Volunteers Can Help OPA Job

Person OPA Observing Third Year.

"We are here to serve, not to exercise power, and the longer we serve, the greater the respect we have for the people we serve," Mrs. Margie Thomas, Chief Clerk of the Person War Price and Rationing board said today.

Commenting on the fact that this month marks the third anniversary of the establishment of the national OPA War Price and Rationing Board program, Mrs. Thomas said that "local boards have two purposes: to help hold the price line and to help distribute the available supply of war-scarce goods fairly among all citizens."

"Locally, our board has maintained a tremendous volume of activity in both the price and rationing fields," she said. Mrs. Thomas pointed to the following accomplishments during the past three years:

108,000 ration books distributed. 198,500 gasoline rations issued. 6,000 supplemental food rations issued. 5,000 supplemental shoe rations issued. 8,050 price panel checks. 175 reported price violations investigated.

"We are still short of volunteer help," Mrs. Thomas said. "We particularly need price panel assistants to advise merchants on their ceiling price problems. We could use 20 of these assistants, who could help in the valuable work of holding the wartime price line and assist in preventing inflation."

"The recent return to rationing of almost all canned food and fresh meat has imposed an additional burden on our ration boards. To handle the increased workload, we need additional volunteers. We need them badly."

"Anyone who would like to volunteer a few hours weekly should apply to Mrs. Thomas, Chief Clerk of the Board, at Roxboro, N. C. Volunteers will be received enthusiastically and can be certain that their help will be appreciated."

Better—or Just as Good?

MOST of us aren't satisfied with buying—or growing or manufacturing—something that's "just as good." We want something better. And, in most cases, that something better comes through competition.

For competition—real competition—is something besides two people making, or offering for sale, the same goods or services. It involves a lot more. And anybody who serves the public prospers because he has something better to offer—whether it's quality, prices, service, or just a clean appearance and a pleasant smile.

Real competition doesn't come from punitive taxes, or subsidies, or any other sort of horse-race handicapping to make everybody in business start even. For it isn't equality that's needed; it's the inequalities that are the true measure of progress.

Real competition is the kind that encourages the manufacturer, the farmer, or business man to get his quality up, his costs down, and to develop new things his customers want. It's this kind of competition that produces something better rather than something just as good—that insures to the public a steady increase in the value it gets for its money. "Due to war time conditions, the volume of work handled by the bank has expanded very rapidly. Some of this volume will, of course, drop off after the war. Should our business increase as much in the next 12 months as it has in the last 12, it will be almost impossible to carry on our work without some additional bookkeeping space. The present building was never designed for a volume of business as great as we have at the present.

Campaign Proves Very Beneficial

RALEIGH, January 25.—"The enthusiastic support so far given the Grocer-Consumer Anti-Inflation Campaign has been most gratifying," Theodore S. Johnson, OPA district director, said.

Commenting on the three-month-old drive to make price ceiling information more readily available and to hold the food price line, Johnson pointed out that this campaign "involves a degree of voluntary cooperation by the trade, its customers and the government that is almost without precedent."

The main purpose of this campaign is to eliminate overcharges insofar as possible. We believe this is being done. However, in cases where persistent and deliberate price violations occur, strong enforcement action is being taken in order to protect the vast majority of merchants and customers who are honestly trying to make the price control programs effectively protect our economy.

Lt. Governor R. L. Harris, president, asked if any stockholder wished to make any remarks, or wanted to borrow any money. No one made any reply, and supposedly every one had all the money desired.
