Cleveland Star, September, 19th. Mrs. Mahalia Newton, an aged widow lady, who resides in No. 11 township, was assaulted Sunday by a negro, who attempted to rob her. Mrs. Newton is a rather well-to-do old lady and it is generally known that she had some money, and that she always carried it under her belt around her waist. She lived alone with the exception of a small child. Sunday evening a negro came to her house and coming very close to her made a strike with a knife in his hand, trying to cut her belt and thus secure her money, but he failed in this and the child that was near by, began calling for help, so the negro made several strikes at her throat with the knife, cutting her throat in several places, and severing a vain which caused her to bleed profusely. During the time three of Mrs. Newton's fingers were cut off near the end. The negro failed to get the money and ran away for fear of being captured.
