NORTH CAROLINA.

The Week's News in the "Old North State."

The Commissioners of Forsyth county have appropriated $50,000 for a new court house.

The Western North Carolina Teachers' Association meets at Bryson City, Swain county, Oct. 29th.

A Brownstone and Improvement Company with a capital of $77,000 has been organized at Raleigh.

The Board of Commissioners of Iredell county have refused to grant license to retail liquor dealers in Statesville.

Rev. Thos. Dixon, Jr., of New York, will lecture in Raleigh on Wednesday night, Sept. 30th, on the "Almighty Dollar."

There will be established at Waynesville at once a $10,000 plant to manufacture the various hard-woods that are so plentiful in Haywood county.

Ohio Democrats are to have a grand rally at Cincinnati, Oct. 6th and all Democratic Governors of States have been invited to be present and speak. Gov. Holt, of this State, has received an invitation.

Farmers continue to talk about their fine corn crops. We have never seen them so well pleased with the crops as they are this year. The yield of corn and pea crop is so much larger than ever that it will make up for the loss in cotton.—Newton Enterprise.

The Goldsboro Headlight tells of a big loss by holding cotton. After holding 336 bales of cotton for a higher market, for which he was offered last November 9 cents per pound but refused, George W. Best sold the entire lot for 7 1/2 cents, sustaining a loss of nearly $5,000.

The Rev. Thomas Dixon, of New York, has accepted the invitation to offer the prayer at the opening of the Southern Exposition at Raleigh, October 1. On the same day, Oct. 1, of the Charleston World will deliver an address, his subject being, "The Real New South."

Mr. L. P. Henkel has a "model farm near Lenoir, upon forty acres of which he has raised, this year, 1,000 bushels of oats, raising, on some of the land as much as seventy-five bushels to the acre. Mr. Henkel is now moving from the same land a crop of crab grass hay that he considers worth as much to him as the oat crop.—Lenoir Topic.

A couple of old maiden ladies, the Misses Bowman, residents on Mulberry, having died within the last year, left among their effects some pieces of dress goods bought at the old Fairfield store that were carried all during the war without being made up and a set of cups and saucers; bought at the same place, but had never been used.—Lenoir Topic.

"Truth is stranger than fiction." So we find that North Carolina furnished a female soldier in the late war and that she served in Co. F, 26th regiment N. C. troops. Mrs. C. M. Blacklock served with her husband from Caldwell county N. C. as a private soldier and did her duty. She enlisted March 20, 1862 but was subsequently discharged because of her sex.—Shelby Aurora.

Mrs. H. R. Ward of Swansboro, has in her garden what is called a Tree Tomato. The seed came from Minnesota and are said to grow 11 feet high, and the fruit grows to weigh two and a half pounds each. This tree now is about seven feet high and still growing. Several fine looking specimens of fruit are on the tree now.—Newbern Journal.

Frank C. White, who died in Asheville last week, had the reputation of being the strongest man physically in the South. Among the feats he is said to have performed were carrying with a cotton hook in each hand two bales of cotton across the street, and breaking a new horse shoe holding one end in each hand. He was fully six feet high and of splendid proportions.—Charlotte Democrat.

The old system of jury drawing has been discarded and a new plan adopted. Heretofore the names of all the jurors of the whole county were put into the box, and a sufficient number for the different juries drawn therefrom. This gave some townships several representatives on the juries, and others perhaps none. Now this is changed. The commissioners have arranged so that each township has a box of its own, making seventeen boxes in all. The tax lists for each township are inspected and the name of every reliable man found thereon is dropped into the box for his township; from these seventeen boxes a sufficient number of names for the juries are drawn, and each township has its quota of the whole number. Large townships, of course, will have more representatives than smaller ones. The plan is a good one.—Lexington Dispatch.

The Successful Man.

The successful man is not the rule, but the exception. It is stated that out of every hundred merchants over ninety fail. All editors, of course, succeed in accumulating immense fortunes and set up as millionaires, but being very modest they do so quietly as to escape public observation.

DISGUISED AS A DRUNKEN SAILOR.

A New York Herald cable dispatch dated at Valparaiso, Sept. 14th, says: Balmaceda has escaped from the clutches of his enemies, and now safe on the high seas under the protection of the United States flag. All the time the soldiers of the junta were guarding the snowy passes of the Andes to prevent his getting into the Argentine Republic, and the police of the new provisional government were searching the monasteries in and around Santiago for the fugitive ex-president, he was hiding in this city. Here he was more apt to escape detection than anywhere else, for his opponents never dreamed that he would dare to return to Valparaiso, they being assured he had fled from it.

THE MAN WITH A BITE.

He worked on their dog and a man sat on the end of a bench in a factory park with his left hand tucked up and his right hand on his chin. He was talking to a man and his wife, who were sitting and waiting for the boat on the factory shore, stopped to question him.

THE CHIGGER.

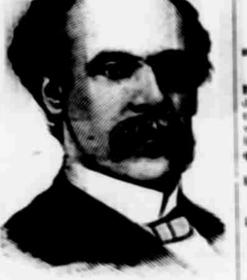

The chigger is nature's illustration of concentrated nastiness. He is red-headed and wears blood-colored, like diamonds, armor all over his body.

THE PRESIDENT DEAD.

WAR DEPARTMENT, Wash. April 15.—7:30 A. M. Major General Lincoln died this morning at twenty-two minutes past 7 o'clock.

THE PLAN OF ESCAPE.

After many plans had been suggested, discussed and rejected as too risky, one was at last hit upon that it was thought would work successfully. This was nothing less than to have Balmaceda disguise himself as a drunken United States sailor.

General Balmaceda.

How I Was Cured of So-Called Cancer.

DEAR SIR—This is to certify that I was a sufferer with a place on my underlip for fourteen years, and was under treatment of different physicians, but they did me no good. I had lost hope of being cured by medical treatment. I then went to a doctor living in Florida, who treated them by art. After going to him it got well apparently, for a while, but returned as bad as ever. I then concluded to try P. P. F. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium), and after taking five bottles (put size) was cured. I also find it to be a good medicine to give a good appetite and to give proper digestion.

The farmers in Washington have more roads, which are said to be excellent. They raise the same after it is finished and scatter it over the roads, and after awhile, when it is added down, it makes a road like paper made, smooth and dustless.

It is now thought that $20,000,000 will be required to pay the sugar bounty the present year. We are supposed to have made sugar last, and the American people will pay $20,000,000 in 1891 for buying sugar. The government doesn't touch the money. It is the people.

In the course of an interview with a representative of the Editor, on the opening up of Adams territory, Mr. Starkey, who in Paris, declared that the center of Adams territory would be utilized before the construction of railroads, but this construction would be long.

After the passage of an obsolete steam there is quite an appreciable amount of money in the atmosphere, so that its presence may frequently be detected by exposing a piece of blotting paper, previously dipped in a solution of starch and outside of potato, when it will be turned blue.

California will make a good showing as a producer of beet sugar this year. The Chico factory expects to produce 1,000,000 pounds of sugar, the Watsonville factory 2,000,000 pounds, and the Alameda factory 2,000,000 pounds, which makes a total of 5,000,000, which seems a large amount, but the United States imports sugar to the value of $20,000,000 annually. It will be some time before we can make all this sugar at home.

Boston is threatened with an invasion of black men. Plans are in the vicinity of the Exchange building, is literally overflowing with them. They are to be seen in the streets, on the sidewalks, and crawling up the sides of the buildings. Many have made their way into the buildings, and press very comfortable. They are more than a quarter of an inch in length, and many of them have wings about half an inch long. Their life is said to be much more insupportable than that of the mosquito. When they come from some to be a misery.
