Ex-Vice President Levi P. Morton's Coachman
May Have to go Back to England—The Congressional Campaign Committee has Finished.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22, '94—President Cleveland will return to the White House this week and it is presumed, although not yet certain, that Mrs. Cleveland and the children will accompany him. The White House has been cleaned from cellar to garret, a force of men having been working from the day the President and his family left until Saturday night, to brighten up things for the winter season.

Secretary Carlisle has almost consented to deliver several speeches in Indiana and New York and the pressure is so great that there is little doubt that he will in the end consent. It was not because he had any objection to making speeches or doing anything else that is proper to aid the democratic party that he at first declined to make these speeches, but because he is very busy and expects to continue so until after the meeting of Congress, and because he was so modest as to be unable to see the importance that democrats all over the country will attach to his speeches. The last is the hardest to overcome. By working overtime he can make up for the time lost, but it is difficult to convince a man as free from anything approaching the big head as Secretary Carlisle is that anything he may say or do will be a powerful factor towards the success of his party.

Secretary Gresham, who returned from Chicago a few days ago, says he found the democrats of Illinois in better shape than he expected from newspaper accounts of the situation, and that he thinks the party will hold its own in the Congressional districts and will control the legislature, which elect Senator Cullom's successor. Now for a surprise. I have just learned from a trustworthy source that there is a strong probability that Secretary Gresham will speak, both in Illinois and Indiana, before the close of the campaign.

Mr. T. O. Towles, a prominent official of the House, has just returned from his home in Missouri. He has carefully investigated the political situation in the State and his judgment is regarded good by all who know of the accuracy of the predictions he has made in previous contests. He says that the democrats are now working harmoniously all over the State and are certain to hold their own in Congressional districts, and have a good fighting chance to send a solid democratic delegation to the next House. Missouri is one of the states in which the republican campaign committee has been figuring, or at least claiming to figure, on big gains.

Every prominent democrat who has been in Washington for the last two or three days endorses the action of Senator Hill, or anti-Tammany municipal ticket, as well as on the Tammany ticket, as not only good political but under the circumstances absolutely necessary politics. They feel that Senator Hill was perfectly right in declining to make the success of the State ticket dependent upon the election of the Tammany ticket, as it would have been had the State ticket been printed only upon the Tammany ticket. While the reports from New York are far from satisfactory most democrats are still confident that Hill will win.

In view of the action of Judge Larcombe, of New York, in denying the application for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Mr. Morton's English coachman, who has been ordered deported for having come to America in violation of the alien contract labor law, and deciding that the Secretary of the Treasury alone has the authority to decide whether the claim made, that the man was Mr. Morton's domestic servant and therefore exempt from the law in question, was valid Secretary Carlisle has directed that the immigration board of review at Ellis Island make a thorough investigation, and report to him, in order that he may finally decide the case. There is no politics in it so far as Secretary Carlisle is concerned. He regrets the decision of Judge Larcombe, believing that puts more authority in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury than the framers of the law intended that he should have, but will, of course make the decision.

The Congressional campaign committee has about completed its work, so far as the sending out of democratic literature is concerned. From now until election its work will be mostly of an advisory nature, although it will also keep the democratic district manager's posted as to any new schemes put out by republicans to catch votes. Members of the committee think the Congressional situation in New York city, which has been awfully complicated in nearly all the districts because of there being two democratic candidates—Tammany and anti-Tammany in each, has been greatly helped by the withdrawal of Straus and the substitution of ex-Mayor Grant as the Tammany candidate for mayor. The Congressional committee wants democrats elected to Congress, and doesn't care a fig whether they are Tammany or anti-Tammany, and it is working to prevent the running of two democratic candidates in any one district, believing that it is foolish to thus give seats to republicans which rightfully belong to democrats.

Sublime Indifference

Oliver H. Dockery, in a speech in Raleigh, said he cared nothing for the county Government matter.—Report of Raleigh speech.

And that is just where "my son Oliver" misses it. He is afraid to stand by his own ragged, jagged, frayed, depleted, superannuated Radical remnant of played outs in North Carolina, and so he snaps his fingers and raises his voice in glee and says "I care nothing for County Government." He ought to care. When he knows how much the County Government system has done for his native North Carolina he should care, and care very much. He knows well enough that its abolition by the Rad-Pop conspiracy against the people of North Carolina would mean a very great deal to them. He knows how his vernal, rascally party in 1869-70 robbed and ruined the State, and how in the Eastern and Central negro counties the people were greatly oppressed by the ravages and spoliation and thieving of Republican county officials and the ruinous taxes levied. He knows that to return to power the black and tan pillagers would be to bring back the roaring, rushing freshet of robbery and rascality that would break the banks and flood the counties with its work of desolation and ruin. This is a figure, but expresses what would be a fact. The cry of an honest, intelligent, patriotic North Carolinian should be keep the rascals out and never turn them in.

And yet "my son Oliver," with all of his large observation, advanced age, abundant opportunities of knowledge, in this year of grace 1894, when the best interests of the State are most seriously endangered, with the devil-care air of Mr. Stoker and the cheery look of Bob Acres says to the good people of the negro counties—"I care nothing for County Government"—do not care a tin whistle whether you are plucked and oppressed. It is no affair of mine. I am one of your Radical old boys who has been seeking office for decades and has now and then been a trough treader. You may take care of yourselves if you can. My name is the modern Gallo, and I care for none of these things. I am still a Radikal of the 1869-70 stripe and I go the whole hog now as formerly including bristles and feet and tail. Whoopee.

And so that is the sublime indifference of Col. Dockery as to the fate and condition of the white farmers and other tax-payers of twenty-seven of the best counties in North Carolina. He thinks that is statesmanship or wisdom, or good policy—his superb indifference and riotous, wanton unconcern and coldness—he will wake up some fine morning and find himself "all alone in his glory." Dockery ought really to have more sympathy, more soul, more genuine North Carolina manliness than to be utterly apathetic and careless when a large number of whites in his State will be put on the brink of peril and disaster if County Government is wiped out.—Washington Messenger.

IS DYINGAll Advices are Very Bad for Him Indeed

AN INCURABLE CANCEROUS TUMOR.

His Physicians Disagree as to the Trouble in the Meantime, However, the Czar is Dying—Princess Alix to be Married.

ST. PETERBURG, Oct. 23.—The latest news from the bedside of the Czar is depressing indeed:

It is generally conceded that he cannot last more than a few days longer at the outside. Suffering has increased and is doing so hourly.

Private advices from those in a position to know say that the extreme point of endurance has been reached.

THE MARRIAGE TO OCCUR.

It is taken for evidence that the Czar is much worse, the fact that the Princess Alix has consented to waive religious objection to her marriage, and it will take place to day. The nuptials will be solemnized at the bedside of the Czar, who, despite heroic fortitude, is unable to leave his bed. His feet and feet are badly swollen.

INCURABLE.

PARIS, Oct. 23.—The Figaro to-day publishes a dispatch from Livadia to the effect that there is great difference of opinion among the Czar's physicians as to his disease.

Prof Zacharina says that the trouble is a cancerous tumor, just below the left kidney, and as an operation is impossible the sickness is incurable. Prof. Leyden holds that it is a benign cancer and perfectly curable.

NO FEAR OF TROUBLE

It is held on good authority that in case of the Czar's death no internal troubles are to be feared.

The Russian departments are now all in the hands of honest, capable and liberal-minded statesmen.

Besides the people are not in an excitable frame of mind and in no wise prone to revolt.

CATARRHAL DYSPEPSIA.

A Discourage Invalid Restored to Health and Happiness.

Catarrh of the stomach causes a condition known as dyspepsia or indigestion. It usually results from catarrh in the throat, but sometimes occurs in people who have never had catarrh elsewhere. The symptoms of dyspepsia are: liver complaint, biliousness, sour stomach, water-brash, bloating, after eating, constipation, piles, and, in many cases, low spirits, dizzy head, sympathetic heart palpitation, pain, indigestion, looseness of the bowels. Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin, taken according to directions on the bottle, will cure every one. The following is a specimen of the letters received from patients:

O. S. McQuillan, Spring Hill, Iowa, writes: "Four years ago last fall my stomach, without any previous warning, refused to perform its functions, and I soon lost strength. During this time food was forced through my stomach by using cathartics. With flesh wasted away, strength exhausted so that it took all my energy to even get into a bath tub, hopes all gone I began to take Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin, following free advice which Dr. Hartman gave me. In a short time I could eat nourishing food, and the piles, kidney trouble and constipation disappeared. Flesh, strength, and a splendid appetite returned, and I went to work."

For treatise on catarrh, coughs, colds, consumption, and all climatic diseases of winter, send for Family Physician No 2. Address The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio.

Public Speaking, Hon Lee S. Overman. One of the leading orators in the State, will address the citizens of Sherrill's Ford Township on Tuesday, October 23rd, at 2 p. m. The County and Senatorial Candidates will begin speaking at the same place and date at 11 a. m. The Newton Silver Cornet Band will furnish music for the occasion. Let all come and hear the political issues discussed.

BROWN'S MURDERERS CAUGHT.

Partial Confessions Already Made, and the Criminals in Jail.

Mr. W. H. Deaver, an Asheville detective, arrived at the Long Island Mills, near Catawba Station, on the 15th inst., and claiming to represent the insurance company holding a risk on James Brown's life, he mingled freely with the people, pretending that he was satisfied that Brown suicided and he wished proof, if it could be obtained to bolster up that solution of his taking off. Learning after his arrival that one Elmore Burris, a night hand at the mill, had said that he believed Elam Josey had committed the murder, the man was sent for and affirming the belief stated it was based on Josey's action when he saw Miss Essie Brown enter the store the next morning after the murder. In the language of Burris: "He was standing watching Miss Brown, and when she entered the store jumped as if he had been shot, apparently knowing what an awful sight would meet her eyes." Thus armed the detective repaired to the home of Elam Josey and after a brief interview charged him directly with the murder and arrested him. This arrest caused a partial confession, resulting in the immediate apprehension of Thomas Covington, the son of the foreman of the mill, as a party to the murder. The confession of Josey was as follows: "Covington told me the morning after the murder that he killed Brown. He said he went to the store and that Brown, who was watching, cut him off from the door and asked, is that you Pope? Is that you Tom? whereupon he sprang at him, got him down and wrenched his pistol from his hand and shot him, first in the breast, then in the neck, and finally behind the left ear." Josey admits that he and Covington had been raiding the store for over a year. They are a beautiful brace of scoundrels and it appears to us that they richly deserve to grace the gallows.

Mary Lease a "Sooner."

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 12.—The Republican State Central Committee to-day made public an affidavit by T. L. Dixon and his wife, A. A. Dixon, Superintendent and Matron of the State Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb in Olathe, in which Mrs. Mary Lease, who was President of the State Board of Charities, is accused of advising them to steal from the State and give her a portion of the proceeds. They also charge that the board appropriated sufficient to defray the expenses of its members to the World's Fair.

After telling how Mrs. Lease volunteered to obtain the positions which they afterward secured, Dixon and his wife say that on the evening on which they were installed Mrs. Lease called upon them and said:

"Now, Judge, you have a chance to make money. Now, pay yourself from the income of the institution, and charge it to maintenance and repairs of the same. All you will have to do will be to make your books agree with the amount you take."

His answer was: "I can't do that. I never had that kind of a record."

She again remarked: "you let about $20,000 go by you when you were Police Judge of Wichita. Now you take care of yourself. Don't be foolish. They are all doing it. Don't let the Governor down. No worse for you than others."

The next time she approached me in the matter, she told me to take enough money to buy me a farm, but not to omit to take enough to buy her a farm. I then repeated my former answer, that I could not do that.

Then she went into a statement as to what the Board of Charities did after they concluded their work over the State. All of them wanted to go to the World's Fair, and did not want to use their own money. They decided that it would take $60 apiece to take the round trip and board them. She said they ordered the steward to make up a voucher for maintenance and repairs, and the board allowed it, drew the money, and went to the fair. This she said, was done at the insane asylum, Topeka, Kan. She affirms that I could do the same way in this case, of which we notified the Governor in due time, he ignoring our statement.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by O. M. Royster, 40-41t.

STATE NEWS.

Judges Dick and Seymour, the most highly honored Republicans in the State, and the presiding justices of the North Carolina Federal Courts, will not vote for the fusion non-partisan (?) Judiciary candidates. They will both vote for the Democratic nominees.

The Greensboro Record is authority for the statement that Chairman Holten, of the Republican State Committee has plenty of funds and is rapidly placing it where it will do the most good.

The Citizen announces that ex-Postmaster Geo. W. Cannon, of Asheville, is short in his accounts about $4,000. He has already paid the governmen about $1,200 of this amount.

Democracy in the Rural Districts.

Saturday afternoon we accepted an invitation from Mr. J. D. Elliott, pres. of the Hickory Democratic Club, to attend Democratic speechifying in the Hook school house at 8 p. m. We left the city at 7 p. m. in company with President Elliott, Messrs. Hall, Self and W. P. Huffman, and on reaching our destination found a goodly crowd assembled and awaiting our coming.

The speakers were Col. Hall, W. A. Self, and T. M. Huffman, who generously proffered a division of time to the fusionists if they desired it. When it was declined Mr. T. M. Huffman spoke most eloquently for Democracy, occupying not more than twenty minutes, but everlastingly disposed of the bull pen fictions of Rep-Pop speakers in Eastern North Carolina. He was followed by Col. Hall in a good speech, but too much anti-Democratic to make votes for the Democratic party in Catawba county. When the Col. had concluded, Mr. W. A. Self, "the exhauster," took the stand, and, for perhaps an hour, belabored the "confusionists" from end to end with telling effect. His speech was most creditable to himself and a complete vindication of Democracy from the aspersions of calumniators. He certainly demonstrated the inefficiency of county government when committed to Populist control. Mr. Self is a humorous and most interesting speaker, but, socially, he can, when so disposed be as silent as a clam. The above was left out of our last issue.

Walter L. Tipton's Show.

You have all been to the Circus so the show. It is a never failing source of enjoyment and pleasure as well for the grown folks as the young people and children. Walter L. Tipton has one of the best and most interesting shows on the road. He has 30 car loads in his train. Hickory was favored in having him here. The wild animals are a wonderful exhibit. The Show is all new. His show was in a wreck on the Pa. Railroad near Tyrono two years ago, and that Co., bought him a new outfit and kept on buying for him until he said he had enough. So he has got the best. The Railroad did not want him to sue for damages. The Charlotte Observer of Tuesday, praises it very highly and says there were 7,000 people at the show, and saw every thing billed.

Hickory Democratic Club.

There was a very good attendance at the Democratic club meeting in the city hall Monday night. Business pertinent to the club was attended to, when there was a splendid speech by Mr. L. L. Witherspoon of Newton. He was telegraphed for late in the afternoon and had no time for preparation. Mr. Witherspoon's principal theme was the tariff. He spoke for over an hour. He was listened to very attentively. He alluded to the newspapers, and inferentially paid them a compliment by saying they were responsible for the present political condition. Part of the speech was superb and to the point.
