WASHINGTON, Oct. 24, 1802. There is a hitch, in fact two hitches, in the republican programe. It was expected that Senator Quay would have been in New York a week ago, to remain until the campaign ended, for the purpose of aiding Mr. Carter in the work which Mr. Harrison has necessarily been compelled to give up. But Quay did not go to New York, and just as Mr. Harrison's into their ranks of the third party friends were wondering what his alleged illness meant he turned up in Washington to tell them that he would not go to New York Republican Chairman Eaves, to unless he was given certain assurrally the negro vote, will throw a ances by word of mouth, in the presence of at least two witnesses, from Mr. Harrison.
