NORTH CAROLINA AND THE FOURTH OF JULY.

The approaching Fourth of July will be more generally celebrated throughout our great country than has been the case before for several decades. The events of this year have fanned the smouldering fires of patriotism into burning flame, and the people are aroused and united in the present conflict against a foreign enemy.

During a long reign of peace the people gradually became indifferent to patriotic sentiment, and the national holiday commemorating the political birth of this great Republic had almost been lost sight of. But now a call to arms has been sounded to protect the honor of our country against a foreign foe, and from Maine to California, from the Lakes to the Gulf, the people are rallying to the support of the Government.

Conspicuous in the present war, as in that great struggle in the Revolution of 1776, is the State of North Carolina. She is always ready to do her duty, and gives freely of her lives and resources to uphold the Nation's honor. As shown at Cardenas, her sons are found at the front, and their courage never falters when duty calls.

In the early history of our Government, North Carolina holds a prominent and honorable place. As one of the original thirteen States, she was first and foremost in resenting the oppression constantly growing more intolerable under the reign of King George III, and rendered much assistance and encouragement to her sister States of the colony. Although the question of independence of British rule had been discussed in the States for some time, it remained for North Carolina to issue the first declaration of independence, which occurred in 1775. On account of the hope of the General Congress that reconciliation might yet be effected the resolutions were not acted upon by that body. But a little more than a year later, July 4th, 1776, having arrived at the conclusion that the wrongs of which they complained would not be remedied by the mother country, the entire colony of thirteen States, through their representatives in the General Congress at Philadelphia, proclaimed their National Independence. On the immortal document the State of North Carolina is represented in the names of Wm. Hooper, Joseph Hewes, and John Penn, eminent patriots in those stirring times.

Notwithstanding the grave importance of the matter, this action was received everywhere with great rejoicings, bells being rung, horns and drums were sounded, and the people manifested their approval in a tumultuous demonstration.

Copies of the declaration were sent to all the thirteen States, and when it reached North Carolina history states that "Harnett read it to an immense public gathering in Halifax, and the crowd took him on their shoulders and carried him round the square amid shouts."

During the long and weary years of war that followed, this State was ever at the front in patriotic devotion to the country and rendered every possible assistance in achieving a final victory. It is perhaps unnecessary to recall to mind the heroic deeds of the patriotic sons at the battle of King's Mountain and elsewhere. They are events in history well known to every bright school boy.

In view of all these facts it is peculiarly fitting that the people of North Carolina in this year 1898, when the people of the country, from center to circumference, are stirred with the inborn patriotism of every true American, should revive the ancient and noble custom of celebrating the greatest political National holiday, the Fourth of July, which reminds us of the heritage left to us by our forefathers. As in 1776, so in 1898 we are one country. All sectional differences are at an end. Such are the beneficial effects of the present conflict with a foreign foe. Our national life is harmonized as never before. Trouble warms men's hearts toward each other and drives out prejudice and selfishness.

Hurray for the Fourth!

Champion Shot of the World.
Miss Annie Oakley writes: "Myself and many of the Buffalo Bill Wild West Co. have given Allen's Foot-Powder, the powder to shake into the shoes, a most thorough trial, and it does all it is not more than you claim." It instantly takes the sting out of Corns and Bunions. Allen's Foot-Powder is a certain cure for hot, aching, nervous or sweating feet. Sold by all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. PEOPLE who have been worrying themselves almost to death as to the disposition of their surplus wealth can now resurrect their buried treasure and bring to light the secreted fiduciary stock and invest in Uncle Sam's popular war loan. The "old man's" credit is at, notwithstanding his extra expenses in carrying on the "scrap" with the Spanish Don, and a loan to him is as safe as anything terrestrial can be. The Wall street speculators are anxious to grab up any part of the $200,000,000 not taken by the people.

We have not observed any crocodile tears being shed over the financial collapse of the young millionaire wheat speculator, Jos. Leiter, of Chicago. Anyone who attempts to inordinately increase his wealth by tsking the bread out of the mouths of the poor ought not only to taste poverty but should be placed behind prison bars.

The "S. D. F." Picnic.

Last Wednesday will ever be remembered as a red-letter day by the "S. D. F." The picnic, which took the place of the usual semi-monthly reunion, was in every respect a success, for the weather was delightful, the sun being partly veiled with clouds, which, however, in no wise obscured the beauty of the grand mountain views.

Arriving at the summit of Barke-mount about noon, the ladies were before long comfortably seated upon improvised benches "neath a brotherhood of venerable trees," and with appetites sharpened by the mountain breeze did ample justice to a bountiful and tempting dinner.

The remainder of the time passed all too rapidly in "pleasant saunterings through the fragrant woods," until about 5:30 the party started homeward with the intention of calling on Sister Ella. Much to their regret, however, they found that estimable lady so ill that only one of the society made her a visit, the others remaining in the wagon.

Owing to the heavy storm in Morganton and the generally threatening appearance of the weather, their friends in town were somewhat apprehensive about the picnicers, but their minds were quite relieved when, about eight o'clock, the ladies arrived at their respective homes as dry and happy as possible.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered. My physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June, 1894, Mr. Evans, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured. FROM THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

A Hot Week Predicted in the Vicinity of Santiago.

MAY CALL FOR MORE MEN.

The Administration Considering Advantages of Another Requisition for Volunteer Troops—How Shall the Philippines be Governed?—Hawaiian Annexation Resolution Now in the Senate.
From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 20.—At last General Shafter's army is in Cuba, and unless somebody at the Washington end gets rattled over the reported sailing of a Spanish fleet from Cadiz, bound in the direction of Cuba, and issues orders that will prevent, this is likely to be a hot week in the vicinity of Santiago. The first fleet of transports is due at Manila today, and Dewey is not likely to wait for Gen. Merritt, who is just about ready to start from San Francisco with the third and last fleet of transports, before taking Manila.

It is semi-officially announced that at the last Cabinet meeting it was decided that more troops would be needed, and that another call for volunteers would be issued shortly, probably this week. It would seem that more use should be made of the troops we already have before asking more men to volunteer.

Although Secretary Alger has positively denied the story that owing to quarrels between himself and Gen. Miles, who is now in Washington, the latter had been virtually deposed from the command of the army, the talk of friction between them continues, and even goes so far as to say that Mr. McKinley intends directing the movements of the army himself. The change of plan by which Gen. Miles is to go to Porto Rico in command of the invading army now being prepared for that expedition is said to have been caused by this disagreement, and to have been the proposition of Gen. Miles himself, who preferred being responsible for one army over which he would have absolute control to being held responsible for the movements of all our troops and being hampered by civilian control. It is announced that the invasion of Porto Rico is to take place before the Spanish fleet alleged to have sailed from Cadiz can get to Porto Rico. If the reported starting of the Spanish fleet results in hurrying up things a little, it will be an almighty good thing. Similar reports in the past have resulted in hanging up things.

While members of the administration profess to believe that the insurgents in the Philippines are acting in accordance with an agreement made with Admiral Dewey, it is well known that they are more or less worried over the news announcing the declaration of an independent government by the Philippine insurgents. No official will say what are to be the relations of Gen. Merritt, who is to command the army sent to the Philippines as well as the military governor of the islands, with the insurgents. It begins to look as though there might be more serious trouble in those islands than whipping the Spaniards who are there. The administration was certainly not expecting the insurgents to set up an independent government when instructions were prepared for the military government, to be established by Gen. Merritt, to collect tariff duties on importations to the islands.

Although there are about thirty Senators who are opposed to the adoption of the Hawaiian annexation resolution, which went through the House last week by a large vote that the czar was compelled to keep his room, under plea of sickness, for several days, and which is now the "unfinished business" of the Senate, it is not believed, even by themselves, that they can prevent a vote being reached and the resolution adopted by the Senate. It has been decided that the opposition should do all the talking during the debate; also that Congress shall not be allowed to adjourn until the resolution is voted upon. This brings it down to a question of the endurance of the opponents of annexation, should they decide to fight to the last ditch; but it is considered likely that they will allow a vote to be taken in the course of a week or two—one very close observer of things legislative is so confident of this that he has wagered the cost of an elegant dinner for eight gentlemen that the vote will be taken before the 4th of July. The whole power of the administration is being used to bring about a vote.

A larger proportionate number of Democrats in the Senate will vote for the resolution than in the House, where 18 voted for it, and a few who favored annexation refrained from voting in deference to the large party majority against it. In the House the Populists divided evenly on the question, and there is about the same division among the Populist Senators, although Senator Butler, of North Carolina, and Pettigrew, of South Dakota, are among the leaders of the opposition to annexation.

The resolution tendering the thanks of Congress to Lieutenant Hobson and the volunteer crew of the Merrimac, and authorizing the President to advance Hobson to the rank of lieutenant commander, offered in the Senate by Senator Morgan and in the House by Representative Underwood, will be promptly adopted by Congress. There has been a hitch in the exchange of Hobson and his men, but officials are confident that the exchange will shortly be accomplished, as it has been officially stated in Madrid that the Spanish government had authorized Gen. Blanco to make the exchange.

A Clever Trick.
It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to Liver and Kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, Sleeplessness and Melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at J. C. Tull's Drug Store.

William Hall, of Hickory, on the recommendation of Senator Fritchard, has been appointed consular agent at Boulogne, France.

A. H. Patter, E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I have never before given a testimonial in my life. But I will say that for three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house, and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and any one who tries it will find it so." For sale by W. A. Leslie.

It is generally believed that Charles A. Cook, of Warren, will be named by the President for brigadier general.

Millions Given Away.
It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of the great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it. Call on Jno. Tull, Druggist, and get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50c, or $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

"There is no use in talking," says W. H. Broadwell, druggist, La Cygne, Kas., "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy does the work. After taking medicines of my own preparation and those of others' I took a dose of Chamberlain's and it helped me; a second dose cured me. Candidly and conscientiously I can recommend it as the best thing on the market." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by W. A. Leslie.

A gold mine has been discovered on the premises of O. H. Blocker, in the corporate limits of O. d. Port. The ore assays $28.93 per ton.

Does Baby Thrive?

If your baby is delicate and sickly and its food does not nourish it, put fifteen or twenty drops of Scott's Emulsion in its bottle three or four times a day and you will see a marked change.

We have had abundant proof that they will thrive on this emulsion when other food fails to nourish them.

It is the same with larger children that are delicate. Scott's Emulsion seems to be the element lacking in their food. Do not fail to try it if your children do not thrive. It is as useful for them in summer as in winter.

Ask your doctor if this is not true.
