Nerves Unstrung
Weak, No Appetite—Hood's Sarsaparilla Restored Health.
 "Three years ago I had the grip, which settled in my head. It continued to grow worse and there was no rest for me. My limbs felt numb, my nerves seemed to be unstrung and I had no appetite. Doctors' treatment and other medicines failed to avail me relief. I obtained two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which Restored Me to myself. Last July I began to have bad symptoms, and I at once resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla. I continued until I had taken three bottles, which not only restored my health but also cured my baby of a bunch and did him a great deal of good." Mrs. EMERY A. RAINY, North Danville, Va.

Can't Be Downed.
 Ever since the Southeastern Tariff Association excluded the Southern Stock Mutual Insurance Company from its agencies with the expectation of oppressing it, the public has been watching the progress of the Greensboro company with much interest and some uncertainty as to what its fate would be; but the company's future seems to be well established now.
 We are informed that the business of the company has prospered beyond all expectations. Among its policyholders is included a long list of the best known business men in North Carolina. The premium receipts have increased daily, the selection of risks has been so judicious that the losses have been reduced to less than 7 per cent. of the premiums, and policyholders may expect a handsome showing for them on the year's operations.
 The position of the Greensboro company has been greatly strengthened by the recent entrance into North Carolina of the Williamsburgh City Fire Insurance Company of New York. This company is one of the oldest and strongest American companies, having assets of a million and a half, a surplus accumulation of over $600,000, and having paid out in losses to date seven and a half millions.
 This veteran company has appointed as its general agent for North Carolina A. W. McAlister, secretary and treasurer of the Southern Stock Mutual Insurance Company, and will enter the agencies of the home company and give them the support which has been denied by the Association companies.
 The Greensboro company is to be congratulated on having secured such a strong and reputable ally, and is to be congratulated also on having met such prompt recognition from abroad, as a sound, conservative, successful company.
