G. I. Bill Program Helpful Now, Says Person Director

Claude Luquire Discusses Bill
At Agency Session, Dr.
Winston Will Come.

Dr. Ellen Black Winston, of Raleigh, State Commissioner of Public Welfare, will pay her first official visit to Roxboro on Thursday night, March 29, and will speak at a city-wide civic club meeting under sponsorship of the Person County Council of Social Agencies, according to announcement made yesterday by the Agency Council program chairman, Mrs. T. C. Wagstaff.

Speaker at February luncheon meeting of the Agency Council at Hotel Roxboro yesterday was Claude Luquire, of the Roxboro office of the U. S. Employment service, who discussed in open forum form the provisions of the Service Men's Readjustment Act, better known as the "G. I. Bill of Rights".

Presiding at the session was the Rev. Rufus J. Womble, chairman, who next week will leave for Richmond, Va., where he will be rector of Epiphany Episcopal church. Also at the luncheon was Mrs. Womble, who shared with her husband in tributes received from W. Wallace Woods on behalf of the Agency Council.

Mr. Luquire, who, in discussing the G. I. Bill had the assistance of Mr. Woods and of Thomas J. Shaw, Jr., Agency vice-chairman, as questioners, said that placement and compensation are now chief aspects of administration under the Bill, which is applicable both to men and women discharged from military service. So far only one application has been made for G. I. assistance by a discharged Person veteran, according to Mr. Luquire.

Considerable discussion was precipitated by questions from Gordon C. Hunter, of Peoples Bank, regarding difficulties banks are experiencing in working out loans for veterans under present rules of the G. I. Bill, but Mr. Luquire expressed himself as hopeful that the discussed details will be worked out.

The U. S. Employment service, according to Mr. Luquire, will be glad to render all Bill of Rights services possible under the regulations imposed. The Bill is applicable to all veterans who have had as much as 90 days in service and who have received proper discharges. An important feature of the Bill is the Education provision under which veterans, not older than 25 at time of beginning of service, can secure financial assistance and loans for college or vocational training.

Dr. Winston, next speaker, will appear at a meeting of combined memberships of the Agency Council, the Kiwanis, Rotary and Business and Professional clubs.

No More, No More

The night club and theatre black-out or midnight curfew, which went into effect nationally on Monday, hits Roxboro in that no more week-end mid-night shows can be given in movie theatres, according to O. Teague Kirby, manager and owner of the Palace and Dolly Madison, who expects to abide by the curfew ruling as long as it is in effect.

Roxboro has no night clubs, but such cafes or other places of amusement as it does have do not come under the curfew since they have for many months been closing long before mid-night.

Pfc. Allen Home, Pays Tribute To Red Cross

Jeep Driver In France, Where He Was Wounded, Has
Months In Hospital.

Now at home for his first visit since his arrival in the United States on Christmas eve, is Pfc. Richard H. Allen, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allen, of Roxboro, who received a hip wound at Vire, France, near St. Lo, several months ago and was first sent to a hospital in England, where he spent five months before being sent to Kennedy General Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., where he is now stationed. He was wounded in August.

Pfc. Allen, formerly with Western Union and Service Dry Cleaners, here, spent twelve months in France and Holland and England, where he was a Jeep driver. Like many other wounded soldiers he has highest praise for the Red Cross which he says is doing a good job, especially in hospitals in England.

Glad to be home, Pfc. Allen, who expects to be here 30 days, says he will return to Kennedy hospital, where a second operation will be performed on his hip. Naturally, he finds life today in Roxboro very quiet, with most of his friends away in service. In all his months overseas he saw no men from Roxboro. Nearest he came to it was finding Dolan Long's name on a hospital register in England, but by that time Mr. Long had returned to duty.

Pfc. Allen has two battle stars for service in France and Holland, the Purple Heart and a good conduct ribbon. He entered the Army about a year and a half ago.

Person's Negro Four-H Groups Plan Meeting

R. E. Jones, Of Greensboro,
Will Be Chief Speaker At Gathering.

March 3rd through March 11th is national 4-H Mobilization week, during which time an special intensification of Negro 4-H club work in Person County will be sought, according to announcement made today by two adult leaders, C. J. Ford and Miss Annie Mae Tuck, Person Negro county and home agents.

A campaign here will begin on March 5, and will conclude with a County-Wide mobilization program to be held at Person County Training School, Friday, March 9, at 1:40 P. M. R. E. Jones, State Agent and 4-H Club Specialist of A. and T. College, Greensboro, will be main speaker and neighborhood leaders and other interested persons are asked to attend.

According to the 1940 census there are 2,453 Negro boys and girls in Person County, rural and urban, between the ages of 10 and 20. Due to war conditions the number has been reduced considerably in the upper bracket, but there is still a large number of boys and girls of club age who are not listed in the 16 4-H clubs in the county.

Every effort will be made during the National 4-H Club period to increase the number of Negro 4-H Club members here from 739 in 1944, to at least 1,000 in 1945. To do this is needed the cooperation of the 167 neighborhood and 4-H club leaders in the 31 neighborhoods in Person County, including teachers, principals, ministers, parents and 4-H club members themselves.

National 4-H Club Week will play a new and very important part in strengthening the 4-H war programs, according to Agent Ford. The war tempo has speeded up. The production of war materials is on the increase, and the need for fighters on all war fronts looms up larger than ever before. As a result more of our formerly deferred farm workers are being drafted for the armed forces. Fewer are being left on the farms to raise the food that is as badly needed now as at any time heretofore. This critical situation presents a supreme challenge to the remaining members of every farm family. In all this, the part that every 4-H Club member will necessarily have to play takes on a new significance.

Interesting Series Of Sermons

Rev. J. Boyce Brooks, Pastor of the Roxboro First Baptist Church, is conducting a series of sermons at the evening service on characters that played a vital part in events leading up to the Crucifixion of Christ. This service promises to be most interesting and instructive, judging by the first two of the series, and we are sure the church going people will enjoy them. You are cordially invited to attend these services.

Three Of Person's Soldiers Speak Up For Red Cross Job

Praise for work of the American Red Cross, the Person fund drive for which will begin next Sunday, March 4, with a quota of $8,900, is voiced today by three Roxboro and Person soldiers, one of whom writes from Italy and two of whom, recently returned from overseas action, have expressed their praise and appreciation in personal interviews.

One of the two returnees is tall and slender Dallas Briggs, of Hurdle Mills, who has now returned to a Florida rest camp or hospital, but who has been visiting his people here after a stay in France, especially in Normandy hedge-rows during the invasion period, where, as he says, the "Red Cross did a wonderful job, right up in the thick of fighting".

Other man who is back and who wants to put in his word for the Red Cross program is Tech. Sgt. Floyd E. Tuck, of Longhurst and Danville, Va., wounded in the left hip after seeing action for three years, mostly in Africa, Sicily and France, and now stationed at Camp Butler hospital, where he is receiving treatment and is allowed brief visits to Longhurst where his wife lives.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Tuck, of Danville, Sgt. Tuck says with feeling, "The Red Cross is tops and I mean it. They are doing a fine job, all they can, and all of us at home ought to help as much as we can by giving to the cause, the work of which is as apparent at Camp Butler hospital as it is overseas."

Direct testimony from the Italian front comes from Pfc. Robert M. (Tiny) Long, Jr., of the medical corps with an evacuation hospital, who writes to a Roxboro friend: "We have recreation room here and a girl. There were two, but one has gone. I think, probably because she was ill. They visit the patients and give them reading material and other things for amusement, also, things to eat—they are doing a good job."

"We (in the hospital) don't get hot doughnuts very often, but we did have some extra girls who came sometime ago and gave us doughnuts at chow. They were certainly good, too. . . . The combat soldiers got them more often and I am glad of that. I would rather they get them, instead of us, for we "rear echelons" have hot food every meal."

Elwood Shotwell Will Be Honored

Pfc. Elwood Shotwell, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Shotwell, of Woodside, who was reported as killed in action in France on October 9, 1944, will be honored Sunday with a memorial service to be held at Mill Creek Baptist church, according to announcement made today by the pastor, the Rev. J. F. Funderburk.

Exercises are scheduled to take place at the morning service at eleven o'clock, with the Rev. Mr. Funderburk as speaker. Special music by the choir and the blowing of taps by two Boy Scouts from Roxboro will be features of the rites, which will be kept to a simple pattern in conformity with wishes of the family.

Pfc. Shotwell was a brother of Sam Shotwell, coach at Bethel Hill high school and well-known in Person sports circles, who is himself a veteran of World War II and was wounded in Sicily, where he lost a hand in a grenade explosion. Also surviving are a number of other brothers and sisters.

Rites for Pfc. Shotwell will continue a series of such exercises at Mill Creek church, which began over a year ago with services for Pfc. Lewell T. Huff, officially listed as of today as the first Person native to be killed in action in the present war.

District Board Wants Opinions From Interested Citizens.

Plans of the postwar variety are being discussed by Roxboro District School board for a new twelve-room grammar grade building across the street from Roxboro high school on High School Drive on the W. H. Long estate property adjoining the W. H. Adair residence and extending from there to the city limits. It was learned today from Person Superintendent R. B. Griffin following a meeting of the school board, members of which have inspected the proposed new site.

The District Board, according to Mr. Griffin, is interested in obtaining public reaction to selection of the Long property as a site and will welcome an expression of opinion from interested citizens. Deal for the site has not been closed but the property has been inspected and approved by two District Board members, C. A. Harris, who is chairman, and R. M. Spencer.

Two other members, R. D. Bumpass and J. W. Green, were out of the city at the time of the Board's inspection tour, which was also missed by the other Board member, Mrs. Sam Byrd Winstead, but the Board in giving tentative consideration to the Long site has had the advice and consultation of Watts Carr, of Durham, who is to be architect for the new building, and of George W. Kane, E. E. Bradsher, Person School Board member, J. L. Hester, District Supervising principal, and Mr. Griffin, all of whom appear to be in favor of the Long site.

The new building will also have a cafeteria and an auditorium and will take care of many pupils in grades five, six, seven and eight, relieving crowded conditions at Roxboro high school and at Central Grammar school. There are six hundred or more pupils in Roxboro district at the present time who come in grade limits proposed to be cared for in the new building.

The W. H. Long estate property extends from High School Drive back to what is known as the Old Olive Hill road.
