Poem

But now—I want to say "how do You do,"

You see, God, they told me You didn't exist—

And like a fool—I believed all of this

Last night from a shell hole I saw Your sky—

I figured right then they had told me a lie.

Had I taken time to see the things You made,

I'd known they weren't calling a spade a spade.

I wonder, God, if You'd shake my hand.

Somehow—I feel that You will understand.

Funny, I had to come to this hellish place.

Before I had the time to see Your face.

Well, I guess there isn't much more to say,

But I'm sure glad, God, I met You today.

I guess the "zero hour" will soon be here.

But I'm not afraid since I know You're near.

The signal!—Well, God — I'll have to go.

I like You lots—this I want You to know—

Look, now—this will be a horrible fight—

Who knows—I may come to Your house tonight—

Though I wasn't friendly with You before,

I wonder, God—if You'd wait at Your door—

Look—I'm crying! Me! Shedding tears!—

I wish I'd known You these many years—

Well, I will have to go now, God—good-by.

Strange—since I met You — I'm not afraid to die.

World War One Pension Plan Now In Effect

Both children and widows of deceased veterans of World War I may apply for pension benefits now, according to Dr. O. G. Davis, Lester Blackwell Post service chairman, who said today that the Veterans Administration under laws recently adopted by Congress can issue pension benefits to such survivors although the veterans may come to their deaths from diseases or accidents not at all connected with military service.

Applications for such pensions may be made to the Veterans Administration to Dr. Davis. The measure has been passed after a twenty-year fight for it by the Legion, according to Dr. Davis. Benefits may in the future be applicable to veterans of World War II dying under the same conditions, but Dr. Davis has as yet received no information on that point.

Minimum payments to widows begin at $35 per month, with $15 additional for the first child, $10 for the second and $5 for each additional child. Orphans of veterans (those with both parents dead) are entitled to receive $35 each per month under the plan. Up to this time there has been no provision for pensions for survivors of World War I unless the veterans concerned came to their deaths from the effects of the after effects of wounds or diseases acquired in military service, chiefly in combat duty.

Lester Blackwell Post, with Ned Dillard as Commander, will meet this Saturday night at the Legion hut in its regular March session.

sonally her son's boost for the Red Cross, made an additional financial contribution to the Red Cross while she was here.

One of the outstanding local services being rendered by Person Chapter of the Red Cross is the calling of meetings of parents, wives and other relatives of men in service now among those listed as prisoners of war or missing in action. March meeting of this group of parents and relatives will be held here tonight (Thursday) at eight o'clock at Person Court House, according to Miss Nancy Bullock, chairman.

Group contributions received so far in the total of $3,217.88 collected, are broken down as follows, according to W. Wallace Woods, of Roxboro Chamber of Commerce, who is keeping financial reports each day:

Special Gifts, George W. Kane, chairman, $2,602; Business District,

W. Wallace Woods, chairman, $472.62, including $67 contributed by taxi drivers here; and $143.26 from the Industrial Employees committee of Roxboro Cotton Mills, including Longhurst and Roxboro plants. No official reports have yet been received from the public schools division or from the residence division, or from theatre sources, according to Mr. Woods.

As a further indication of conditions here as contrasted with those in France, Lt. Humphries adds in his letter that he is thankful each day he lives that the "United States has had to go through the wreckage I have already seen. Food, too, is very scarce here (in France)", he says.

Mrs. Allen

ered her resignation, same to take effect the 15th of this month.

While the board of directors feel that it has been from no lack of effort on their part to remedy this situation as to nurses, as all of similar institutions are likewise short of nurses, they realize that the demands have been heavy, and they reluctantly accepted Mrs. Allen's resignation, and at a meeting of a special committee appointed Allyn Norton to succeed Mrs. Allen as manager of the hospital. Mr. Norton, while not a native of the County, he is no stranger, as he is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Stephens.

Mr. Norton, who came to Roxboro from Washington, was with the U. S. Army in this war and is historian of Lewell T. Huff Post, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Roxboro. He has had Army training in medical and hospital work and was recently for a time in Greenville, S. C., with a hospital there as manager. He will assume his duties with Community hospital here immediately upon the retirement of Mrs. Allen.

While all hospitals have been having an uphill road to travel, the Community Hospital has probably stemmed the tide with just about as good a record as the majority, and the directors feel that the people of this good County may well rest assured that it will continue to serve them and give them the very best service possible under these trying circumstances and that all of our Doctors, and Dr. Fitzgerald, the capable surgeon, will give their hearty cooperation and make every effort to see that the hospital continues the splendid work it has accomplished in the past.

Mrs. Allen, originally from Mocksville, expects to go to Savannah, Ga. to be with her husband, Pfc. William Maurice (Pony) Allen, of my drive along the Swiss border to the Rhine smashed and neutralized enemy artillery and fortifications in the Belfort Gap region.

Sgt. Bill

The planning that directed that barrage and the location of the German guns that were smashed before they could hinder the drive was just a part of the day's work for the battalion, which is working with the French First Army in France.

Using "sound and flash" methods, the soldiers of this battalion located enemy batteries accurately and quickly. When it was time for the drive to start, American and French artillerymen, working side-by-side, quickly smashed the enemy's big guns.

"One story of how effective our location was is that an enemy battery fired a couple of rounds to show an inspecting German staff how good they were," Major Ewel J. Morris, Jr., Sylacauga, Ala., battalion commander, explained, "but no sooner did they fire than we replied. Our location had been perfect and the Yank shells landed right on the target and wiped out the battery and the visitors."

The battalion commander went on to explain that their job is to "gather information, to neutralize enemy artillery activities during the critical phase of operations, and to supply survey for artillery."

The battalion has been in the line continuously except for periods of moving to new positions, since December 1942, longer than any other American units since 1864.

Lonely? You'll never know..

It's the waiting that gets you down. It's the long days, and the longer nights, when you lie there thinking... will you ever get home again? ... why don't they write more often... did Dad ever get over that heart trouble... is your best girl still waiting... will you ever get a job again....

Sometimes, when the mail is slow, you get to imagining things. Black, terrible things that begin to seem real. And then, something saves you.

Like the day the Red Cross field man got a rush cable report from home, telling you your Dad was getting well.

And the time some Red Cross girls came up in a jeep, handing out doughnuts and coffee and million-dollar American smiles. And you all started to laugh and kid the way you used to at home.

There was the time you wanted to forget it was Christmas. And the Red Cross girl at the club made you trim a palm leaf Christmas tree, and you all had presents and sang the old carols, out there in the hot tropic night.

Maybe it doesn't sound like much. The Red Cross does a lot bigger things... such as collecting blood plasma for the wounded... sending food packages to prisoners of war... clothes for bombed-out kids.

But to us, home seems just a little nearer, because your Red Cross is with us.

Americans: To keep at the side of your fighting men, your Red Cross must have funds. Contributions from you are the only source of income. Millions of our men are still far from home. They need your Red Cross... they must have it.

Keep your RED CROSS at his side
