

Press and Carolinian.

PUBLISHED BY

THE HICKORY PRINTING COMPANY
(In the Elliott Opera Building.)
Hickory, North Carolina.

$1.00 PER YEAR.

Don't let your subscription lapse. Your subscription expires with the date after your name. Renew it.

ADDRESS ALL COMMUNICATIONS AND BUSINESS LETTERS TO

HICKORY PRINTING COMPANY,
HICKORY, N. C.

CITY DIRECTORY.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

MAYOR—J. D. Elliott.
ALDERMEN—P. C. Hall, C. Geitner, J. T. Johnston, A. A. Shuford, R. A. Yoder, L. R. Whitener.
SECRETARY AND TREASURER—J. H. Bruns.

TAX COLLECTOR—H. W. Jones.

CHURCHES.

GERMAN REFORMED—Rev. J. L. Murphy, Pastor; services on the second and fourth Sundays of each month. Prayer Meeting on every Wednesday evening. Sunday school at 10 a. m.

PRESBYTERIAN—Rev. J. A. Ramsay, Pastor. Services every Sunday morning and evening. Prayer meeting every Wednesday evening.

METHODIST—Rev. C. G. Little, Pastor. Services on the first and third Sundays of each month. Prayer meeting every Wednesday evening.

BAPTIST—Supplied by Rev. C. E. Woodruff. Services on the first and third Sundays of each month. Prayer meeting every Wednesday evening.

EPISCOPAL—Rev. J. A. Weston, Rector. Services each Sabbath.

LUTHERAN SEMINARY—Services every Sunday evening—Rev. H. K. G. Doermann. Sunday school at 10 a. m.

LUTHERAN—Rev. J. C. Moser, Pastor. Services on the first and third Sundays in each month.

W. C. T. U.—Mrs. A. G. Thurston, President; Mrs. J. F. Murrill, Corresponding Secretary. Meetings every Saturday afternoon, from 3 to 4 o'clock, in the lecture room of the Reformed Church.

A. F. & A. M. Lodge—Hickory Lodge, No. 343, A. F. & A. M., meets first and third Monday nights in each month. R. K. Meade, W. M., J. W. Shuford, Secretary.

K. of H. Lodge—Hickory Lodge, No. 2421, K. of H., meets the second and fourth Tuesday nights in each month. P. C. Hall, Dictator.

Write us on a Postal.

If you fail to get your paper; If you want it changed from one post office to another;

If you want us to send a copy to a distant friend;

If you want to send us a new subscriber, and his post office;

If there is any news in your neighborhood that will be of interest to your friends or the public. Send us the news.

HICKORY AND LENOIR MIXED TRAIN.

No. 10 Leaves Lenoir at 6 a. m.
Arrives at Hickory at 7:40 a. m.
No. 60 Leaves Hickory at 1:30 p. m.
Arrives at Lenoir at 3:20 p. m.
No. 61 Leaves Lenoir at 4 p. m.
Arrives at Hickory at 5:45 p. m.
No. 10 Leaves Hickory at 6:35 p. m.
Arrives at Lenoir at 8:10 p. m.
Conductor—Capt. Will Tuttle.
Fireman—George Earnhardt.
Brakeman—Robert Tuttle.

Local Items in Brief.

See J. C. Martin's $3.00 fine suits for boys.

Mr. Charles, of Newton, visited the city last week.

Mr. A. A. Shuford's fine Jersey cow died Sunday.

Daily Papers can be had at Royster's.

Mr. R. B. Anderson, Dr. Baker's son-in-law, is again in the city.

Boys' suits at all prices, at J. C. Martin's.

Congressman W. H. Bower returned from Washington last Tuesday.

Rev. R. A. Yoder preached at St. James' church again last Sunday.

Dear A. Y. Sigmon's there is, said to be a plentiful deposit of the finest iron ore.

Godfrey Shuford, a negro, formerly a peter at the Hickory Inn, died on the 24th inst.

M. J. R. Ervin, of Morganton, took breakfast at the Charter House on the 3th inst.

Go to E. & J. E. Halthcock's and see Chinese and Japanese matting, pianos and organs.

Mr. J. M. Huffman has a rich copper mine on his farm adjoining the city on the east.

Stagnary in great variety at Royster's.

Rev. Mr. Austin, of Weaverville, passed through the city Monday en route to Lincolnton.

The Persian hair pins at Miss Roseborough's are works of art.

Mr. Fink Flannagan, freight agent, reports heavy shipments of tobacco from Hickory this week.

See novelties in spring hats, at J. C. Main's.

Rev. M. Monroe, the Presbyterian pastor, of Lenoir, preached for Rev. Mr. Rams Sunday, holding morning and evening services.

A full and complete line of Oils, Paints, Varnishes, etc., at Royster's Drugstore.

Mr. John Miller returned from a successful business trip to South Carolina.

See J. C. Martin's new spring clothing before you buy.

The young men of Lenoir College hold a public debate every Friday evening.

Magazines, Novel, etc., at Royster's.

Mr. J. C. Fry is having his dwelling overhauled, much enlarged and greatly beautified.

Go to J. C. Martin's—clothing and haberdasher.

Mr. Smith, county treasurer, has sold his Conover sash factory to the Novelty Woodworking Co.

Do go to Miss Roseborough's and look at the emerald bonnet pins and hair ornaments.

Mr. T. B. Alexander, the popular drummer, is again in the city and will tarry with us to the end of the week.

Mr. Luther Mosteller, of Bandy's township, one of the solid farmers of his neighborhood, was in the city Monday.

We are much gratified that Mrs. Nicholas Martin, who has been dangerously ill of pneumonia, is now rapidly recovering.

Col. Fleichman, of the wholesale boot and shoe firm of Fleichman and Morris, Richmond, Va., was again in the city Tuesday.

Mr. J. T. Sigmon, a leading merchant of Claremont, was in the city on the 25th, and bought an extensive bill of goods of Hall Bros.

Watch J. C. Martin's show windows for the latest styles.

Rev. Mr. Suttlemyre, of Iredell Co., was in the city, Saturday, on his way to Taylorsville, where he preached on Sunday, the 26th inst.

Col. W. H. Williams, we are credibly informed, has returned from Washington, and is no longer a candidate for Collector.

Passion week services are being held every evening at the Lutheran church and will close Sunday night with appropriate exercises.

For novelties in Easter eggs and candies, go to Whitener & Son's.

Mr. H. C. Richardson, representing the Southern Building and Loan Association of Knoxville Tenn. is in the city and will remain several days.

Miss Roseborough has gold filigree crown pieces for bonnets. Now is your opportunity to crown your wife queen of love and beauty.

Rev. Mr. Murphy will hold services in the Reformed church on Good-Friday at 11 o'clock. The Sunday school will hold Easter services next Sunday night.

Mr. J. G. Hall has returned from Washington, D. C., and feels sanguine that he will be the next Collector of the western district of North Carolina.

Mr. A. F. Abernethy visited Dr. Henry Abernethy's farm, Saturday, to pay off the Doctor's laborers and look after the ditching being done upon the premises.

Dr. J. R. Straw, the noted Eye, Ear and throat specialist, will be in Hickory April 3rd and remain one week, when he departs to visit us no more professionally.

Regarding success as the highest test of merit, we are constrained to an unconditional endorsement of Lenoir College. There are now in attendance at the institution 138 students.

Full Stock of Artist Material at Royster's Drugstore.

Any samples of gold-bearing rock found in the vicinity of Hickory, furnished our editor, Col. M. E. Thorn-ton, will be carefully examined, and if satisfactory, the property will also be examined.

The la grippe is almost epidemic throughout western North Carolina; also, as for that matter, throughout the United States. It is spreading rapidly; New York has it epidemic. It is in Hickory, also in Morganton.

J. C. Martin, the clothier and haberdasher, is the place to get your spring suit.

The Wheeler mansion is being much improved. Its fair owners have had completed a beautiful portico on the south side of the building and the workmen are now engaged guttering the house and putting in proper sewerage.

The railroad agent at Hickory collects about $500 freight, per day, of this community; but our city is shown by the census to be largely over twice the size of any other city in the county, and of course the freight received approximates our population.

Rev. C. G. Little will hold services at the Methodist church next Lord's day. What a pity the chapel is too small to seat his congregation.

The sayings of Mr. de Salol are more than worth the subscription price of one dollar per year, in advance, for the PRESS AND CAROLINIAN.

R. M. Travis, a first class shoe maker and repairer,—employed at Seagle Bros, is now ready to do every kind of work in his line.

The 2nd, 3rd, 6th and 7th pages of the PRESS AND CAROLINIAN contain as fresh news and good reading, bright and sparkling, as any. Read them.

"Faust asked Satan to give him a flower that would never wither." You can buy them by the bushel at Miss Roseborough's but she bought hers at John Wanamaker's.

The attention of our readers is called to the delinquent tax list published in another column of this paper. Owners of city property will save costs by paying their taxes at once.

J. C. Martin's new stock is all in. Call at the white front.

Mr. J. A. Martin was called to Winston on business Friday morning, and returned Wednesday accompanied by his wife and Mrs. Whiteside, who have been on an extended visit to Wilson.

Moore, Thomason and Hawn are now thoroughly satisfied that advertising pays. A few weeks back they placed an advertisement in this paper, and they now have a greatly increased trade.

We are truly gratified to report the Fry child, whom the doctors operated upon, taking a nail from its windpipe, still improving. The operation was skillfully performed, and reflects much credit upon our physicians.

Rev. J. A. Weston will lecture in Charlotte, N. C., on Peter Stuart Ney, of N. C., and Marshal Ney, on the 6th of April. The Observer says he will have a large audience. He will lecture in Hickory the night following.

We refer our friends and others to our special premium offer of scholarships. Now is the time to begin to get subscribers at $1.00 per year, in advance, in these contests. All who compete are sure to get a prize.

Prof. Crum, the justly popular repairer and tuner of pianos and organs is again in the city mingling with his hosts of friends. His territory extends from Raleigh to Marion, and throughout the entire district he is known and appreciated by all classes.

Mr. J. S. Gibson, of Ark., after spending a week with his brother, Mr. T. L. Gibson, has returned home, leaving on the 25th inst. Mr. Gibson is a pleasant, dignified gentleman. We enjoyed his society, and trust he reached home without any unpleasant incidents upon the road.

Mrs. Burns' property, within the city, has a rich deposit of black lead, and Mr. Darius Echard, who lives between the city and the Catawba river, reports abundant deposits of alum along the ravines of his premises during freezing weather. After every freeze the crystals are abundant.

Mr. A. W. Chance's advertisement, which will be found in another column of this paper, shows that his grocery store and restaurant is still one of the popular resorts of the city. Mr. Chance has thoroughly established his trade by low prices and fair dealing. Anyone wishing things in his line should get his prices before buying elsewhere.

This is holy week at the church of the Ascension, and services are being conducted by Rev. Mr. Weston, the rector, at the chapel every day at 11 a. m. The efficacy of prayer will be the subject of a special lecture Friday evening. All who can should take advantage of this opportunity to hear the popular pastor of the Episcopal church. He is always interesting.

Saturday morning several young gentlemen and ladies of Newton visited our popular photograph gallery, drove to the principal places of interest in the city, and after enjoying the pleasures of the metropolis of the county, leisurely returned to Newton, the seat of elegance, intellectual culture and the most superb hospitality. Hickory loves Newton, and our gates are ever open to her people.

Mr. G. W. Curriher, of Rowan county, was in the city Saturday, a guest of Rev. Mr. Ramsay. Mr. Curriher is a most estimable gentleman and capitalist, whom we would be delighted to see locate in Hickory. He visited the city seeking profitable investments and school facilities for the education of his children. Being abundantly able to supply him in both particulars, we trust he may soon locate with us.

The Musicales.

We give a resume of the Beethoven Musicale at this late date, as we are proud to chronicle this new feature in our musical and social life. When we say that Beethoven's "Adelaide," "Absence," "Knowest Thou the Land," "Song to the Distant Beloved" and an Ave Maria arranged from the Sonata Pathetique with violin, besides two duets arranged from Sonatas by Mrs. Chadwick and two choruses were sung, we may well feel that our town is looking up.

The literary part of the programme was full, consisting of short papers and readings on Beethoven's Life and Works. Miss Gertrude Hall's sketch of his life was well condensed and to the point, being supplemented by Miss Annie Field's reading of anecdotes illustrative of his peculiarities, and Miss Maud Shuford's description of his appearance. Beethoven's personality was distinctly brought out. Miss Minnie Ellis recited, finely, Schiller's Ode to Joy, the conclusion of Beethoven's Ninth or Choral Symphony. Miss May Ramsour's paper on his works was noticeably excellent. Each of the Nine Symphonies was lightly touched, the Third or Eroica dedicated to Napoleon, the Fifth his greatest, his Hamlet, with the opening phrase, "It is thus fate knocks at the door," the sixth "The Pastoral," the most popular. She showed that they, as every one of his works, have a tale of their own to tell. Beethoven aims at expressing an idea, poetic, distinct, capable of translation into words. He brought the Symphony to the fireside. In the Sonata he was the first great composer who gave his greatest thoughts to the piano-forte. Beethoven is King of the Symphony, and for this reason, as for the grandeur and universality of his genius, he is the Shakespeare of music. Of music, Beethoven has showed its depths, its majesty, its immortality.

Miss Fannie Marler gave the story of Fidelio, of which it has been said, "No other creation in tones has done so much to dignify and ennoble love as his one opera Fidelio; no song has so expressed its beauty and its ardor as that most perfect of amatory lyrics, Adelaide." We felt this as Mrs. Chadwick sung it. Miss Blanche Little played, artistically, part of the Sonata Appassionata. Beethoven told Czerny that the Adagio in it was suggested to him by the starry heavens. Miss Little also sang with Mr. Self's violin obligato, the nice arrangement of the Sonata Pathetique, in which is the earliest expression of Beethoven's view of music as a voice calling him to lead a higher life.

After the regular program, a few old songs were rendered by the Humanophone, a new musical instrument, which, as Mr. Self explained, could never be controlled by one man, since it was composed of seven ladies, each representing one degree of the scale, and thus the tunes were played after the instrument was tuned and wound up.

In connection with the above we will say that Mrs. Chadwick possesses, in the highest degree, the pride of her art; her happiness is greatest when laboring to inspire others to enter into it and feel its influence. The benefit of these musicales, especially to the young, is hardly to be calculated. Beethoven's Life and Works are impressed upon those who were engaged in the musicale referred to, and upon those who listened, in a way they will not soon forget. The pupils, as members of St. Cecilia's Society, are being trained in a good school; they are taught the divine origin of music and its potency to charm. None are indifferent to this charm, for a love of music is common to all; their natural taste is being developed by close study of the classic composers. There is much to attract and interest in the quaint legends and curious histories attached to the lives of Beethoven, Mozart, Haydn, Bach, Meyerbeer, Liszt and other maestros, and the pupils who are imbued with the spirit or motif of such composers, can not fail to live on a higher plane of usefulness and refinement than those who are less fortunate in their educational advantages. We are not awake to our advantages here; we have abundant riches which we do not properly appreciate, and which we, by no means, sufficiently impress upon others. If we were not blessed with the best climate in the country, the loveliest scenery, purest water, quietest Sundays, and most church-going people, Hickory would still be the most attractive place for parents to send their children, on account of its musical opportunities.

The social and intellectual life of the place is as much superior to what it was, as the City of Hickory is superior to the old "Hickory Tavern," or its successor, Hickory Station.

For Sale.

New house, four rooms, two fireplaces, good well, two acres land, near the Academy, Granite Falls. An excellent location for a teacher. Also a first class Piano. Terms upon application. A. P. WHISEHUNT, Granite Falls, N. C.

HALL BROTHERS

HAVE FOUND AT LAST

(NOT A GOLD MINE) but the

J. G. HYNDS MANUF'G CO.

with a splendid assortment of

SOLID RELIABLE EASY STYLISH

SHOES!

Try these Georgia Home-Made Shoes.

We will

Guarantee Satisfaction

In addition to our Reliable Shoes, we will add that we are receiving our SPRING STOCK — of — DRY GOODS, HOSIERY, HATS, and a good selection of MILLINERY, comprising all the reasonable novelties; and when you are shopping at our store, do not forget that we have connected in a separate apartment a general line of

STAPLE AND FANCY GROCERIES AND HARDWARE, where we buy and sell ALL COUNTRY PRODUCTS.

Thanking the public for past patronage, and inviting their continuance of same, we are respectfully,

HALL BROS.

mar16-3m

MOORE, THOMASON & HAWN

BUTCHERS - AND - GROCERS.

Only the choicest cattle slaughtered. Only the BEST Goods sold.

A DESIRABLE PLACE TO TRADE.

Honest Goods, Honest Methods, Honest Prices.

If you want the best goods and fair dealing, give us a call.

OUR HARNESS DEPARTMENT

IS ALWAYS COMPLETE.

Repairing done by competent workmen at low rates. We keep the celebrated HARRY WELLS COLLAR in stock—the best in the world. Every farmer should use this collar. It will prevent and cure sore shoulders.

Let us have your patronage. mar16-3m

Where Do You Buy

Your CANNED GOODS, LIGHT GROCERIES, CANDIES, NUTS, ROASTED COFFEE, PICKLES, CHEESE, CIGARS, TOBACCO, FRUIT EXTRACTS, POTTED MEATS, CRACKERS, FLOUR, TOILET SOAPS, LAUNDRY SOAPS, Etc.

Let the undersigned have a part of your patronage.

IT WILL PAY YOU!

You will always get reliable Goods—you will always get full weight and measure—you will always get the benefit of the lowest possible prices.

Try my Apple and Cherry Cider—Delicious Beverages! My Special Brand of Cigars will please you. If you want good, solid, honest Tobacco—I have it.

Let me have a part of your patronage. In presenting my claims to the trade as a retail dealer I ask a continuance of the patronage already enjoyed, promising renewed efforts on my part to deserve a continuance as well as increased support as a citizen and dealer.

A. W. CHANCE.

mar30

Sealed Bids.

Sealed bids will be received at my office in Morganton until 12 o'clock (noon) April 14th, 1893, for the delivery of One Hundred and Fifty Thousand (150,000) feet of Framing Lumber at the North Carolina School for the Deaf and Dumb. Specifications can be seen at the store of E. & J. E. Halthcock, at Hickory. Also bids for door and window frames, specifications of which can be seen upon application to me.

M. L. REED, GEO. L. PERRY, President, Sec'y & Treas'r.

12-41