr. W. S. Little, back from California, who has come to visit his relatives in North Carolina, especially in Catawba county. He likes California very well. He raised 5,500 bushels of wheat this year, and last year he raised 6,500, and he considers himself a small wheat raiser. He will return to California in three or four weeks.

Mr. Sackett, who has recently moved into our town from Delaware, likes it here.

Concordia College is in a progressive condition now. There are about one hundred and ten pupils enrolled.

We are pleased with our new Prof. J. G. Schaid.

Prof. J. P. Miller is going to teach our public school this winter.

The Eurythrean literary society received its chairs a few weeks ago and is well pleased with them.

Mrs. C. H. Bernheim has gone to visit her daughter in Lexington, N. C.

E. A. Smith and P. E. Hunsucker have gone to S. C. to teach school.

There will be a special entertainment given by both societies in November. Everybody invited.

Mr. John Lippard and wife were visiting relatives in Conover last week.

Prof. H. M. Smith, of Conover, is now in Denver teaching.

Mr. A. L. Bolick, a former theological student of Concordia College, will preach at St. Timothy the 3rd Sunday.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 25.—The Hon. Allan G. Thurman did not complete his speech at Music Hall last night, but was compelled, on account of strength, to stop. Suddenly, putting his hands to his sides, he said: "I would like to have stated more to you, but I am unable to do it; I am getting sick."
